Golf Course At Detroit Tough

By FRALEY
Back in 1930 when Bobby Jones scored his golf grand slam they coined a phrase: "It's Jones against the field." They're dusting off the phrase for this year's National Open at Detroit's Oakland Hills—but the Jones referred to is Robert Trent Jones, noted golf Architect.

Oakland Hills is intent on providing a stiff golfing test and Jones has remodeled the course with the accent on traps which make it a long hitter's nightmare. He also carved into several greens to develop unusual shapes and contours... so unusual that some professionals claim that 295 will win—which is seven strokes over par.

Aged Negro

Lampley's case is "pathetic," since the $4 in pension money was all the cash Lampley and his family had to last another 30 days until the arrival of the next government check.

Lampley told Mrs. Stephens that his wallet was in his hip pocket when he got aboard his wagon to drive out to the grocery store. He conjectured that it must have worked loose from his pocket, fallen into the wagon, then to the ground. The veteran, who is about 60 years old and unable to work, Mrs. Stephens said, is quite honest and scrupulous.

She helped him send out a call via Station WCKB in an effort to recover the lost money. Then today she called The Record and asked that a further appeal be made for the return of Lampley's funds. Mrs. Stephens stressed that Lampley has no money with which to feed his family until the next check arrives in June. She urged that anyone finding Lampley's wallet return it intact to her at the store.

Cap Square

because they can't decide who will be the winner in next year's election. Newspaper and radio reporters who make the capitol beat also are eager to find out and be the first to publicize intentions of this or that prospective candidate. Actually the time for decision is not far ahead as one might think, because within ten and a half months the time for filing notice of candidacy for state office will have expired. The primary is about thirteen months off. Despite this fast narrowing margin of time, there is no more assurance now than there was a year ago—perhaps not as much about who is likely to enter the race. Capitol square doesn't like that and wants to rush decisions. To that end rumors have gained currency that certain men will announce around the first of May—and if the announcements are not forthcoming there may be baseless charges of bad faith. As a matter of fact one prospective candidate has already been ridiculed as vacillating and unable to make up his mind because he had not made formal statement of intent a month ago.

BIG JOB — There is reason for prospective candidates holding back as long as possible on definite commitments; but there is also necessity for starting a campaign early in order to make the rounds of the state. Kerr Scott for governor in 1948 and Willis Smith for U. S. senate in 1950 waged successful campaigns over a period of about five months, or less. Each will tell you it was available, we want to push it along as rapidly as feasible." The 1951 General Assembly appropriated $100,200 for the project. The farm would be managed by the Department of Agriculture, Ballentine said, but the State Experiment Station would conduct the research projects. Ballentine said peanut growers would be given opportunity to recommend sites for the farm before any definite action is taken in locating it. GREENSBORO, May 1—(AP)—William M. Jacobs, 40, pumped two bullets into his estranged wife's back and then killed himself as they stood behind the bus station here yesterday, police reported today. Marie Jacobs, 22, was seriously wounded by two .25 caliber pistol bullets which struck her in the back and hip. Jacobs was shot through the temple. Officers said the couple had been separated since December.

a nerve-racking and physically wearing business. And both will admit they left many things undone that would have been helpful there had been a little more time. Orderly visiting of every county will take about six months. Anybody who had had experience in a state political campaign knows there is no such thing as "orderly visiting." Schedules call for appearances in the far west one day, the far east next day, and entail thousands of miles of duplicating travel, even after candidates and campaign managers have done the best they can do in eliminating duplications and arranging dates in sequence.
