

We are indebted to the Editors of the Register for a copy of Judge Saxon's Address before the two Literary Societies of our University in June last. It is a very neatly printed pamphlet of 48 pages.

We are also indebted to the Editor of the Standard for a handsomely printed pamphlet of more than 80 pages, bearing the signature of "Caus Victor," entitled "A Defence of the Administration of Andrew Jackson; against the calumnies of the 'Whig Press,' in relation to the removal of the Wilmington Collector!"

We have delayed acknowledging the receipt of these publications under the hope of being able first to read them, so as to be prepared to notice at the same time their contents; but we have been prevented by the multiplication and pressure of other duties. We observe, however, that the former receives commendation from some of our ablest presses; and as to the latter, we are satisfied, from a glance at a few of its pages, that it is a most virulent and scurrilous production.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION. We publish in a preceding column the proceedings of the Editorial Convention held in this city last week. Only 13 out of 25 presses in the State were represented. It is to be regretted that there was not a more general attendance; yet it is hoped and believed that much good will result from the rules and regulations recommended, if sanctioned and rigidly adhered to by all the conductors of the press in the State.

The two leading objects are, 1st. To establish uniform prices for job printing and advertising; and, 2ndly. To purge the press of scurrilous matter. While the former will obviously operate favorably on the interest of the fraternity, it can in no wise prove prejudicial to that of the public. The latter is so desirable, as well for the honor and usefulness of the press, as the peace and welfare of the community, that it cannot fail to meet with a cordial response in the bosom of every virtuous and enlightened individual.

Mr. Southard intends to resign his seat in the Senate. His re-election by the Legislature of N. J. would be a matter of course. Private considerations influence him in thus retiring from a body, in which he has few superiors.—Mr. FARLINGTON will most probably succeed him.

TEXAS—AGAIN. The reply of Gen. Hunt to the letter of Mr. Forsyth will be found in our columns to-day. It shows clearly that the present administration at least, professing to "follow in the footsteps of Gen. Jackson," have no valid reason for refusing to enter into the proposed negotiation for the annexation of Texas to the U. States.

A FOUL SLANDER. On the last page of this paper will be found a small paragraph from the New York Journal of Commerce, relative to the treatment which the citizens on the coast of North Carolina bestowed on the survivors of the passengers in the "Home," which we are glad to state, the Newbern Spectator, from information received from the mouths of the sufferers themselves, pronounces to be "a tissue of unmitigated and scandalous falsehoods." The Spectator remarks:

"We conversed with nearly all the passengers who escaped, say sixteen out of the twenty, and every one of them charged the pilfering that was done, and which was not extensive, to the crew alone.—Any editor who will make such a charge as the one alluded to against our innocent community, on the authority of a 'waster' and a Mr. Mather, richly deserves to have his ears cropped. We hope the citizens of Washington will demand from Capt. Curtis, on his return, his knowledge of the facts which he so boldly assisted in promulgating in New York to the disgrace of this community."

FROM FLORIDA. The Globe gives the following account of the capture of Oaccola from the official report of Gen. Jesup:

"An official report has been received from Gen. Jesup, dated St. Augustine, 22d October, in which he states that Asseen Yahola (Powell) is his prisoner, with nearly all the war spirits of the nation. That chief came into the vicinity of Fort Peyton on the 20th, and sent a messenger to Gen. Hernandez, desiring to see and converse with him. The sickly season being over, and there being no further necessity to temporize, Gen. Jesup sent a party of mounted men and seized the entire body, and now has them securely lodged in the fort. He has Ematla, (Philip) Cos Hajo, Mico-potokoe, and Enchee Billy, all principal chiefs; Cozacochee, (Wild Cat) Asseen Yahola, (Powell) Chitto Yahola, Tuste-nucke, and several other important personages, sub-chiefs, with more than eighty first-rate warriors; and he has also guides who can lead the army into every fastness in the country."

THE SUSQUEHANNAH SAFE. The captain of the New York steam packet, arrived at Charleston on the 25th ultimo, reports that he ran so close to the Susquehanna on Sunday, the day after it was said by the pilots she was taken by a pirate, that he read her name with the naked eye and saw the lady and gentlemen passengers promenading the quarter deck, perfectly calm—the ship then being to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. Of course, the ship is believed to be safe. The Porpoise and Alert, despatched in pursuit of the pirate, had returned to New York, having seen no piratical vessel on the coast.

Convention of Banks.—The Banks in the City of New York have issued a circular to the Banks in the several States, inviting them to appoint delegates to meet on the 27th day of November next, in the city of New York, for the purpose of conferring on the time when specie payments may be resumed, with safety, and on the measures necessary to effect that purpose. The Bank of the State of North Carolina will, we understand, send a delegate.

The Texas schooners of war, Tom Boy and Brutus, were wrecked during the gale of the 5th ultimo. A large meeting of the citizens of Berks county, Pa. have petitioned the Convention now in session at Harrisburg, against the right of suffrage by free negroes.

Gen. Ripley, a member of Congress from Louisiana, has resigned in consequence of ill health. The Halifax Advocate states that the Bridge at Weldon will be finished in a few days, when the locomotive will pass over and continue to Halifax. Several cars heavily laden have already crossed it in its unfinished state. The cars are at present taken by horse power from Weldon to Halifax.

Maine.—Monday last was the day for the third trial to elect representatives in the seven districts in Maine which failed to make choice at the former trials. We learn from the Kennebec Journal that Mr. Robbins (W.) is elected by seven majority in the district composed of the towns of Phillips, Salem, and Avon. This has been always a strong Jackson district. In Jay & Canton district and in Sumner and Canton district there was again no choice.—In the Jay district, Mr. Hayford (Whig) came within 15 votes of being elected; at the first trial he lacked 40 votes.—Boston Atlas.

Cincinnati and Charleston Rail Road. The meeting of the stockholders and directors of this company, was held at Flat Rock in this State on the 15th inst. It is represented to have been animated with the best spirit, and that no idea was entertained of abandoning the work. A committee was appointed to negotiate for the purchase of the Charleston and Hamburg Rail Road; for each share of which they are expected to give $125, the sellers to take share for share in the new company. The whole route has not been fully determined on. But the following points have been selected, viz: Columbia, the valley of the French Broad, Butt Mountain Gap, and Knoxville. The question of accepting the grant of banking privileges by North Carolina, was not decided, but left with the Directors, because of its being coupled with the condition that the road shall run through Rutherford county. No doubt is entertained that it will take that route, because it is the best, but it was not deemed advisable to commit the company until it is ascertained whether banking privileges will be granted by the other States. Committees were appointed to solicit pecuniary aid from North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky. Gen. Hayne was re-elected President, and his salary fixed at $6,000, but he refused to receive more than $4,000. Major McNeill was re-appointed Chief Engineer, with a salary of $8,000, and 2,000 dollars for travelling expenses.—Fay. Obs.

Rumor.—The Baltimore Gazette publishes a letter from Washington, stating that the rumor of the place was, that the Cabinet was already dissolved, and that the following new Cabinet was to be formed: Mr. Buchanan of Pa., Secretary of State, Mr. Wright of N. Y. Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Poinsett to retain his place, and Mr. Joseph Seawell Jones of N. C. to be Secretary of the Navy. Kendall to remain in statu quo, and a Mr. Badger from N. C. to be Attorney General.—The report is altogether improbable.

Gen. Gaines has sent to the Editor of the St. Louis, Missouri, Bulletin, some very important documents from his pen upon the subject of a general system of Rail Roads, connected with the defence of the nation in war, and with our trade and commerce in peace. They are to be published. If they are equal to those already published from that gentleman, they will add a civic wreath to his military laurels.

Old Rp Moving.—Col. Davie, of Hillsborough, N. C. has just imported from Liverpool, a number of blood Horses and Cattle of the approved English breed. They were landed at our wharves from the ship Richmond.—Portsmouth Times.

The Legislature of New Jersey have elected William S. Pennington, Esq. of Newark, Governor of that State for the ensuing year.

M'NUTT, OF MISSISSIPPI. The democratic candidate for Governor in Mississippi, is Maj. A. G. McNutt. The imputations against his private character are of a most extraordinary kind, to be made against any man—to say nothing of the accused being the aspirant to the chief magistracy of a state. It seems, from a communication in the Southern Whig, made by Gen. H. S. Foote, formerly of this State that during the insurrection excitement in Mississippi, a very wealthy man by the name of Cameron was murdered. Certain negroes were tried and executed for the crime.—Among the rest, was a free negro, Mercer Bird, who caused to be drawn up a confession or development of the facts of the case. This confession was to have been published; but it was not. Its contents are not stated; but they are strongly insinuated, and Gen. Foote says, it would have consigned the character of A. G. McNutt to infamy. Bird affirmed the truth of his narrative to the last, and when he was about to be hurled into eternity, he prayed that he might never see Heaven or happiness, if there was a single untruth in his statement. His statement, however, might be false, but the sequel of the story gives it fearful probability.—McNutt, though a close man, and without any obvious motive, expended large sums of money, in having Bird condemned and executed. In eight short months after the death of Cameron, he (McNutt) married Cameron's widow, and took possession of his large estate!—This is but a glance at the subject; the communication of General Foote is enough to thrill the heart with horror.—Whether McNutt be innocent or guilty of the crime imputed, unless his feelings be exceedingly callous, it is hardly to be supposed that he will permit General Foote to live in peace and quiet, after his most extraordinary publication.

THE BEAUTY OF THE SUB-TREASURY system has been recently illustrated, in advance, by an occurrence in the county of Niagara, of which we find an account in the Albany Evening Journal. It appears that the officers appointed by the Regency to loan the surplus revenue in the county of Niagara, have discharged their trust in a style of criminal negligence. John Beech, one of the Loan commissioners, has absconded with two or three thousand of the surplus; and it is ascertained, on the examination of the Board of Supervisors, that twenty one of the mortgages taken by the commissioners are totally insufficient to secure the payment of the moneys loaned. In several instances the property mortgaged is not worth 25 per cent of the money loaned. New York Courier.

Laughable Scene in Dublin.—The following scene took place at the nomination of the candidates in Dublin:—Mr. West, the opposing candidate, after repelling the charge of cruelty to his Roman Catholic tenantry, said that Mr. O'Connell had often accused him of being ugly, but he wore no borrowed plumage. If Mr. O'Connell prided himself on personal appearance, let him stand forth unadorned by a Bond-street perquignier's handiwork, and then let all judge and say which was the handsomer man. Mr. O'Connell, seizing his head-covering with one hand whisked off his Brutus, and appeared in his full suit of native nakedness—not a hair between him and the chandler above his head. It is impossible to describe the effect of this rich incident. O'Connell's face beamed with frolic and sunshine and all roared in triumph, as it were, at the ready answer to Mr. West's appeal for a judgment on his beauty. The whole court sheriff, candidates, orange-men, green-men, and all, seemed for a while to drop all recollection of the contest, and to indulge in one of the most exciting and whimsical scenes ever witnessed.

Royal Etiquette.—The Emperor of Russia invited Mr. Dallas, the American Minister, to dine with him on the Sunday after his arrival at the Palace of Peterhoff, and really made grand preparations for his reception, but when Mr. Dallas appeared he was told that he could not, under any consideration, be admitted in a citizen's dress, and having no uniform he was compelled to go back to his ship without dinner, quite vexed with the pertinacity of this royal etiquette, and refusing to put on the uniform, avowing himself to be a democrat of the first water, and expressing some apprehension that it might impair his popularity at home. The Emperor, however, gave him another invite for the following Sunday, when it is expected that he appeared in uniform. Mr. D. should remember the old adage, "when in Rome to do as the Romans do."—Appropos des bottes, it is rather too much the case with our citizens generally on foreign missions, to exhibit a want of politeness and courtesy in conforming to the customs of the country at which they are accredited, and that too from mere popularity hunting at home. While a foreign Minister in his negotiations should never lose sight of the honor and interest of his country, his deportment and bearing should ever be in conformity with the practice of others of equal rank at the same Court, and in no instance be conspicuous for a departure from the customs and usages of the country. Any thing that impairs the popularity of a Minister abroad, diminishes his power to render his own country the services required of him.—N. Y. E. Star.

A divorce of the Government and Banks, is the watch-word, with which the Office-Holders would defend us, so that they may possess the gold and silver,—but a pretty sort of divorce that, which unmarries the Banks not holding office from the Government, but marries the Public Treasury to the Office-Holders, the mere instruments and creatures of Government will! A pretty sort of divorce that, which casts off twenty, or thirty or forty Banks, and which marries 100,000 Office-Holders, a whole array of courtisans, to fatten and batten on the Public Treasury! A pretty progress toward a divorce that, which divorced one wife, the U. S. Bank, but in repudiating her takes thirty or forty State Bank mistresses, and now proposes to marry 100,000 more! A sweet Anchorite that Government, which not content with one wife, wants a whole seraglio, of which, in comparison the Sultan's is but a microscope! The base hypocrisy is stamped upon the proposition. N. Y. Express.

We see it stated that Wade Hampton, Esq. of South Carolina, not long since paid the proprietors of the New York Spirit of the Times one hundred years' subscription in advance, amounting to five hundred dollars. This genteel thing is said to have been done to save the publisher the trouble of sending for his dues, and Mr. Hampton the trouble of filing his receipts. It was doubtless a delicate mode adopted by him of contributing substantial aid to a paper in the success of which he felt an interest. The same liberal gentleman performed a similar flattering act towards the National Intelligencer; but thinking, probably, that the editors were not as likely to flourish for a century as the more youthful editor of the Times, he did not extend his subscription quite as far in their cases in his case. May he live to renew it in both cases.—Nat. Int.

Singular Accident.—This morning about 5 o'clock, a load of hay containing 2 tons, from Wenham, on its way to Boston, on the S. Tem Turnpike, near Mr. Currier's in Chelsea, took fire and wagon and all with the exception of three of the wheels, were consumed. The accident was occasioned by friction on the axle-tree, which burnt till it broke off and let the load down upon the fire. Boston Transcript.

Murder and Robbery at Rochester, N. Y.—Mr. Lyman, a Clerk of Mr. Horace Hooker, while on his way to his home, on Monday evening, was shot dead with a pistol by a robber who came up behind him. His pockets were rifled of his watch and what money he had in them. In falling his hat rolled some distance from his body, and was found in the morning containing $5000, which it is supposed induced the murder. Nothing was known of the murder till the next morning, when the body was found. The report and flash of the pistol were heard and seen, but it was supposed to have been fired at a dog. The citizens are greatly excited. Several arrests have been made. The Mayor of the city and the sheriff of the county have each offered a reward of $500. N. Y. Com. Ado.

The Superior Court of Law for the county of New Hanover is now holding its semiannual session, Judge Bailey presiding. The Judge exhibits an amenity and dignity which highly adorn his official station, and his intercourse with the members of the Bar is marked by a courtesy which tends to facilitate the business of the Court, and to win the respect and esteem of its officers and suitors. The only case of general interest, or importance, that has yet come before the Court, is that of Needham Howell. Howell was put upon his trial for killing his mother in February last. Messrs. O. Holmes and J. G. Wright were appointed by the Court to defend the prisoner.—After hearing the evidence of the State's witnesses, the arguments of counsel and the charge of his Honor, the jury retired, and after an absence of twenty minutes, brought in a verdict of Not Guilty. Wtl. Ado.

The beautiful Island of Juan Fernandez which was located in the Pacific Ocean, 110 leagues west of Chili, is said to have sunk. This was the island on which Alexander Selkirk resided so long, and which gave rise to the romance of Robinson Crusoe.

The following short paragraph from the Philadelphia Inquirer, is to Animal Magnetism, what a shot with a "silver bullet," was considered to witches and sorcerers in the annals of witchcraft:

"That animal magnetism is an imposture, no man who is not ready to deny the existence of the D-dity, and all the laws of natural and moral Philosophy, and all the edicts of natural and revealed Religion, can for a moment doubt. If it were true, it would at once overturn all the attributes of the Almighty—annihilate all space, convert the heavens above and the earth below into a perfect pandemonium, and elevate the creature man above the Power and Majesty of God the Creator."

Cause and Effect.—In his charge to the Grand Jury, at the late term of the Atlantic County Court, New Jersey, Chief Justice Hornblower stated that of the six capital cases which he had tried since his appointment, five had their origin in drunkenness.

In 1828, she deceased, together with her husband, the late lamented Willis Lewis, Esq. dec'd, removed from Granville county, N. C. to Tennessee. Two years after, Mr. Lewis died; and not long after that bereavement, owing to the benevolence of her husband's feelings for his friends she was deprived of the greater portion of the ample estate in her possession, and left with a bare competency. By prudence and good management, with God's blessing, she however, lived comfortably and disengaged her property of all debt. She possessed mental faculties of the highest order, highly cultivated, and properly regulated by Christian grace, and she had been a member of the Presbyterian church upwards of forty years, during all of which time she maintained a most exemplary Christian character for active exertion and devoted piety. She shed the brightest lustre upon all the relations of wife, mistress, neighbor, benefactor, relative and friend, and won by the sweetness of her temper, and the beauty of her character the love and admiration of all who knew her. She met death with the utmost calmness and serenity, in full assurance of a happy immortality.

Said Negro is well proportioned, about 6 feet high, and of black complexion—high forehead, a somewhat prominent nose, full lips and no whiskers; he has a scar on the lower angle of (1) forehead; the left foot, protruded by a burn; and on one of his arms a mark resembling a letter S. Howard speaks with plausibility and ease; is rather assuming in his address; yet mild and humble in his manners. He is 25 or 30, slender build, walks erect and easy, and is apt to bear uncommonly on his toes when hurried. According to his own account, he originally belonged to Joshua Lee, a planter, near Clinton, Va., to which place it is supposed he will direct his course, or to Norfolk or Richmond. He had on when he went away, blue pantaloons and coat, either a blue or yellow vest, and a black hat. He took away with him a pair of Saddle-bags, and is supposed to have a free ticket. PROSPECTUS Of a weekly Newspaper, to be published in the town of Oxford, N. C. to be entitled THE EXAMINER. The EXAMINER will be printed with entirely new materials, on an imperial sheet. If by the first of December a sufficient amount of subscription is obtained, the subscriber designs making preparations for commencing the publication of his paper early in January. The newspaper heretofore published at Oxford, notwithstanding the able manner in which it was conducted, did not receive that liberal support from the reading public that it is believed would be extended to one of equal size and more neatly printed.

The undersigned will rely principally for his support on the citizens of Granville. The paper will naturally be devoted more immediately to their interests than to those of any other section of the county; and as they have already felt the salutary influence of a newspaper, established in their own county, and the great convenience which a press affords to all classes in other respects, he hopes that but little exertion will be necessary to obtain for him a liberal and sustaining patronage.

Being a native of North Carolina, and feeling the deepest attachment for the land of his fathers, the undersigned, as the conductor of a newspaper, will, under all circumstances, lend his humble aid to the promotion of her welfare, and to the protection of her rights, as his first and paramount duty. In Federal politics, the Examiner, as heretofore, will be conducted on whig principles. Having for the last three or four years taken very little interest in party politics, the undersigned believes that he can come to the task of editing a newspaper with feelings and opinions as little warped by the prejudices engendered by party spirit as most men. And while he will claim the privilege of expressing his opinions freely and candidly on all subjects, he will endeavor to do so without indulging in that uncharitable asperity of feeling which is so characteristic of political warfare.

Believing that the late administration assumed to itself, and exercised powers, not delegated to the Executive head by the Constitution, and thus set an example to its successors, which, if followed, would change our whole form of government, and eventually convert our liberties into a mere name, he has pledged himself to "stand in the footsteps of his predecessors," and to support to the measures of the present administration. He will, however, feel bound, as an honest man, without regard to the framers of party, to give his unqualified support to all measures, coming from whatever source, which have for their object, and which he believes calculated to promote the general good. The Examiner will be printed weekly, at three dollars per annum, payable at any time after the publication of the first number. Persons at a distance wishing to subscribe can address the subscriber, post paid, at Louisaburg, N. C. DANIEL R. GODDLE, Nov. 5, 1837. Editors in the State will please publish.
