

Tax Listing Forms Issued

Use of a special inventory form, prepared especially for businessmen of the county, will be continued in listing for taxes this year, according to Tax Supervisor Berles C. Johnson.

Prepared by the county tax supervisor, the special inventory form has been in use for several years. It provides for listing stocks of goods, machinery, fixtures, motor vehicles used in business, and various other forms of personal property held in connection with operating a business.

PROMPT RETURN
Tax listing must be made in January. The tax supervisor reminded businessmen. He requested that inventory forms, mailed to merchants and businessmen of the county, be filled in and returned promptly to his office in Lillington.

All property should be listed at full value, he said, and his office will compute taxes on the basis of two-thirds of these figures.

It's Rugged in Korea

DULUTH, Minn. (U.P.)—PFC Arthur Beam wrote his mother from Korea: "I haven't had a shave or bath for a month. I haven't changed my longhairs in a month. Worst of all, I haven't had my boots off for three weeks."

Buttons on the back of men's formal clothes are an 18th-century heritage. Gentlemen on horseback used them to fasten back coats.

Car Damaged In Accident

Property damage resulted from an accident in front of Mary Stewart School last night, highway patrolmen reported today.

William C. Strickland, 19, Dunn, lost control of a 1949 Plymouth sedan in getting it back on the road after running off the shoulder. He swerved to the left and sideswiped a 1935 Chevrolet driven by Danford McLamb, 18, of Dunn Rt. 2. The car then turned over on the left side of the road.

Riding in the car with Strickland were Shelton Beasley, and Charles Holmes. Mrs. A. T. Holmes is the owner of the car.

Patrolman David Matthews investigated.

Campbell Program Making Progress

The current expansion program of Campbell College is making satisfactory progress, according to information from college officials, and several communities expect to meet their goals before the end of the year.

On Thursday, the Neil's Creek and Pleasant Union organization met in the Pleasant Union Church, with Chairman High Green presiding. The communities are still a little short of their goal of $5,000, but they expect to reach that quota by Jan. 15, when another meeting will be held.

In Coats, the group met Friday evening at Ted Malone's store, with Chairman Carson Gregory presiding. The Coats group is short of its goal of $8,000. Chairman Gregory is confident this amount can be secured by Jan. 26, when the group will again assemble and report on its progress.

DUNN DATE PENDING
In other communities, preliminary work is going on in preparation for kickoff meetings. At Boone Trail, the kickoff meeting is slated for Jan. 11. Mrs. Harvey O'Quinn is chairman. Dr. Paul Bagby, chairman for Bule's Creek, plans to hold his kickoff meeting Jan. 12. In Dunn, no exact date has been set for the beginning of the campaign, although it will be before the end of the month. Earl Westbrook is general chairman for the drive.

The goal of the college is to gain a modern gymnasium with full equipment, to make possible a well-rounded program of competitive recreation and body-building classes.

College officials today expressed complete confidence that the goal will be met.

Street Marker Work Delayed

Weather was given as the reason Lillington's new street markers have not been erected. Early this week, the markers were still in the town hall, and town officials were waiting for better weather.

All necessary materials are on hand, Mayor Charlie Loving explained, but the signs must be set in concrete. The cold December weather was unsuitable for pouring concrete.

The street markers were given to the town by Mr. and Mrs. Joel Layton Jr.

Mayo Clinic To Examine Girl

leader Fred Cannon pressed the clinic into speedy examination. Doctors there will examine the child Wednesday.

Cannon said that Mrs. Purcell had agreed to permit removal of one eye, the worse affected, if Mayo's diagnosticians recommend it.

The Rev. Mr. Lawson said that Mrs. Purcell's indecision, and reliance on "a miracle," stemmed from the fact that no operation would guarantee life for her only child.

"It has never been made completely plain that the child does not have a 50-50 chance to live even if they remove her eyes," he said. "That's got her mother in a mighty tough spot."

Carolyn Joan, wearing a hooded green coat, went out into the raw day to attend the service at the Tabernacle Baptist Church. Members of the congregation filled her hands with folding money and coins after the prayer service.

UN Forces Reel To New Position

coasts outdistanced their Communist pursuers in headlong retreat toward Fusan.

The main 8th Army column in the West at last reports was falling back through and may have abandoned Osan, 27 miles south of Seoul, after blowing up military installations at Suwon.

A security blackout cloaked progress of the East Coast column, but 8th Army Headquarters announced cryptically that UN forces there had given up their last positions north of the 38th Parallel, old border between North and South Korea.

Four U.S. destroyers and two Thailand Corvettes bombarded enemy columns moving south along the East Coast in pursuit of the retreating Allied troops.

Allied air assets took to the Korean skies in full strength of 1,000 or more aircraft as the weather cleared after two days of low clouds and snowstorms. They concentrated their attacks on the Seoul area, but reported most Red troops in hiding.

Photo Racketeers Prey On Wives Of Overseas G. I.'s

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—(U.P.)—It seems that racketeers are preying on wives and families leaving to fight in Korea.

I got this story from the wife of Sgt. Russell Martin of Washington. The soldier left behind his lovely wife, Mildred, and a six-year old child to go to war.

Mildred, trying hard to hold up her end of a rough bargain, is working for the Department of Agriculture.

The sergeant took his bumps in preliminary training and finally got orders to leave for "an unknown destination" which, of course, was Korea.

In San Francisco Martin scooped up all the change he had, borrowed a few dimes and called Mildred. It was a tearful goodbye over the long distance.

When that was over the sergeant boarded his ship. After all had checked in, the men had an hour or so left. Sgt. Martin got off a letter to his wife before the ship sailed. He told her that a nice man had taken his picture and that she could expect a surprise package shortly—the likeness of her man, gear packed and ready to go out and meet the challenge of the aggressors.

Mildred was happy when she got his hastily scribbled note. She waited and waited. At length, there came a notice from the post office that there was a collect package—labeled "Photos—Do Not Bend"—waiting for her in the main post office. She went there as soon as she finished work.

"Five dollars and 56 cents, please," the man said. That was a lot of money to Mrs. Martin. It meant a lot of potatoes and chuck roast, even at present prices. But the picture was the important thing.

So she fished into her purse and paid the man. Mildred opened the packet on the way home. There was not one picture, but 21. All of them were group shots.

In one fuzzy print she found the blurred image of Russell. There was no sign of her man in the other 20.

Mildred is pretty sore. I don't blame her. She went to the Better Business Bureau and asked it to investigate. It is.

Tires Spurred
LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.)—Here's a new twist. Al Williams, farmer, reported to police that thieves made off with two wheels from his trailer, leaving the tires behind.

The speed of light was first measured in 1875 by a Danish astronomer named Roemer, from observations of the moons of Jupiter as they went into eclipse in the planet's shadow.

Two Dunn representatives of the Curtis Candy Company have received outstanding promotions, it was announced today by the Raleigh office of the company.

Archie D. Hayman, supervisor of the Dunn territory, has been promoted to head the Wilson District, a much larger territory with an area of more than 100 miles.

Mr. Hayman, son of Mrs. Reuben W. Pope of Dunn, has been with the company for the past four years. He started as salesman, was soon promoted to the position of supervisor, and has made an excellent record with the company.

ONE OF EIGHT
The company has recently consolidated some of its territories, and Mr. Hayman was one of eight men selected in the State for promotion.

He attended the Dunn Schools and Campbell College. He served in the Navy for four years. Mr. Hayman married the former Miss Edna Ruth Utley. They have one son, Chris, one and a half years old. They plan to move to Wilson as soon as they can find living quarters there.

Roland B. West, who has been serving as a salesman for the company a year, has been promoted to head the drop shipment department of the Curtis Candy Company for the entire Eastern Carolina area.

Mr. West, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. West, was recently cited by the Chicago home office of the company, for his outstanding work. He was among the top salesmen for the company last year.

A native and lifelong resident of this section, Mr. West is a member of a well-known family. He has served with the company for two years. He married the former Miss Mary Hardin. They have one newborn daughter, Sue West.

Mr. West will travel all over Eastern Carolina, but will continue to make his home in Dunn.

Farmers Must Deduct For Social Security

Raleigh, Jan. 8.—New social security regulations which became effective January 1 make farmers who employ hired labor liable for deducting one and one-half per cent tax from the wages of such workers.

The regulations apply only where cash wages are paid to farm hands or farm domestic help. The total tax is 3 per cent, half of which is paid by the worker and half by the employer.

According to W. L. Turner, extension farm management specialist at State College, and John Ingle, manager of the Raleigh field office of the Social Security Administration, each wage hand should apply immediately for a social security number. Blanks may be obtained from any post office. Each farm employer who pays cash wages should apply for an employer's number, using a blank (Form SS-4) which can be obtained from the county farm agent.

Before taxes apply to a worker, he must establish a "qualifying quarter" by working for a farmer continuously for a full calendar quarter. In the next quarter he must be employed by the same farmer on a full-time basis for at least 60 days and his cash wages must amount to $50 or more.

Generally speaking, after he has served the qualifying quarter, the employee will be covered in each succeeding quarter with the same employer as long as he continues to work at least 60 days on a full-time basis and earns cash wages of $50 or more.

For hired farm workers who meet the requirements of the new law, the Government will provide the same social security benefits as for industrial workers. These include monthly payments when the worker retires after reaching 65, and payments to the worker's family when he dies.
