From the Richmond Compiler. WASTED SYMPATHY. By the letter below from Mr. Charles Sigourney, of Hartford, it appears that a goodly amount of sympathy has been fairly thrown away, relative to the sale of the beautiful seat lately owned by that gentleman, and particularly on account of his estimable and gifted wife.

friend has pointed out to me an article, in a late New York Mirror, from your pen, to recognize which has usually afforded me pleasure, in which my name is used, and the circumstances of my family adverted to, in a manner not being true, can hardly be agreeable.

In circulation, I think I may rely upon your courtesy to insert my remarks. In the first place, there had appeared in the Examiner a report of a speech of mine at the Great Birmingham meeting on the first of August, which contained the following paragraph:

State of North Carolina. Wake County. Superior Court of Law - Spring Term, 1838. Ann Neighbors vs William Neighbors - Petition for Divorce.

DR. W. W. MARSHALL'S Ointment for the Blind Pills. This invaluable remedy has been several years before the public, its virtue and efficacy have been well tested, and in numerous instances, in the most aggravated forms of the disease, it has solitary case has it been known to fail in effecting a cure.

TERMS. The perishable property will be sold on a credit of six months; the land on a credit of one, two, and three years, with interest from the day of sale. Bond and approved security will be required for the purchase money, before the title of the property is changed. C. L. HINTON, Executor. Wake county, Oct. 7, 1838.

COMMITTED. To the Jail of Hertford county, a negro man, who calls his name JO, and who belongs to Benjamin Boyt, of South Carolina, & was purchased by said Boyt of a Mr. Gilchrist, who purchased him of John Skinner, said negro is about six feet high, of dark complexion, and says he is fifty-five years of age.

These kind gentlemen, therefore, who, with friendly intentions, but injudicious zeal, seem to be torn out of doors, to perish (as it were) an exact they might have known years ago, had they pleased, are now most respectfully informed they need give themselves no further uneasiness about my affairs, or those of my family; that I was not aware before they stated it, I was dead and buried, but that by the favor of Providence, I am still among the living; that my wife and children are not quite, yet, candidates for the almshouse; but that, on the contrary, although hardly as rich, we feel about as independent as old Mr. Astor, and feel we have a right to, inasmuch as we have a goodly share of the good things of life, an ample ability to fulfill all our obligations, and that we have really, as little need of their assistance as we have claim on their sympathy.

Of course I answered his question accordingly, namely, that the report was not correct; but I referred expressly in my reply to another report of the speech in my possession, imagining that he would, upon such reference, call for the accurate version.

State of North Carolina. Nash County. In Equity - March Term, 1838. Charity Collins, Plaintiff vs David Collins and Bennet Collins, Defendants. Petition for divorce and Alimony.

Female Influence. - Whoever has the women is sure of the men, you may depend upon it; openly or secretly, directly or indirectly, they do contrive, somehow, or another, to have their own way in the end; and though the men have the reins, the women tell 'em which way to drive. Now, if ever you go for to canvass for votes, always canvass the wives, and you are sure of the husbands.

What though the might of genius appears in one decisive blow, struck in some moment of high debate, or at the crisis of a nation's peril; that mighty energy, though it may have heaved in the breast of a Demosthenes, was once a feeble infant's thought; a mother's eye watched over its dawning; a father's care guarded its early growth. It soon trod with youthful step the halls of learning, and found others to watch and to wake for it, even as it finds them here.

But as I made Mr. Stevenson no apology, he determined on making one to himself, and accordingly he wrote a second letter, and in it presumed that I had made a disavowal of offensive expressions. Now, this was either fancy or diplomacy. I care not which; but it was as gratuitous a presumption upon his part as the reality would have been unnecessary upon mine.

LUMBER FOR SALE. The subscriber has on hand, at his Mills, (late Blake's) 17 miles East of Raleigh, 100,000 feet of choice Lumber, of every description, saved out of Long Leaf Pine, the peculiar excellence of which is too well known to need any puff.

The following is the best definition of a loafer we have yet seen: A person who begs all the tobacco he uses - knows more people than is acquainted with him, when he meets them in a coffee-house - often looking at his borrowed watch like the time - and takes the paper about six months, and then tramps.

My sole object in my speech at Birmingham, and my present object, is to rouse the attention of England and of Europe to all that is cruel, criminal, and in every sense of the word infamous, in the system of negro slavery in North America. My deliberate conviction is that, until that system is abolished, no American slaveholder ought to be received on a footing of equality by any of the civilized inhabitants of Europe.
