Senate Group Votes Extension On Wage, Price, Rent Controls HURLEY SAYS FDR NOT TO BLAME AT YALTA

Ban On Price Rollbacks Will Be Maintained WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee voted 12-1 today to extend wage, price and rent controls for eight months, but refused to reserve its previous decision to ban price rollbacks.

Only Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., voted against the eight-month price-wage-rent control extension, which is far short of the tough two-year extension sought by President Truman.

At a stormy closed door session, the Senate committee defeated, 8 to 5, a proposal by Sen. Paul H. Douglas to extend the present controls law for 12 months "as is," with rent control added.

Chairman Burnett R. Maybank, D., S. S., said the committee will report the bill to the Senate tomorrow so debate can begin Monday. The present controls law expires June 30.

Contains Changes The bill that goes to the Senate contains these changes from the present law:

- 1. Wage, price and rent controls are extended eight months beyond June 30. Most other control authority is continued one year to June 30, 1952. Certain government contract authority continues to June 30, 1953.

2. Rent controls are put under the General Controls Program. The bill keeps federal ceilings in areas (Continued on Page 7)

Balanced Budget WASHINGTON, June 21—(UP)—Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee said today that the $7,200,000,000 tax boost, coupled with government economy, should balance the budget. Doughton thought the committee recommended $7,200,000,000 tax hike is as much as the nation can stand at present. Many Republicans thought it too much. UN Troops Retake Kaesong From Reds

TOKYO, June 21—(AP)—United Nations troops drove back into Kaesong, last major Communist-held city south of the 38th Parallel, on the Korean western front today.

Kaesong, 35 miles northwest of Seoul and three miles south of the parallel, was the first city to fall to the Communists in their invasion of South Korea last June 25.

UN patrols pushed into Kaesong before dawn today and again this afternoon against little or no enemy opposition. Red forces still hold high ground overlooking Kaesong from the northwest, however, and the Allies apparently made no immediate attempt to occupy the city.

The 38th Parallel passes through the enemy-held heights and the new Red troops on the southern slopes are the last Communist soldiers remaining below the pre-war boundary.

From Kaesong, the UN line angles sharply northwest to a point 20 miles above the parallel north of Chorwon and thence almost due east to the Sea of Japan coast.

An 8th Army communique put Communist strength in the hills northwest of Kaesong at 1,000 men. It also reported that UN forces above Inje on the east-central front repulsed a counter-attack by 500 or more Red troops.

Tank-infantry teams roaming no-man's-land all along the 100-mile Korean front thrust as much as 4 1/2 miles north of the main UN line against light to moderate opposition.

Gordon Gray Tapped As Propaganda Agency Head

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—The administration, for the second time within a year, has set up a special board to improve United States propaganda in the war of ideas.

President Truman tapped Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina, to head the new group, known as the Psychological Strategy Board.

Truman instructed the group to develop "more effective planning, coordination and conduct . . . of psychological operations."

Creation of the new board reduces the influence of Edward W. Barrett, assistant secretary of State in charge of propaganda. Barrett, in addition to his State Department job, had headed an inter-departmental propaganda board set up last August.

Barrett's board will continue to function, but it will be out-ranked by the new group. Members of the new group are Undersecretary of State James E. Webb, Deputy Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett and Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith, director of the Central Intelligence Agency. Gray will receive $18,000 a year from the government, and return to his campus duties at Chapel Hill from time to time, the White House announced.

Gray's board will report only to the National Security Council, which is headed by Truman.

Bad Ammunition Gets Blame For LeJeune Tragedy

CAMP LEJEUNE, June 21—(AP)—Bitter, saddened Marines who saw their buddies cut down by mortarfire on a training mission said they felt sure the tragedy was caused by bad ammunition.

Investigators were still questioning expert weapons crews to find out why two mortar shells fell short of their target, killing eight Marines and wounding 23 others. But in the eyes of the men on the problem, it was clearly an accident.

The men had been gathered around a battalion command post when the two 86-millimeter shells ploughed in, showering destruction in every area. Members of the company who escaped told reporters they were in a heavily wooded area, near the New River.

The shells struck simultaneously, one private said.

SCENE WAS HORRIBLE "At first I didn't know what happened. I heard the whistle of the shells and they seemed to be coming too close. When the shells struck, I was knocked to the ground by the blast, and dazed for a few moments. When I got up, men were screaming all around me. It was horrible."

A sergeant in another unit, about 25 yards back, said he thought the first shell hit a tree and was deflected into the CP before it exploded.

"We were operating about 2,000 yards forward of the battalion command post in an area that housed (Continued on Page 7)

Herring Opens Motor Parts Firm

"You can tell all my old customers I'm back on the corner where I used to be," J. T. Herring remarked when he opened Herring Motor Parts, Inc., for business yesterday.

The new firm is located on the northeast corner of S. Clinton Ave. and E. Cumberland St., where Herring worked for five years with the local Dodge and Plymouth dealer.

Herring said his firm is stocked to deal in a complete line of automotive parts and accessories. Most of his business will be wholesale, he said, but he will also sell retail items.

A native of Sampson County and a graduate of Herring High School between Dunn and Clinton, Herring has lived in Dunn for a major part of the past 16 years, except for a short stint in the Army during World War II.

He first came to work for an oil company here, then left after five years to enter the Army early in 1942. In 1943 he received his discharge and went to work for the Dodge and Plymouth concern. Later he operated a filling station here for three years.

Herring attends the First Baptist Church here and is a member of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He is married to the former Lee Spell of Sampson County. The Harrings, who live at 609 S. King Ave., have two children—a girl, age four-and-a-half, and a son born only six days ago.

President Was 'Very Sick Man'

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—Former Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley said today that the late President Roosevelt "was not to blame for the Yalta surrender" because Roosevelt was a "very sick man" at the time.

Testifying before the Senate MacArthur investigating committee, Hurley urged that Congress dig out all the facts about what he called "immoral and cowardly" and for a long time secret concessions made to Russia at Yalta in February, 1945.

In this connection Hurley noted that Alger Hiss, now in prison for perjury in connection with pre-war Communist espionage, was an adviser at the Yalta conference to the late Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Concerning Roosevelt, Hurley said: "I feel certain not only from the record at Yalta but in subsequent conversations with him that he was not to blame for the Yalta surrender." He added that the president was "already a very sick man."

DENIED BY PHYSICIAN Roosevelt died on the following April 12 of a brain hemorrhage. His physician, Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, has said repeatedly that the President was not sick at Yalta.

In his second day of testimony Hurley continued a bitter assault launched yesterday against Secretary Dean Acheson and the State Department.

Hurley also gave the committee a lengthy and detailed report on the bitter differences between Chiang Kai-shek and the late Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, and his own efforts to get Stilwell appointed commander of all American and Chinese troops in the China area.

The effort broke down, he said, because of Stilwell's outspoken criticism of Chiang—a man the general referred to as "the Peanut"—and because of a tart message from Roosevelt which Chiang took as a glow in the solar plexus.

It was at Yalta in February, 1945, that the Western Allies promised Russia vital concessions in Manchuria and elsewhere in return of a pledge that the Soviets (Continued on Page 7)

Oil Seizure Is Approved

TEHRAN, Iran, June 21—(AP)—The Iran parliament unanimously approved seizure of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company today while crowds stormed the firm's main offices to raise the national flag.

Police did not try to stop the Iranian crowds who shouted anti-British slogans and ripped down signs inside and outside the building. The Iranian government began taking over the company's installations in the southern oil fields yesterday.

Premier Mohamed Mossadegh won his vote of confidence by 99 to 0, with one absentee. Several persons cheered and waved banners and flags outside parliament as the premier told parliament he needed the confidence vote because "the company must go."

ATTACKS REBUTTAL Mossadegh spoke for 20 minutes. He said the oil dispute with Britain had reached "new stage" with the seizure of the AIOC installations. He read and attacked the British reply to Iran's final note (Continued on Page 7)
