TWUA Seeking To Oust Rieve In Union Fight

NEW YORK — Emil Rieve, president of the huge Textile Workers Union of America CIO, refused comment today on a full-fledged revolt against his leadership which was started when 400 insurgent members pledged $100,000 to a war chest.

A spokesman in his office, however, said the movement "indicated a desire to split the union" and likened it to a similar revolt among the textile workers when the CIO was organized in 1937.

LED BY BALDANZI

The insurgent leaders, claiming to represent at least one third of the membership, were led by George Baldanzi, the union's executive vice president. They declared that Rieve had used his appointive power to set up a handpicked "totalitarian organization."

The group declared that at the union's next biennial convention to be held in Cleveland in April, it would urge that Rieve be stripped of his right to name salaried union officials.

Pétain Dies On Ile D'Yeu

ILE D'YEU, France — Former Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain, World War I hero and disgraced traitor of World War II, died in exile today on this barren Atlantic island.

Pétain will be buried as he lived the last six years of his life in exile. His family will arrange a Catholic funeral for him here and he will be buried in the small island cemetery.

His family will select his burial clothes and without doubt will choose the uniform he disgraced—that of a marshal of France. On his chest will be France's highest decoration, the Médaille Militaire.

Between the time he defeated the Germans at Verdun in 1916—for which he was called the "hero of Verdun"—and the days he became the symbol of French defeat by collaborating with the Germans as head of Vichy, he was idolized by France.

Pétain died at 9:22 a. m. 3:22 a. m. EST today in a hospital room into which a cheap black coffin had already been moved by guards.

HST MAY ACCEPT

WASHINGTON — President Truman promised today to give "careful consideration" to an invitation to speak Oct. 15 in Winston-Salem, N. C., at the ground-breaking for Wake Forest College's new campus.

Wake Forest President Harold W. Tribble said Mr. Truman showed cordial interest when the invitation was extended.

Reds Hit By Allied Planes

WASHINGTON — President Truman told Congress today that we may have "to raise our sights" and undertake a still greater defense program—whether there is peace or continued war in Korea.

Mr. Truman said the world situation is being reviewed to determine whether the nation's present goals are high enough. Whatever happens in Korea, he said, the United States must keep its eye on other trouble spots and on Russia, which he accused of trying to "blackmail" the free world into surrendering to communism.

MOBILIZATION APPEAL He made a fresh appeal for driving ahead with the mobilization program in his annual mid-year economic report. He had no major new proposals, but he again made requests which Congress has denied so far or has been willing to grant only in part.

Truman said that despite the Korean War and the mobilization program, "our economy is stronger now than it was when the defense buildup started."

"Where we go from here depends on the decisions made by the Congress," he said. "We can drive ahead on the course of the present defense program or we can retreat. The safety and welfare of our country require that we go ahead."

The president emphasized his belief that peace in Korea would not end the Communist threat to world peace. Truman's report and an accompanying report of his Economic Council were threatened with warnings that inflation still is a serious danger to the nation.

Council Interviews Manager Applicants

Dunn's city council had renewed hopes today of finding a city manager to fill the office that has been vacant here since May 21.

Saturday night the council had a special meeting to interview the applicants for the post. One now serves as a city manager in the State and the other is serving in another State.

Mayor Ralph Hanna said that both are good men and that either would be acceptable. The interviews lasted until late in the night and the commissioners made no decision on which of the two applicants to employ.

The mayor said hopes were strengthened when both of the city managers reported that they were active in their churches. One is a Baptist and the other a Methodist.

Allied Negotiators Stand By For Ninth UN-Red Truce Meet

By Robert C. Miller UP Staff Correspondent PEACE CAMP, Korea — United Nations cease-fire negotiators returned to this base today amid indications that the Reds may back down on their demand for immediate withdrawal of U. N. troops from Korea.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy and the four other members of the U. N. negotiating team landed in five helicopters from Seoul to stand by for the ninth truce meeting with the Communists.

The conference was recessed Saturday until 11 a. m. Wednesday (8 p. m. Tuesday EST) to give the Reds time to reconsider the Allies' refusal to make the withdrawal of U. N. troops from Korea a condition of an armistice.

Joy agreed to the recess, but said the U. N. team would be ready to resume the talks sooner if the Communists desired.

CONFERENCE WITH RIDGWAY Chief U. N. Negotiator Joy and two other members of the Allied team, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke, spent the weekend in Tokyo conferring with Supreme U. N. Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges and South Korean Maj. Gen. Park Sun Yup, the other two Allied negotiators, remained in Seoul.

The Chinese Communist mouthpiece in Hong Kong, the newspaper Ta Kung Pao, suggested that the Communists may withdraw their demand for withdrawal of "foreign" troops from Korea as part of an armistice.

Although Peiping and Pyongyang, the Communist capitals, remained silent, Ta Kung Pao indicated the Reds do not intend to let the cease-fire talks break down over this issue.

BETTER NEWS PROMISED It said the troop withdrawal issue should not cause pessimism and predicted: "Better news will come after the three-day recess."

Unofficial United Nations circles said the chances for peace in Korea (Continued on Page 7)

Messages of condolence piled up aboard the Mt. Olympus. Among them was one from Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, with whom Sherman had opened American-Spanish defense talks a week ago.

Mrs. Sherman remained beside her husband's body for two hours yesterday, then took off for the United States in the plane that was to have taken them both home.
