Governor Scott Gives 16-Point Program To State's Lawmakers

By WADE LUCAS Record Correspondent RALEIGH, Jan. 4 — Governor W. Kerr Scott today told a joint session of the House and Senate of the General Assembly that "it is obvious" more money will be necessary "to meet new and continuing needs" of the State.

But the governor, chief architect of the widely-heralded "Go Forward" program he advanced at the start of his administration almost two years ago, said he is "hopeful" the additional money needed can be obtained "in large measure" by anticipated increases in revenues, by the removal of certain exemptions and inequities (obviously in the three percent general sales tax) and more uniform collection of taxes.

He outlined a 16-point program in his 48-minute long address on the "state of the State", reviewed and defended his administration's policies to date, and said:

"As the practical effect of this go-forward program is felt, I am (Continued On Page Two)

Young Offers Whiskey Bill

Harnett Solon Asks For State-Wide Vote On November 6

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 4—(UP)—An "all or nothing at all" bill calling for a Statewide liquor referendum Nov. 6, 1951, was introduced in the State Senate today by Sen. J. R. Young of Dunn.

In the House, as the General Assembly convened at 10:30 a. m., Rep. Burl Hardison of Craven County, introduced a bill providing for stiffer penalties for persons convicted of speeding or drunken driving.

EXCLUDES BEER—WINE Young's liquor bill did not include beer and wine but would permit the state to vote for alcoholic beverage control stores in all counties or in none of them.

The bill provided that if the State voted for ABC stores, they would be set up in every county. If the vote should go against legal liquor sales, the ABC act of 1937 would be repealed and cease to be in effect 90 days after the results of the election were officially announced.

It would not include beer and wine. Hardison, an opponent of mechanical inspection for motor vehicles in the 1949 assembly, was the first house member to propose a bill to the New Legislature.

Truman Facing Rough Sledding

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—(UP)—Congress has confirmed President Truman's darkest suspicions—that his domestic program is in for even rougher treatment than his bitterly assailed foreign policies.

Mr. Truman has known all along that he could expect Republicans to harp constantly on his conduct of foreign affairs, particularly in the Far East.

And he suspected ever since his party lost most of its majority in Congress in the November elections (Continued On Page Eight)

Doctors Hear Talk On Atomic Disaster

By JIM HENDERSON Record Staff Writer

Atomic attack on any of North Carolina's cities would find the State's doctors ready and organized to cope with the disaster immediately. Dr. Walton Kitchin of Clinton assured members of the Harnett County Medical Society and their guests Wednesday night.

Dr. Kitchin, chairman of the State Emergency Medical Service, an auxiliary of the Civil Defense authority, outlined in a fact-filled 20-minute talk the comprehensive and detailed program which the State's doctors will be ready to put to work instantly to save bombed citizens.

He was introduced at the dinner meeting by Dr. C. L. Corbett of Dunn. Dr. W. B. Hunter, president of the Harnett Medical and Dental Society, presided.

DISPELLED FEARS

Dr. Kitchin dispelled any fears that bombing by atomic or hydrogen weapons would create new and more horrible situations with which the medical profession could not cope.

"It would be 99 per cent the same old problems, magnified," he asserted. "About 85 per cent of the cases would be exactly the same types treated in the last war. The other 15 per cent would be due to (Continued On Page 3)

Seoul Now Occupied By Chinese Forces

TOKYO, Jan. 4—(UP)—Chinese troops poured into Seoul today and occupied the burning and abandoned capital almost on the heels of the retreating U. S. 8th Army.

United Nations forces also abandoned Kimpo Airfield, 10 miles west of Seoul, the biggest and best air base in the country, to the Chinese Communists.

But swarms of Allied planes from other bases in Korea and Japan and from carriers offshore slaughtered hundreds of the advancing Reds in the biggest aerial offensive of the war.

Eighth Army headquarters in Korea announced the abandonment of Seoul in a special communique at 4:30 p. m. (2:30 a. m. EST).

It said: "The City of Seoul has been successfully evacuated by all United Nations troops, who have been withdrawn as planned to their defensive positions."

Threatened with entrapment by a powerful Chinese-North Korean thrust deep into their eastern flank, the 8th Army units below Seoul might have to be taken off by sea to rejoin the rest of the UN ground forces in Southeast Korea.

FLEET OFF INCHON

An Allied fleet was standing off Inchon, Port for Seoul, and one senior American naval officer, it was said, his task group was ready to "redeploy" the UN forces by sea if necessary. It already was removing South Korean civilians.

RULES—The first official act of Speaker Frank Taylor was to name a committee on rules. Since no legislative or judicial body can function without rules, immediately after he had been named as chairman of the committee Sam Worthington of Pitt county offered a motion putting into effect the rules of the 1949 house until such time as committee could report and the house adopt new rules. From about 12:30 Wednesday until the present house adopts new rules, the 1949 book will apply.

GAG—As has been the case every session since 1941 is a lot of talk about the "gag rule." Most folks realize there is no such thing, but some who have special interest to put over resent the fact that house rules adopted in 1941, when O. M. Mull of Cleveland was speaker and J. M. Broughton was governor, require a two-thirds majority vote in order to over rule committee action in some cases. These rules have not been materially changed in the past ten years, despite frantic efforts on part of some special interest advocates to get them changed so that committee action could be upset by simple majority vote.
