Draft Puts Congress In Bad Position

Mrs. Rosenberg Tells Solons Must Take Vets, Husbands Or 18-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Congress was told today that husbands and fathers will have to be drafted "very soon" unless it authorizes a draft of 18-year-olds.

Assistant Defense Secretary Anna M. Rosenberg said in a statement prepared for the House Armed Service Committee that "with men between 18 and 19 entering the service, we could not only avoid calling men with families, but also veterans."

"In addition," she said, "we could allow a larger number of deferments than would otherwise be possible among engineers, scientists, technicians and other key men."

WOULD TAKE VETERANS
Mrs. Rosenberg's statement was a strong boost for a draft of 18-year-olds because legislators are reluctant to break up families or recall veterans back to duty.

COMPLETED—The roster of the House of Representatives was completed Monday night when Dr. W. A. Sams was sworn in as representative of Madison county—the first Democrat to sit in the General Assembly from Madison in 20 years. Delay in taking his seat was occasioned by two causes, illness of Dr. Sams and contest by Republicans. Because he regards the occasion more than usually significant—capture of Madison by the Democrats—the new representative made quite a party of his induction into office. He had asked Secretary of State Thad Eure to administer the oath and had invited a number

Bailey Says Coliseum Gone Too Far To Stop; Can't Divert Materials

RALEIGH, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Hope of saving State money by halting construction of the coliseum at the State Fairgrounds appeared to be fading today and the demand for State spending turned sharply upward.

House and Senate sessions were scheduled at noon.

The special committee investigating the coliseum project planned to meet with architects and engineers to learn how much it would cost to call off construction of the $1,347,000 coliseum. Co-Chairman Sen. James H. Poy Bailey admitted late yesterday that "I'm inclined to feel it's gone too far to stop it."

WAS OWN VIEW
He emphasized that he was expressing his own view and not that of the committee, and that after today's talks he might change his mind.

Bailey said the committee talked yesterday with the contractor who explained that the order for 450 tons of steel was virtually complete and the material could not simply be diverted to another project.

"Opportunity waits for no one" "He who hesitates is lost" ... just two of many well-known phrases which could be very easily applied to the lack of definite decision on the part of many citizens of this area who this past week have had one of the biggest opportunities of a lifetime presented to them, and as yet have not taken the necessary steps to capitalize on this good fortune!

If an opportunity were to present itself whereby your sparetime activity could be transformed into a worthwhile effort which would produce easy earnings of $50 to $100 per week and, if properly applied, have a maximum earning capacity of $2611.25 in a short period of but seven and one half weeks, would you (Continued on Page Two)

USAF Reopens Enlistments

The recent freeze on Air Force enlistments will be lifted Feb. 1, according to Sgt. Winfield Pickett, recruiting sergeant for the army and Air Force in Dunn.

At that time, Sgt. Pickett said today, men without previous military service will again be eligible for enlistment, but the number to be accepted daily from the local recruiting station will be low.

The freeze did not affect the enlistment of men with previous military service and aviation cadets, nor to the enlistment of women.

The reason for sharply reducing the number of men who can be accepted daily was the overcrowded conditions at the training centers. Since Christmas, recruiting stations all over the country have been swamped with applicants for enlistment (Continued on Page Two)

Hitting Road And Bottle Leaves Four Offenders Flat

Hitting the road and the bottle simultaneously meant empty wallets for four defendants who appeared before Lillington Recorder's Court Judge Floyd Taylor Tuesday.

Tracy Paschal McLeod of Durham, Willie Hall of Erwin, Harvey Smith of Angler and Elmore Turnage of Erwin all paid fines of $100 and costs for driving drunk. All of the men were directed to surrender their operators' licenses for a year.

Mattie Lucas Butler of Erwin, Rt. 1, paid up $25 and costs when Judge Taylor took a dim view of her allowing a 13-year-old minor to drive her automobile.

SONNY TILGHMAN HAS EXTRAORDINARY JOB
Sonny Tilghman, looking just as handsome and still bubbling over with personality and enthusiasm, popped into town last weekend for a visit with his brother, Myres, and other friends and relatives here. Sonny is always a sight for sore eyes. He's the sort of fellow everybody loves to be around. And he was "just made" for the job he holds now in the public relations department of the Seaboard Railroad.

We should have said "position" instead of job, because Sonny has a big job and he's now paying income tax in the higher brackets. "I just love my job," declared Sonny, when he dropped by The Record office for a visit and a talk about the old days when we used to hang around The Daily Bulletin office.

He has just come from St. Petersburg, Florida, where he looked after a big, beautiful boat entered by the railroad. This week, he's up in Pleasantville, New York selling The Readers' Digest a story of interest along the Seaboard route.

We congratulated Sonny on his new job, and we also congratulate the Seaboard for its good fortune in securing him. There's no doubt (Continued on Page 8)

Surgeon Will Speak On Atomic Effects

Members of the Harnett County Medical Society will hear a lecture on the physiological effects of the atomic bomb at its next meeting, to be held in the Dunn Armory Wednesday evening.

Major Spurgeon H. Neel, Jr., division surgeon for the 82nd Airborne Division, stationed at Fort Bragg, will be guest speaker. The medical officer is a specialist in the study of atomic effects, having graduated from the Atomic Energy Course at the Army Medical Center in Washington, D. C.

The meeting will be in the nature of a follow-up of the last meeting of the society, when members heard Dr. Walton Kitchin of Clinton outline a program of action which will be put into use if atomic bombing should come to Harnett County.

STATE DIRECTORS INVITED
At the meeting, the management of the two hospitals in the county, as well as civilian defense officials of the county, will be guests of the society. E. Z. Jones, director of the state civil defense setup, has been invited to attend.

Arranged by Dr. G. L. Hooper, Dunn dentist, the program is scheduled for 7 p. m.

The guest speaker is a graduate of the College of Medicine of the University of Tennessee. He entered the army in 1943 and served with General Hodges' First Army, later moving to the Pacific, where he moved into the areas which felt the first atomic bombing the world has witnessed.

Informed sources said the Arab-Asian bloc, led by India, would ask the United Nation's Political Committee for priority on a vote on their resolution, thus delaying again American plans to brand Peking an aggressor.
