ALLIES PUSH ON IN FACE OF RED WITHDRAWAL

Dunn Officials Defer Firing Of Chief After Legal Ruling

Westbrook Makes Plea In Defense Of Police Chief

After a strong speech by one of Dunn's leading citizens and a ruling by City Attorney I. R. Williams that the action would be illegal, Dunn's city council last night delayed—at least temporarily—plans to fire Police Chief George Arthur Jackson.

In a surprise move, former Mayor Earl McD. Westbrook, who is one of this section's biggest business men, appeared before the board, and in vigorous speech, defended Chief Jackson, reminding the commissioners they had no authority to fire him, and told them that to replace him or have the city manager replace him would be "doing the wrong thing."

Mr. Westbrook, who served several terms as Mayor, minced no words in his remarks to the board.

The ex-mayor recalled his long association with Chief Jackson and told them that he had always found him cooperative and anxious to carry out the wishes of the city fathers.

NOT AN ISSUE
Chief Jackson was not an issue in the election, resulting in Mr. Westbrook's reelection to the three Citizens Committee Commissioners who have declared the people are demanding his ouster.

He recalled the case of Oscar R. Pearce, who was fired by Dunn's Veterans' Administration four years ago.

"They said Policeman Pearce was (Continued on Page Two)

UN Would Agree With U. S. To Bar Chinese Reds, Acheson Says

County Budget Of $282,000 Is Nearly Finished

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Secretary of State Dean Acheson asserted today that a majority of the United Nations Security Council will vote with the United States to keep Red China out of the UN.

"We don't expect to be in the minority," Acheson said. "We expect to be in the majority, and I think we can stay there as long as we give good, strong leadership to it."

In his fourth day of testimony before senators investigating the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the secretary was quizzed about U. S. plans for keeping the Chinese Communists out of the United Nations.

Acheson said a case might be made for using the country's UN veto power if necessary. But he said he does not believe that will be necessary.

The United States now as in the past, is ready to argue "powerfully" against admitting the Chinese Communists to the UN, Acheson said.

He added that this tactic has been successful in 7 past instances and "will be successful" in the future.

But if it should appear that the (Continued on Page 8)

County Commissioners today had the budget for the 1951-52 fiscal year nearly completed, but it awaits final approval the first Monday in July.

Biggest hurdle had been cleared with the approval yesterday of the school budget presented by the County Board of Education calling for current expenses of $54,426.34, a capital outlay of $144,563.40, and $83,220 for debt service.

Sidney G. Thomas of Broadway, chairman of County Board of Education, and J. R. Baggett of Lillington, board member, met with the commissioners as County Superintendent C. Reid Ross presented the budget item by item.

County Superintendent Ross told the members a tax rate of .044 in contrast to the .038 levied last year will be needed to support the (Continued on Page Six)

"White Only" Barriers At UNC Crumble

RALEIGH, June 5.—The legal "white only" barriers at North Carolina, oldest State University in the nation, crumbled today in a confusion of loose ends today in the wake of a Supreme Court decision which in effect will allow Negroes to enter the University's Law School.

However, neither State legal officials nor University spokesmen nor in fact even four Negroes seeking to enter the Law School—were quite sure how the issue stood at the moment.

The Supreme Court decision, handed down yesterday, refused to review a district court order holding that the Negro students might enter the University's Law School. The essence of that order was that facilities at the North Carolina College Law School in Durham and the University were not equal, and that the Negroes were entitled to the same instruction, study and training as whites.

END OF LEGAL TRAIL
Atty-Gen. Harry McMullan admitted that the high court's decision was legally the end of the Negroes from graduate schools. Only the formality of filing the district in the State's attempt to bar their court order remained, and he doubted whether University officials would wait for that to be completed before admitting the students.

However, the University's Law School was sitting tight and saying nothing. Clerks told reporters that Law School officials were out of town, and they didn't know whether (Continued on Page Five)

Gains Up To 3,000 Yards Are Reported

TOKYO, Wednesday, June 6.—(AP) — Mud-caked Allied doughboys swept 3,000 yards through empty Chinese Communist bunkers and trenches Tuesday after a sudden Red withdrawal from the outer bastions of the Chorwon line in central Korea.

The United Nations troops, striking across rugged, slippery mountains, drove deep into the defense belt laid down five years ago by the Russian-supervised North Korean Army.

This belt protects the great supply and troop assembly base, in what is called the "Iron Triangle" bastion bounded by Chorwon, Kumhwa and Pyongyang.

In addition to their surprise withdrawal below Chorwon the Reds pulled back 1,000 to 2,000 yards before Allied troops driving on Kumhwa, southeastern anchor point of the triangle. United Press War Correspondent Robert W. Gibson reported. But this was a fighting withdrawal.

Front dispatches indicated that the Communist withdrawal before Chorwon was made on a broad front. The Communists suddenly gave up their bitter resistance on the west-central front during the morning and pulled back to new positions closer to Chorwon, western anchor of the enemy's "Iron Triangle."

United Nations forces followed up the limited withdrawal with advances of 3,000 yards or more against light, scattered resistance.

Gains Are Limited
Farther east, stubborn Communist resistance limited Allied gains toward Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the "Iron Triangle," to 500 yards. Heavy fighting raged all along Kumhwa's southern approaches. Other bloody fighting was reported. (Continued on Page Six)

RULES — Revised rules of the Supreme Court, effective on and after July 1, will require earlier filing of records and briefs in cases on appeal. For the fall term of 1951 and subsequent terms until the rules are further changed, records must be filed 21 days before call of the district, instead of 14 days as formerly. Appellant's brief must be filed 14 days in advance instead of seven, and appellee's brief must be in seven days ahead of the date cases from that district will be called for argument, instead of three. Supreme Court Clerk Adrian Newton is this week sending out to every lawyer in North Carolina notice of the rule change along with the call calendar for the fall term.

DATES — The court will convene on the last Monday in August, and first cases will be called the following day, Aug. 28. That means records in appeals from the First, Twentieth and Twenty-first judicial districts must be filed before 10 o'clock Aug. 7, with appellant's briefs by noon Aug. 14 and (Continued on Page Five)

Soldiers Start To Work As Army Depot Group Moves In

The Army continued to dig in around Dunn Tuesday as the service business of turning the town into a supply depot for Exercise Southern Pine got under way.

More than 130 officers and enlisted men pulled into town Monday afternoon to fill out the complement of the 443rd Quartermaster Base Depot, the main unit to be stationed here during the summer-time maneuvers.

By early Tuesday morning they were busy converting the Dunn Armory into working space for the inevitable horde of paper-work specialists. In addition, some of the Army contingent will be housed in the armory.

The main group is bivouacked just south of Dunn on Mrs. Melissa

Meat Packers Cut Production, Say Can't Buy Beef

CHICAGO, June 5.—(AP) — Armour Co. announced today that it has been forced to cut production and lay off workers at plants across the nation because of inability to buy enough cattle under price ceilings.

Officials of the big meat packing firm said it has been forced to lay off half its beef-dressing employees at its Chicago plant, and has instituted "similar reductions" at other plants.

A spokesman for the CIO United Packinghouse Workers estimated the number laid off here at 1,000.

The Armour cutback followed a similar move by John Morrell and Co. at Ottumwa, Ia. Morrell announced "substantial" layoffs at its three plants in Ottumwa, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Topeka, Kan.

Both firms said that if they bought cattle at current prices they would top their ceilings for the current accounting period.

Meanwhile, the number of cattle shipped by farmers to the nation's 12 major markets today continued the downward trend begun yesterday. Shipments today totaled only 27,600 head today, compared with 42,000 last Tuesday.

during their accident rates 40 percent or more during any calendar year. Qualification of industrial plants for the Certificate of Safety Achievement is one phase of the Labor Department's Manpower Conservation Program, which also includes safety education work and periodic inspection drives.

Council Reappoints Dunn Zoning Board

Dunn's zoning board was reappointed last night by the city council.

George Franklin Blalock is chairman of the board, which rules on building and construction, and C. T. Latimer is secretary-treasurer of the board.

Other members are: Dr. Marvin Poole, Al Wullenwaber, and Robert Draughon.

Mayor Ralph E. Hanna said he favored reappointment of the present board and the commissioners voted their approval.

The question of reappointment of the board arose last night over the request of J. Leon Godwin for permission to locate a proposed chicken-dressing and processing plant in the city.

Upon advice of the city attorney, the matter was referred to the zoning board.

Attorney Max McLeod represented Mr. Godwin at the hearing and asked the board to take no action on a petition protesting the operation of his hatchery here and opposing the processing plant.

"Since 1942," pointed out Attorney McLeod, "Mr. Godwin has operated a business here which has been a definite asset to the town." He said the hatchery was (Continued on Page Six)

Mrs. L. R. Norris of Dunn gets a free one-year subscription to The Daily Record because she was the first to identify Mrs. Carrie Holland as the shopper pictured in last Tuesday's page advertising Wednesday Morning Surprises.

Mrs. Norris was quick, and it was a good thing for her, too. Because 62 other people also correctly identified Mrs. Holland.

No sooner had Mrs. Norris hung up than Mrs. Ralph Snipes phoned. And the calls kept coming—63 of them, by actual count. Calls were received from Benson, Erwin, Coats and Lillington, as well as from Dunn.

Eleven letters were also received by The Record. Another shopper is pictured in the page in today's Record. So you have another chance to win.

Grammar Schools To Get Fences

Harnett County school children may share the sentiments of the popular tune, "Don't Fence Me In," but their parents will no doubt be happy to know that fences are in prospect at four elementary schools. Request for money to build fences near traffic areas at Boone Trail, Coats, Mary Stewart and Buie's Creek Schools were approved Monday by the commissioners in the new school budget.

Beginning in 1951 high school graduates will get free diplomas. A new item in the school budget tentatively approved by the county commissioners listed $800 to buy uniforms and diplomas. Previously, high school graduates, in each of the schools had to buy their diplomas. (Continued on Page Five)

Joe The Cleaner Gets Safety Award

Joe the Cleaner, operated by O. M. "Joe" Leslie, has been awarded a certificate of safety achievement signed by State Labor Commissioner Forrest H. Shuford for having done an outstanding job of accident prevention during 1950.

The certificate cites Joe the Cleaner for having made an outstanding record in the field of accident prevention last year and for preventing the human suffering and economic loss which are caused by industrial accidents.

The award is presented to establishments which qualify by having perfect safety records, having accident rates at least 75 per cent below the State average, or by re-

Issue All Supplies

The 443rd will issue all supplies used by the thousands of troops who will romp up and down Harnett County during the maneuvers.

Col. Murdoch K. Goodwin of Philadelphia, Pa., commanding officer of the 443rd, said that supplies will begin arriving around June 18. At the peak of the maneuvers, the depot here will receive and issue around 350 tons of supplies per day.

State News Briefs

WILSON, June 5.—Police held Marshall Keen, 35-year-old, Wilson County farmer, today to face the charges growing out of a near-fatal shooting which he said he "didn't remember anything about."

Deputy Sheriff George T. Winstead said Keen fired a shotgun blast through the windshield of a truck, injuring two men riding in it.

Willie Lee Ellis, 30, owner of the truck, was seriously injured. Winstead said, and Heber Mills, 23, was wounded in the arm.

Winstead said the shooting took place at Keen's home near here.

GREENSBORO, June 5.—This city held its first liquor election in 46 years today and despite cloudy skies early balloting indicated a record vote for an off-election.

Victor Gregory, Benson business and civic leader, has been hired as manager of the New Orringer Pickle Company receiving station.

The announcement was made today by Lewis Lawrence, manager of the Benson Chamber of Commerce, which is helping to promote the establishment of a pickle plant in Benson.

About 85 acres of cucumbers for the receiving station have been planted by farmers in the Benson area. Lawrence said. He added that the Benson Chamber has been instrumental in obtaining the acreage for the cucumbers.

Grading machines for the receiving station is being installed today, Lawrence stated.

Lawrence also announced that the Chamber of Commerce office has been moved to Market St. across from the Town Hall.

MASONS TO MEET
An emergent communication of Palmyra Lodge, Dunn Masons, has been called for 8 o'clock Thursday night at the lodge hall. The Masons will enter an apprentice into the order.

STRANGER THAN FICTION — Few know G. E. will believe it, but these 443rd Quartermaster Base Depot officers were actually working when The Record's photographer snapped them Tuesday. They were clearing out the floor of their tent, pitched at the army mess area on Mrs. Melissa Butler's farm. Left to right are: Capt. Joseph J. Friedman, Capt. Howard J.
