STOP-SHOOTING PACT EXPECTED

Veep Implies He And Truman To Run Again

LOS ANGELES. — (AP) — Vice President Alben W. Barkley implied last night that he and President Truman will be the Democratic standard bearers in 1952 "to preserve democracy."

In an impassioned, hour-long speech to Democrats from 11 Western states at a $100-a-plate campaign fund-raising dinner, Barkley urged party members to stand squarely on the "magnificent record of performance" of the Truman administration.

At the conclusion of the text of his prepared speech, he said, "No President and Vice President ever have worked more closely together than Harry S. Truman and I."

"We will stand on our record next year. We ask the people for another lease of power to preserve Democracy."

Some party members assumed that by "we," Barkley meant himself and the President, but others believed he referred only to the party. The Vice President did not enlarge on the reference.

He said the current administration's record was one of "unmatched accomplishment never even approached by any other political regime in the history of the nation" and urged Democrats to combat "lack of faith" in some party quarters.

DREW OVATION The Vice President drew a two-minute standing ovation from 2,000 persons who braved 87-degree heat in the Palladium ballroom to attend the dinner.

He said the Democratic party invited companions with any other political party and added, "I ask the American people what they offer as a substitute for the foreign policy of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson."

Barkley called on voters to "trace the record of the Truman administration in Greece and Korea" (Continued on Page Seven)

BAPTIST LEADERS END MEETING — The Sunday School clinic held at the First Baptist Church here last week for Baptist churches in this section was hailed as a big success. Heading the group of leaders here for the event was Perry Morgan, center, of Ridgecrest, a Dunn native who climbed to the top in State Baptist Circles. He served for years as State Baptist Training Union Director, a post now held by his son, James Morgan, as State Sunday School Secretary, and then manager of Ridgecrest. He is now manager of the Boys' Camp at Ridgecrest. He is shown here with two old friends, Mack M. Jernigan, left, and City Judge H. Paul Strickland, right.

Hopes Revived For Early Peace In Korea

UN ADVANCE BASE, Korea (AP) — Observers today predicted a "stop-shooting" agreement within 30 days as accord on Pan Mun Jom as a site for resumption of the Korean armistice talks revived hopes of an early cease-fire.

Pointing to a note of compromise on the conference site and a softer tone in the last Communist message to Gen. Matthew H. Ridgway, the observers foresaw a truce coming at the most before winter grips the fighting front.

It was this last Red message that proposed Pan Mun Jom for resumption of the talks.

Ridgway agreed to the new site in a note delivered to the Communists at Pan Mun Jom at 8 a.m. Tuesday (6 p.m. Monday EST). Pan Mun Jom will replace Kaesong, five miles to the northwest, where the Reds broke off the truce talks Aug. 23.

MEETING TODAY The U. N. supreme commander's message also asked the Communists to send their liaison officers to Pan Mun Jom at 10 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. Tuesday EST) to arrange for resumption of the cease-fire conference.

The Ridgway message was delivered by U. S. Marine Col. James C. Murray, a U. N. liaison officer, to North Korean Col. Chang Chum San. Its text had been announced in Tokyo Monday.

It was believed that N. S. Air Force Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior U. N. liaison officer, would represent the Allies at the liaison meeting. Chang probably will head the Communist delegation.

Negro Leaders Map Program For Civic Improvement Here

From a dormant group who came to listen, the colored leaders who attended the leadership meeting at the Harnett County Training School last night soon became imbued with the spirit of the community betterment ideas of City Manager Oliver O. Manning, and were transformed into an active enthusiastic group.

Practically every individual at the meeting had some problem to discuss, and each problem was fully discussed. The group was unanimous in expressing willingness to work with Manning on civic needs. After opening with prayer by Rev. C. D. McNeill, Jr., the meeting got underway rapidly. Manning pointed out that civic betterment was everybody's job. He contrasted the advantages of group rather than individual effort and stressed the (Continued on Page Seven)

Union Stages Big Barbecue

A total of 1,170 persons were served with a half pound of barbecue each at the outing held by the members of the Erwin local of the Textile Workers of America Saturday evening.

The feast was open to all the members of the local and among the other guests were all of the Erwin ministers, most of whom attended. Except for a report of the affairs of the Union by Business Manager J. Thomas West, the meeting (Continued on page two)

Congress Is Asked For Atomic Buildup

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — A congressional atomic expert today called for a 10-fold increase in money for atomic weapons and brushed off allegations of "waste and inefficiency" in the atomic program. Rep. Henry M. Jackson, D. Wash., a member of the joint atomic energy committee, made the plea for the big increase in spending in a speech prepared for delivery in the House. "SUPREME DETERRENCE" Jackson proposed that spending for atomic weapons be stepped up to between $6,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000 as compared to the $1,000,000,000 a year now. He called atomic weapons "the supreme deterrent against Kremlin aggression."

"Falling behind in the atomic armaments competition," Jackson said, "will mean national suicide. The latest Russian explosion means that Stalin has gone all-out in atomic energy. It is high time that we now go all-out."

He said there is "virtually no (Continued on page two)

Fatemi Declares Russia Won't Get Iranian Oil

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Hossein Fatemi, vice premier of Iran, pledged today that his country's oil will not fall into Soviet hands because of the dispute which Britain has brought to the United Nations.

While Mohammed Mossadeq, the 76-year-old Iranian premier, exhausted by his 33-hour plane trip from Tehran, rested at New York hospital for his Thursday appearance before the Security Council, his 34-year-old aide and chief adviser said in an exclusive interview:

"FALSE PROPAGANDA" "Britain has sought to spread false propaganda that Iran will fall or be pushed into the Soviet orbit if her demands are not satisfied. I do not think the National Front movement, the government party will go along with any 'international movement.'"

"We are not going to marry whoever says 'hello' to us." Speaking freely in his swank hotel suite, the little Iranian made this significant point: "In a political struggle between (Continued on Page Seven)

Freighter Rams Navy Tanker Off N.C. Coast

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — A freighter rammed a Navy tanker in the pre-dawn darkness about 12 miles off the North Carolina coast this morning but early reports said there were no casualties and neither ship was in danger of sinking.

Cmdr. G. E. Howarth of the Elizabeth City, N. C., Coast Guard air station, said that the SS Suamico, a Liberty-type ship, about 40 miles from the entrance to Norfolk through Chesapeake bay.

47 ABOARD There were 47 men aboard the Suamico but the number aboard the Saxon was not learned in early reports. A plane from the air station reached the scene at 5:25 a. m., Howarth said.

"The Suamico had a large gaping hole amidships but did not appear to be listing," he said. "The Saxon was about two miles off with her bow damaged above the water line but in no apparent trouble."

The plane directed the cutter Barataria to the scene and both damaged vessels started for port under their own power, the commander added. The cutter Marion arrived later and also is escorting the vessels. The ships were expected to reach (Continued on page two)

REA To Pick Beauty Queen

There have been numerous beauty contests to select a beauty queen for various organizations, including the one to select Miss America but the contest which has aroused the most interest among rural femininity in our area is the search for Miss South River REA.

The REA contest, to choose a beauty queen, will be on a local, state and national level. The queen for the area served by the South River Membership Corporation will be selected here on November 18.

This winner will go to Raleigh to compete with representatives of 17 other REA queens for the state title on November 29. The winner of the Raleigh contest will go to Chicago in March to compete for the National title.

CASH PRIZE AND TRIP The winner from this district will receive a $50 cash award, and an all-expense trip to Raleigh with her chaperone. The winner of the Raleigh contest will receive a complete wardrobe and an all-expense trip to Chicago with her chaperone.

Three judges will select the local winner on a point system, based on an appraisal of the contestant's beauty, poise and talents. Some points will be allowed for past achievements.

Any daughter of an REA member between the ages of 16 and 22 is eligible. Thirteen district queens have already been chosen in the state.

BULLETINS

PHILADELPHIA. — (UP) — Thomas H. Holmes, Jr., 21, was discharged from the Air Force 11 days ago after 25 bombing missions over Korea in which he escaped unscathed. Yesterday, while painting the front door of his father's house, young Holmes lost his balance and fell four feet from the doorstep—suffering a possible skull fracture.

PLATEVILLE, WIS. — (UP) — John R. Speth killed himself with a rifle loaded with a blank cartridge yesterday. J. Dallas Wepking, Grant County coroner, said Speth, 54, was shot in the face and the close-range blast of the .30 caliber blank cartridge was powerful enough to kill him.

DALLAS. — (UP) — Offices of a new Texas-for-Eisenhower club were opened in downtown Dallas today with the purpose of organizing support for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's nomination for President in 1952. Mrs. Allen M. Currie, active Republican Party leader in Dallas County, said the "rank and file" of Texas want the general elected but "he's got to be nominated by a political party" first.

SAN FRANCISCO. — (UP) — CIO radio operators were hopeful today of winning approval from the Wage Stabilization board of a $39 monthly pay increase they recently negotiated with steamship owners, otherwise, they won't sail.

NEW BERN. — (UP) — New Bern police today sought a hit and run driver who struck and fatally injured a three-year-old girl on a downtown street yesterday. No one saw the accident and police said the driver may not have known (Continued on Page Seven)

Reynolds Pitches Yankees Back Into Series, DiMaggio Homers

By LEO H. PETERSEN (UP Sports Editor) NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees were the aggressors for the first time today as they called on left-hander Eddie Lopat to face New York Giant righthander Larry Jansen in the fifth game of this deadlocked 1951 World Series.

The Yankees appeared to have shaken the complacency that marked their play in the first three games and were once again solid 17-10 favorites to win the series.

Clear and cool weather was predicted for the windup game at the Polo Grounds. The scene shifts back to Yankee Stadium tomorrow where the seventh game, if necessary, will also be played.

The Giants' tactical advantage, gained primarily through Dave Koslo's opening game surprise victory, appeared to have been wiped out by yesterday's 6 to 2 Yankee victory behind Alie Reynolds' (Continued on Page Seven)

Doffermyre Among Dope Trial Lawyers

Everette L. Doffermyre, prominent young Dunn attorney, is one of the eight attorneys defending members of an alleged nation-wide dope ring now on trial in Federal Court at Newark, New Jersey.

His principal client is Dan Graham of Fayetteville, reputed big-time bootlegger and dope dealer, and he is also assisting with the defense of the others.

The trial, which started last week, is receiving nation-wide publicity.

The story of how narcotics agents recorded an actual sale of heroin and morphine to crack an alleged million-dollar interstate dope ring has been unfolded at the trial.

FBI WIRED ROOM Charles S. Herndon of St. Paul, testifying for the government, said Federal agents wired his room to take down the transfer of heroin and 197 vials of morphine to William S. Wright of Rochester, New York.

Wright is one of the 11 defendants being tried, 10 of whom are charged, Herndon, speaking from a separate indictment, said he (Continued on Page Five)
