Miss Shirley Raynor Becomes Bride Of Charles Smith

The Dunn First Presbyterian Church was the scene of a wedding last night at 8 o'clock when Miss Shirley Raynor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Raynor of Dunn became the bride of Charles Smith of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith of Dunn. The vows were spoken before the Rev. R. R. Gammon, pastor of the church, and the single ring ceremony was used.

The chancel of the church was decorated with a background of Southern smilax and fern. Tall baskets of large white chrysanthemums were also used. The scene was lighted by candles in seven branched candelabra.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. M. M. Jernigan, organist. Miss Carolyn Westbrook sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" and as a benediction "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of white candlelight satin and chantilly lace. The neckline of the dress, giving a drop shoulder effect was fitted in with lace. The full skirt was gathered into a tightly fitted bodice and extended to a cathedral train. Long fitted sleeves featuring scroll work ended in points over her hands and her full-length veil of imported silk illusion fell from a heart shaped pleated headpiece outlined an seed pearls. Her bouquet was tuberoses and orchids centered in white malle.

Miss Shirley Jane Johnson attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in an ankle length dress of mulberry red featuring a strapless velvet top with matching jacket. The jacket gave an off-the-shoulder effect with its portrait neckline and the bouffant skirt of net was gathered into a fitted bodice. She wore a pleated bandeau in her hair and her arm bouquet was of white chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jackie Johnson, Bruce Dickey, Libby Raynor, Patsy Cromartie, Betty Cathy and Mrs. Bruce Byrd. They were dressed in identical fashion to the maid of honor and also carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Smith attended his son as best man and ushers were Gene and William Driver, Robert Smith of Dunn and W. H. Whitman of Arlington, Va.

Mrs. Raynor chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of dusty rose lace with pink mitts. Her corsage was a lavender orchid.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a dress of aqua crepe with matching accessories and a lavender orchid was pinned at her shoulder. Mrs. J. H. Raynor, grandmother of the bride, was attired in black and wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Cates of Erwin wore a gown of wood-violet with white roses.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception at their home on W. Carr St.

Mrs. J. W. Driver greeted guests at the door and Mrs. Ed Wellborn introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the wedding party and the bride and bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Herman Greene invited the guests from the living room which was decorated in white and green into the dining room. Mrs. W. H. Whitman of Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Alsey Johnson of Dunn served punch from the dining room table. A centerpiece of chrysanthemums, pom-poms and lilies was used and white colonial nosegays marked the four corners of the table. Bridal ices, cakes, nuts and mints were also served.

The bride's book was presided over by Mrs. Otis Warren and goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Sykes of Rocky Mount and Mrs. M. M. Jernigan of Dunn.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a dark brown fitted suit with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. Smith was graduated from Dunn High school and attended Marjorie Webster College in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Smith was graduated from Dunn High School. He also served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and is currently employed in Washington, D. C.
