POETRY.

"And while his Harp responsive rung—
'Twas thus the latest Minstrel sung."

From the Louisville Journal.

THE COTTAGE-BAND.

I know a neat white cot that peeps out brightly
From its repose amid green wavy trees
That murmur to the breeze,
Round which young feet are heard to fall as lightly
As summer rain-drops on the sighing rose,
Lulling it to repose.

There when the joyous lark is upward springing
With his sweet song to greet the early morn,
Unto the ear is borne
The silvery laugh of childhood wildly ringing
Upon the stillness of the soft blue air,
For happy hearts are there.

Hearts that are filled from love's eternal fountain,
Till each is like a deep o'erflowing well,
Or a wild floweret's bell
Hid 'neath the brow of some o'erhanging mountain,
Giving its perfume to each wind it meets,
Yet losing not its sweets.

And there at noon-tide, 'mid the trembling glances
Of the sweet starry jasmine gleaming out
Is heard a young boy's shout.
Clear as the singing of a stream that dances
Unto the breeze in all her boundless glee—
As clear, but oh more free!

While near his side a fairy creature lingers,
His little sister, with her moss-rose cheek,
And eye so softly meek,
Parting the clustering vines with dimpled fingers,
And seizing from their long and wiry stems
Their pale and quivering gems.

And there at eve, beneath the starlight gleamings,
Sits their young mother in soft pensive grace,
With sweetly smiling face,
Hushing her babe unto its heavenly dreamings,
And, with bent listening ear and graceful head,
Waiting her husband's tread.

And when his step is heard among the flowers,
Sweet lips are wreathed in smiles, and ready feet
Fly forth his own to meet;
And the calm stillness of the twilight hours
Is broken by soft whispered words of love,
Stirring the air above.

And this is all! yet oft my fancy painteth
That quiet, lovely spot unto my view,
Where the warm sun looks through
The leafy boughs, and where the white rose fainteth
Upon the breeze that oft its leaves hare fanned—
Blest be that cottage-band!

L—A—W——LAW

An upper and a lower mill
Fell out about their water:
To war they went, that is, to law,
Resolved to give no quarter.

A lawyer was by each engaged,
And hotly they contended;
When fees grew slack, the wars they waged,
They judged were better ended.

Then heavy cost remaining still,
Were settled without pother;
One lawyer took the upper mill,
The lower mill the other.

Small Mistake.—A fellow who was a little nervous and violently addicted to the chewing of pigtail, chanced to be left alone for a minute, in a dark room.—While his companion was absent, he drew from his pocket the delicious twist for the purpose of taking a hearty nip thereof. But catching his fore finger between his teeth instead of the weed, continued to bite it, yelling with anguish as well as could be expected. This soon gathered around him several individuals, who asked him what was the matter, when taking his deeply indented finger from his mouth, he exclaimed that some d——d scoundrel in the dark had been trying to bite his finger off.

A poor Irish laborer, seeing one of our fashionable dandies strutting through one of the streets in our city went modestly up to him and said, 'I beg your honor's pardon, sir, but would ye be aither tellin' me the rent of this house, I want to know for a reason I have?' 'Get away fellow said the dandy, how should I know the rent, I know nothing about the house?' 'I beg your honor's pardon, sur,' said the Irishman, but from the manner in which ye walk, myself thought the whole Shreet belonged to ye, ay faith an' the next shreet too for the matter of that, by my sowl and conscience I did, sur.'

A little boy, about four years of age, lay very still one morning after a night's sleep, as if in deep thought. His parents watched him for some time. At length his mother said to him—George my dear, what are you thinking about? Why mother, says George, how many kinds of fire are there? How many kinds of fire? why only one, my son. Why yes there is, continued the boy, there are four kinds. Four kinds! how will you make that out? Well, said he, first there is a wood-fire, then there is a coal fire, then there is camphire, and then there is—there is—Well what is your fourth, my son? There is fire away like fury.

Marry—If you are for pleasure——Marry.
If you prize y'r health——Marry.
And even if money be your object—marry
If you love your Creator, you ought to marry, to raise up more worshippers——if you love the ladies you ought to marry, to make them happy—if you love your country, you ought to marry, to raise up soldiers to defend it—in fine, if you wish well of earth and heaven, you ought to marry, to give good citizens to one, and glorious angels to the other.

A critical Pet Boy.—A few days since a gentleman went into a tavern in Holborn and in the absence of the usual waiter was attended to by the pot boy.—"Bring me the evening paper," said the gentleman. "I'm sartain come yet sir," said the pot boy, "but there's the Satirist, and it's got some werry good pieces in it." "Indeed," replied the gentleman, "and how do you know that?" "Oh," returned the hopeful youth, "I know its poetry, acause all the lines am shorter than tothers, and its werry good, acause our gals say so."

A lit of a wag on board of the Steamboat being not a little disquieted in his slumbers by great legions of fellow lodgers who seemed to dispute his claim to the berth, called out, "Hello Steward." What mean! "Bring me the way bill." Who for, mean? I want to see if these bed bugs put down their names for this berth before I did—if not, I want 'em turned out."

Exercise in Talking fast.—Let those who are slow in speech try to say the following rapidly: There was a man whose name was Mob, and he had a dog whose name was Cob, and she had a cat whose name was Chitty Bob—Cob says Bob, Chitty Bob says Mob—Cob was Bob's dog, and Chitty Bob was Mob's cat.

A Point of order.—A debating society in a town "down east," one evening undertook to discuss the question, whether intemperence, or slavery is productive of the most evil in the United States!" A worthy Deacon, contending against the former, proposed to show its effects on its victims, "in eternity."—"Stop, stop," cried the chairman, "that's out of the United States."

We remember the opening of a lawyer's speech upon the Circuit, which may give an idea of their sophistical phraseology and mode of reasoning. "My Lord if there ever was a case, in which one case ought to be conjoined with another case—this case is that case!"—Which case, Mr.——?" was his Lordships gruff, but humorous reply.

An Irishman received a challenge to fight a duel, but declined. On being asked the reason;

'Och, honey," said he, 'would you have me lave my own mother an orphan!"

Very Valuable Land for Sale.

Pursuant to the last will and testament of Robert Park, dec'd, we offer, at private sale, the Lands belonging to his estate situated near Oxford, Granville county, North Carolina.

The upper tract lies on both sides of Fishing Creek within two miles of that flourishing village, and is estimated to contain ONE THOUSAND ACRES; 200 of which are Creek bottom, very productive in grain, and susceptible of great improvement at moderate expense. The upland is soft, easily cultivated and productive; and such of it as is not fresh, having for the most part grown up in pine, is rapidly recovering its former fertility. There are 300 acres in original timber well suited to both fencing and building purposes, and so situated as to be convenient to all parts of the plantation. The improvements consist of a comfortable

Dwelling House, with 6 rooms,

A large Cotton Gin; a Granary, with stables attached; a Smoke-House, Corn Crib, Tobacco Barns, and some cabins. It is believed that an excellent overshot MILL might be built on this tract, commanding the best water power in the neighborhood.

The lower tract is situated four miles from Oxford, and contains by very old surveys 1040 acres. This is generally believed to be one of the most valuable estates of its extent in this section of country—about 180 acres are creek bottom of superior quality, and from 450 to 500 acres of Tobacco Land are yet to clear. Timber is very abundant, and at trifling cost the saw mill, which is on a good site, might be put in operation, and rendered profitable. There are two settlements on this land, with a dwelling and out houses at each—some good Tobacco Barns, &c.

The terms will be made accommodating, and we invite proposals from such persons as are disposed to make investments in valuable real estate. Oxford offers advantages of schools, and good society, and these Lands present those of soil, fine water, and pure air.

Written communications will be addressed to us at Warrenton, North Carolina.

JUST RECEIVED,

AND FOR SALE BY THE SUBSCRIBER, Dr. Sherwood's Electro-Magnetic Remedies for Chronic Diseases, of the class Hypertrophy, including all the forms of Scrofula, viz:

Tubercular Consumption, White Swellings,
Dyspepsia, Scrofulous Sore Eyes,
Chronic diseases of the Liver,
Of the Heart, Scald Head,
Of the Spleen, King's Evil,
Of the Kidnies, Leucorrhœa, } or Female
Of the Spine, Chlorosis, } complaints.
Menorrhagia }

These are but different modifications of the same disease, arising from the same cause, distinguished by the same diagnosis, and curable by the same remedies. Their common cause is an irregular action of the Electro-Galvanic forces in the system; they may all be detected by pressure upon the sides of the vertebræ and glands of the neck, which elicits the Electro-Galvanic symptoms, and they may be cured by these Electro Magnetic remedies. The latter are accompanied by a compendious medical treatise, explaining the principles of the discovery upon which they are founded, and stating the manner in which they are to be applied. In this work Dr. Sherwood demonstrates the fact that every part of the human body, together with every particle of animate and inanimate matter, is either in a negative or positive state of electricity, and that every motion, in all matter, whether in the largest masses or in the smallest particles, is produced by the attracting and repelling forces of this universal principle. The morbid action which produces disease of the organs or limbs, he proves to be occasioned by the undue preponderance of one of these forces in the system, and his remedies restore health by subduing this irregular action to an equilibrium. By this means, the very seeds of the disease are eradicated, and a permanent cure effected, even in cases where all hopes of relief from other sources is abandoned. The Electro-Magnetic Remedies are the only preparations applicable to this prevailing class of disease, and they never disappoint the confidence reposed in them. The symptoms of the class of diseases to which they are applicable, can be discovered, under the directions contained in the work which accompanies them, without the aid of a physician, and they can be used with perfect safety and success without dieting or inconvenience, or any further advice than this work affords.

The principles upon which these remedies are prepared, are strictly scientific—and as such, together with their unequalled success, as curative agents in the diseases mentioned (which annually consign thousands to the grave, and among them many of the loveliest of the human race) have already effected sales to the amount of one thousand dollars per month, for the learned and talented inventor—and among the purchasers are many of the ablest northern and western physicians, for their own practice. Price $10.

Editorial Convention.

At a Convention of Editors held in this City on the 1st of November 1837, certain regulations for the future government of the fraternity in North-Carolina were agreed on. With a view of ascertaining whether they would prove acceptable to the members of the Corps Editorial, who were unable to attend and be ratified by them, the undersigned were appointed a Committee of Correspondence—it being understood, that if three-fourths of the Editors of the State should signify their assent to the proceedings in question, that the same should thenceforth be considered obligatory and binding on the parties concerned.

The undersigned have discharged the duty assigned them and more than the required number have responded affirmatively. One or two Editors, in consequence of their peculiar local position, think their interests may be affected by a strict adherence to the Table of Prices adopted, and though they yield their assent to the whole regulations, they evidently do so with reluctance. The undersigned, therefore, as the organs of the Convention, respectfully recommend to their brethren throughout the State to take its proceedings as a rule for the government of their professional course hereafter, conforming as strictly thereto, as existing contracts and local circumstances will permit.

No. 1. One set of yellow pine beams, for a frigate of the first class.
No. 2. Two sets of yellow pine beams, for sloops of war, first class.
No. 3. Twenty thousand cubic feet of yellow pine plank stocks.
No. 4. Twenty thousand cubic feet of yellow pine plank stocks.
No. 5. Twenty thousand cubic feet do do do
No. 6. Twenty thousand cubic feet do do do do
No. 7. Twenty thousand cubic feet do do do do
No. 8 Twenty thousand cubic feet white oak plank stocks.

The beam pieces and one half of the plank stocks to be delivered on or before the 30th April, 1839; and the other half of the plank stocks on or before the 30th April, 1840.

Persons offering will make their offers separately for the quantities and kind of timber embraced in any of the above numbers, and they will be considered and decided independently of each other.

Schedules of the beam pieces will be furnished on application to the Commissioners of the Navy, or to the Commandant of the Navy Yard, Gosport, Virginia.

The yellow pine beam pieces and plank stocks must be the best quality long leaf, fine grain, heart, Southern yellow pine timber. The white oak plank stocks must be of the best quality, and must have grown on lands situated near to the salt water, or within the influence of the sea air; and the white oak and yellow pine plank stocks must have been girdled or felled between the twentieth day of October and twentieth day of March next preceding the deliveries; all of which must be proved to the satisfaction of the commanding officer of the said Navy Yard, Gosport, Virginia.

All the said timber must be free from sap, heart shakes, wind shakes, and all other defects.

The plank stocks must average forty-five feet in length, and none of them must be less than thirty-five feet long; the white oak plank stocks must square not less than fourteen inches at the but, and may square one-fourth less at the top; the yellow pine plank stocks must square not less than fourteen, nor more than sixteen, inches at the but, and may square one-fifth less at the top.

Ten per centum will be withheld from the amount of each delivery made, as collateral security, in addition to the bonds given, to secure the performance of the respective contracts, which will in no event be paid until the contracts are complied with in all respects.

Ninety per centum will be paid within thirty days after the bills for the timber shall be approved and presented to the Navy Agent.

All of the said timber must be subject to inspection and measurement by the inspector and measurer of timber at the said Navy Yard, Gosport, or by such other person or persons as may be designated by the Commissioners of the Navy for the performance of that duty; and in all cases the timber must be in all respects to the acceptance and satisfaction of the commanding officer of the said Navy Yard, and approved by him.

OXFORD MALE ACADEMY.

The prominent advantages of this Institution, render it peculiarly deserving the notice of parents and guardians. It formerly ranked among the first in the State; and it has at present many additional and solid claims on the public for patronage and preference.

Oxford is surpassed by no village of the South in its healthfulness, pleasant location, good society and freedom from dissipation.

The principal, Mr. A. HAAR, is a gentleman of considerable attainments in classical and scientific knowledge, acquired in England, Italy and France. He is not only well versed in the Greek and Latin classics, but familiar with modern languages and all the numerous branches of physical, mathematical, moral and intellectual science.

In training the Students to respect their teachers, their companions and themselves, strict regard will be had to inculcate virtuous principles, honorable feelings and gentlemanly conduct.—The government will be parental rather than severe; and the students' minds directed to habits of industry, accurate observation and deep enquiry.

Mr. T. Higgins, a graduate of a European College, and an excellent classical scholar, is engaged for the ensuing year to instruct the junior classes.

Classical students will be prepared to enter the Freshman or the Sophomore class, agreeably to the course of studies prescribed by the University of the State.—Terms—Classical students $15 00; English from 6 00 to 15 00 per session.

Modern Languages.

French, } Three lessons a week, { $7 50 / $10 00
Spanish, }

Per Session—Extra.

The tuition fees are required in advance; and the amount of half a session will be the smallest charge.

The first session of 1838 will begin on the 22d of January, and the Examination will be on Monday and Tuesday the 18th and 19th of June.

REVISED STATUTES.

The subscribers, having contracted with the Commissioners of the State for the publication of the Revised Statutes of North Carolina, have the pleasure of announcing the completion of said work.

Being appointed by the Governor agents on the part of the State for its sale, they now offer to the good citizens of North Carolina a work which, as regards quality of paper and execution, is not equalled by any law book ever published in this country. It has been pronounced by every one who has examined it, (and amongst those are numbered many of the oldest and most extensive book publishers in the United States) to be the "ne plus ultra" of typography.

Published in 2 volumes—the 1st containing 712 pages—the 2d 558. Price only nine dollars per copy—or five dollars for 1st volume, and four for the second, if sold separately. All orders for the above work, directed to them at the North Carolina Book Store, will meet with prompt attention.
