1,000 Fort Bragg Troops Leave For Arctic Maneuvers

FORT BRAGG, April 13—More than 1,000 paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division left here yesterday for arctic maneuvers in Alaska aboard 31 troop carrier planes from an Air Force base in Virginia.

The troops were to move to Elmendorf Field in Alaska to take part in "Operation Firestep"—the First Air Tactical Command's test of men and equipment in sub-freezing weather.

Seven troop transports were drafted from air bases in Tennessee, South Carolina and Washington, D. C., along with the planes from the Langley Air Force Base in Virginia, to fly the airborne fighters north on their three-day journey.

Two more candidates filed for office as Commissioner in Ward Four this morning, and a few minutes later Malcolm J. Jernigan arrived to pay his filing fee for mayor.

Passage of RFC Reorganization Plan Predicted

WASHINGTON, April 13—Senate Democratic Leader Ernest W. McFarland predicted President Truman's plan to reorganize the RFC would be approved by the Senate today by possibly one or two votes.

The plan to junk the five-man board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for a single administrator will go into effect on April 30 unless the Senate "vetoes" it today by approving a resolution by Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R., Ind., to kill it.

Many Republicans wish to kill the reorganization plan and then kill the government lending agency as well. A large number of Democrats want to reform the RFC and keep it in operation.

UN-AMERICAN — The House Un-American Activities Committee called in Screen Writer Paul Jarrico to answer testimony that he begged his old friend, writer Richard J. Collins, "not to turn stool pigeon" on Hollywood Communists.

Voters Will Decide Government Form At Poll Tomorrow

Dunn's polling place will open at 6:30 tomorrow morning to let the citizens settle a question which has generated a lot of heat and much more smoke during the past three months.

Registrar J. N. Creel, Jr., said today that, despite the intensity of opinions on both sides of the question of whether or not the city manager system of government will stay in or go out, a light vote is expected tomorrow.

The registrar said that roughly 1,100 persons have put their names in the new registration book. Both old and new books will be used in this election, however, he added.

ALTHOUGH roughly 3,500 persons in Dunn are eligible to vote in the issue, Creel said he did not expect anywhere near that number to show up at the Fire Station to vote.

AFTER the poll closes at 6:30 p.m. Dunn will know if the city manager-council form will be retained, or if the town will revert to the old mayor-council system.

Intimations that City Manager R. Thomas Hobbs, rather than the office he holds, is the issue in the election, have been voiced. Hobbs himself has declined to make any statement whatever on the issue involved.

The city manager did meet with voters today to urge all qualified voters to vote.

Jernigan, Godwin Join Election Race

The political battle grew still warmer in Dunn this morning as two more candidates filed for office.

Malcolm J. Jernigan, 56, widely-known Dunn resident, filed for the office of Mayor as "the people's candidate," and Lewis C. Godwin, prominent young grading contractor, filed for commissioner in Ward No. 4.

Candidate Jernigan, who stated he planned an all-out door-to-door campaign between now and April 30, said he is basing his campaign on opposition to the city manager form of government and in favor of the establishment of ABC stores in Dunn.

OPF CLINIC SLATED — A clinic to explain Office of Price Stabilization rulings will be held at the Old Courthouse in Fayetteville Tuesday from 2 to 8 p.m., according to the Dunn Chamber of Commerce. All merchants affected by OPF regulations are urged to attend.

WANTS CAPABLE BOARD

"If the citizens will put into office a capable mayor and four capable commissioners, they won't need any citizen manager to be a drain and a drag on the city finances," declared Jernigan.

"You mean by that," asked a reporter, "that the citizens should name for mayor a person with your ability and qualifications?"

Gen. MacArthur Will Return To Present Case

WASHINGTON, April 13—Gen. Douglas MacArthur will "lay his cards on the table" when he returns home next week undoubtedly to report to a joint meeting of Congress, a Republican Congressman said today.

MacArthur's intention to leave Tokyo Monday was announced as Republicans fired more charges that his dismissal means appeasement and a stalemate in Korea which perhaps could lead to World War III.

The appeasement charges were made by Senate Republican chiefs Robert A. Taft, Ohio, and Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb. The furor over President Truman's dismissal of the 71-year-old warrior grew and showed no sign of abating.

FLAYS APPEASEMENT — In Tokyo, MacArthur's closest adviser, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, took note of the appeasement issue. He said in a statement that (Continued on Page 7)

Driver Literacy Bill Goes To Senate In Modified Form

RALEIGH, April 13—The bill to prevent 16-year-olds from getting drivers licenses unless they can read and write headed back to the Senate today in a sharply modified form.

The House passed the measure yesterday but only after adopting a committee amendment. It said the only words an applicant would have to be able to read were those used on traffic signs, and it knocked out the writing requirement completely.

REBUKES COMMITTEE — The committee killing of the second veterans bonus referendum bill, drew a sharp rebuke late yesterday from Sen. Thomas Sawyer of Durham.

He complained that the Senate committee on propositions and grievances met in a "secret session" to act on his bill calling for a statewide vote on whether to pay veterans a bonus of $15, or $20 per month. That tactic, he added, was typical of "a certain element of the 1951 General Assembly who seem to believe that the people of North Carolina do not have intelligence enough to decide controversial issues by a Statewide referendum."

Size Estimated At 160,000 To 180,000 Troops

TOKYO, April 13—The Chinese Reds rushed 18 more divisions—160,000 to 180,000 men—to their sagging North Korean front today.

The reinforcements moved into position south of Pyongyang, the communist capital, to bolster Chinese forces retreating from Yonchon, seven miles north of the 38th Parallel on the Seoul-Pyongyang highway.

United Nations forces hit the entrenched communists with flame-throwers, rockets, bayonets and the heaviest artillery bombardments in two months, but their gains were measured only in yards. A communist counter-attack was repulsed southeast of Yonchon.

Allied guns killed or wounded an estimated 1,175 Reds in one bombardment alone yesterday south of the Hwachon reservoir. Enemy casualties along the whole front totaled 2,460 yesterday—more than twice as many as reported the previous two days.

The air war also reached a new pitch yesterday. Thirty-three communist MIG-15 jets were shot down or damaged by American planes in the greatest day of aerial battle since World War II.

More than 300 aircraft—115 American jets, 32 B-29 Superfortresses and at least 90 enemy jets—were engaged in the first of the (Continued on Page Three)

MacArthur — The MacArthur incident occupied almost as much attention around Capitol Square Wednesday as did the question of whether the legislature can advise whether the legislature can adopt a resolution expressing sentiment that slightly favors President Truman's order relieving General Douglas MacArthur of his command in the Orient.

EXTREMES — There are extreme minority views manifested in comment about the president being a necktie salesman and the general aspiring to be a military dictator.
