Teen Tattle Tales

By Linda Aycock

Everyone interested in becoming a part of the Dunn Little Theatre group, please attend the next meeting on August 15th at the home of Mrs. Paul L. Strickland at 8 o'clock. After such a good beginning, we want to grow bigger and better with each performance. So come on folks and get in something worth your effort and time.

Tommy Waggoner: "Darling, you are the most beautiful girl in the world. I love you, must have you, I can't live without you. Will you marry me?"

Kack Butt: "Who me?"

Our vote for the cutest steady couple in town goes to Stacy and Gaye.

What ever happened to two couples we know? Any way, all four are now playing the field and evidently the broken hearts have healed.

Attention, All Girls!!! Woody Hill and Ronnie Kimmell are on the loose. Better run when you see them!!

Joe Andrews: "Does she know anything about cars?"

Pete Skinner: "Naw—she thinks you cool the motor by stripping the gears!"

Everyone is still out at the swimming pool keeping cool these hot days. Seems that we are not at all interested in even thinking about going back to school. Can you blame us?

Conductor (to people standing): "Pass farther down the bus please."

Frank Sprull: "It ain't father—it's gran' father!"

Katherine White has gone to High Point to spend a week with her friend, Kitty Marsh. Hurry back, Kack, we miss you!

Howard Hodges: "This dance hall is certainly crowded."

E. B. Dixon: "I'll say so. Half an hour ago I fainted and had to dance around the floor four times before I could fall."

Please Let Me Have:

Eyes like Daphne Parker's.

Hair like Martha Ann Butler's.

Nose like Fave Godwin's.

Lips like Adelaide Coats'.

Legs like Nancy Abernathy's.

Personality like Fleming Glover's.

Walk like Fannie Sue Turnage's.

That something of Dorothy Laughinghouse's.

Most of the college-bound lassies of this community (along with their mothers) attended the fashion show at Ivey Taylor's in Raleigh last Friday. The clothes were straight out of Mademoiselle and also out of this world. Just wait until the pappas get the bills—but by then the girls will be well situated in school and mother will have to take the brunt of his anger—"Pop always pays" still holds true.

Saturday night and Sunday afternoon the folks of Dunn viewed some of the finest horses and horsemanship ever seen in this section. We are grateful to the Lion's Club for bringing this fine show to our town and hope it will develop into an annual affair. Our local entries made a good showing too, and we offer congratulations to the winners!!

The Flea

I think that I shall never see,
An insect meaner than a flea,
A flea whose hungry mouth is pressed
All night against my ribs and chest.
A flea who chews on me all day,
And never stops to rest or play!
A flea who wanders through my hair,
And gnaws upon me here and there.
Who's caused me misery and pain
And made me want to raise just Cain.
Oh, when the Lord created me,
Why did he go and make—a flea?

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Jernigan announce the engagement of Mrs. Jernigan's sister, Miss Frances Harrell of Dunn daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harrell of Rocky Mount and New Bern, to Pfc. William F. Steers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Steers, Sr. of Livingston, N. J. The wedding will take place September 4, at the First Baptist Church parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams and children and Mrs. G. W. Williams, Sr., have returned to Dunn after spending several days in western North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Alsy Johnson and children were in Morehead City Sunday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Jones and son, former residents of Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mann are vacationing at Writingsville beach.

Mr. and Mrs. James Yates left Saturday on a vacation trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shep Bryan have returned from a trip to Nags Head and Manteo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams and children have returned from a vacation trip spent in the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina.

Bridge Club Has Guests Monday

Mrs. Leon McKay and Mrs. Mack Barefoot were guests of the Baker's Dozen Bridge Club when it met last night at 8 o'clock at the home of Miss Kitty Taylor.

Red roses decorated the living room of the Taylor home.

Miss Eleanor Goddard was winner of the club high award and Mrs. Barefoot compiled the highest guest score. Miss Jerry Cobb was given the consolation gift.

During play fruit punch and cheese wafers were passed and at the conclusion of the progressions the hostess served lemon sherbet, and cookies.

Club members playing were Misses Louise McGugan, Electa Maynard, Eleanor Goddard, Jerry Cobb Mrs. Paul L. Strickland, Jr., and the hostess.

SEE DISRUPTION

Wilson said the ban on the livestock slaughtering quota system "looks as if" it will disrupt the meat distribution system, concentrating supplies in the large packers at the expense of independents.

He said the independent packers "may face the choice of going out of business or entering the black market."

Wilson said that under the new act individual manufacturers can apply for price increases "on hundreds of thousands" of items. Under the law, he said, it will be very difficult if not impossible for the price of "rice, steel, aluminum to name a few" to increase as are "unreasonable or excessive."

The new act requires U.S. to list ceiling prices which all cost increases through July 25.

FACING REAL INFLATION

He urged Americans to realize that the solution is not a total ban on price increases, but rather a program of "selective control" of price increases.

At present there is a "ban on price increases" in certain commodities, but this is a "stop-gap" measure and is "not a permanent solution" to the problem of inflation.

The order, effective Saturday, was issued into yesterday as increasing inflationary shortages continue to intensify and the most urgent expansion.

BIGGEST BONANZA

A house subcommittee has described the tax concession program as the "biggest bonanza that ever came down the pike."

The subcommittee also accused the Defense Production Administration of "showing" out tax concessions indiscriminately.

Under the program, DPA permits firms to amortize the cost of their new five-year period investment construction over 25 years.

Ross Reunion Is Celebrated Sunday

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross held a reunion Sunday at "Summer Villa" near Lillington. All the children were present with the exception of Capt. Joe Hall Ross, who is in England on an assignment with the Air Force, and every grandchild attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Page Ross and daughters, Gayle and Betsy of Corpus Christi, Tex., arrived during the week to join their son Bobby, who has been spending the summer here with his grandparents.

Others present included: Mr. and Mrs. C. Reid Ross and daughter, Sue; Mr. and Mrs. Neill Ross and Vicki, Lois, Nell, Jr., Margaret Murchison and James Reid Ross; and Miss Betsy Ross, all of Lillington; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph

MR. AND MRS. JOHN KENNEDY WOODWORTH are shown here as they left Asbury Methodist Church in Salisbury, Maryland August 4 following their marriage. The Rev. J. Robert Mackey, pastor, assisted by Dr. Hamilton P. Fox officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony. White gladioli and palms, along with lighted tapers, formed the setting for the taking of the vows.

The bride is the former Miss Adlene Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Hopkins of Salisbury, Md. and Mr. Woodworth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Duke Woodworth of Erwin.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. H. Graham Haymah Jr. violinist, accompanied by David Kidder, church organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white embroidered nylon net cut on bouffant lines. She wore a matching bolero and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of Duchess lace. She carried a white orchid encircled with stephanotis.

Miss Mae Langrall served as maid of honor. Miss Christine Royer was the bridesmaid and Miss Charlotte Hopkins, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

A. D. Woodworth Jr. of Lillington was best man for his brother. Ushers were Paul B. Woodworth of Oak City, brother of the bridegroom, William C. Dodson Jr. of Durham, brother-in-law of the groom, William O. Pollard and Beley Romanc.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories and an orchid corsage, and the mother of the groom chose an orchid lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of stephanotis.

Mrs. Woodworth received her Masters degree at Duke University. Mr. Woodworth is also a graduate of Duke, and during World War II he served three years in the navy. He is now associated with American Insurance Group in public relations in Newark, N. J.

Gifts from the guests will be sent to the bride's home, 2514 S. 12th St., Salisbury, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Jernigan announce the engagement of Mrs. Jernigan's sister, Miss Frances Harrell of Dunn daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harrell of Rocky Mount and New Bern, to Pfc. William F. Steers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Steers, Sr. of Livingston, N. J. The wedding will take place September 4, at the First Baptist Church parsonage.

BORDER BELT (By United Press)

Early prices varied considerably from market to market today on the Border Belt, but general indications of a steady upward trend were apparent.

Opening sales at Fayetteville were running around 49 per hundred on the average, or about $3 per hundred higher than last week's levels. Quality dropped sharply, however, from yesterday's offerings. Primings and hogs still predominated sales, with the amount of nondescript falling off steadily.

Wreckage

in her flaming third-floor apartment tossed her eight-month-old baby into the outstretched arms of her husband standing 25 feet below.

Some of the tenants leaped from windows and fled down fire escapes in a mad scramble to flee. Others never knew what hit them, and never had a chance to escape.

"The whole building seemed to come apart," said John F. Thomas, 24, who leaped from the third floor to get out of the building.

"For a minute I didn't know what to do. My wife opened the door and flames shot in. She shut it again. The fire escapes were blocked. I finally opened a window.

By then the flames were coming into our apartment. I leaped to the ground, about 25 feet down on the run behind the apartment. Julia threw the baby at me and I caught him. Then she jumped out."

CREW IS LOST

The plane's crew of six, three Air Force men and three Boeing engineers, and five residents of the apartment house were known dead.

The estimate of the number of additional victims were hazy because an account of the building were destroyed in the fire.

Rogers arrived at his estimate of five to seven bodies still in the wreckage by figuring the number of transients in the building and the number of persons thought to be at work when the crash occurred.
