RUSSIA THREATENS REPRISALS AGAINST NORWAY

Violation Of Paris Treaty Is Charged

LONDON. — (UP) — Russia formally threatened reprisals today if Norway permits the North Atlantic Pact organization to establish bases on Spitzbergen and Bear islands.

The Soviets charged that Norway already has violated a nine-power treaty signed in Paris Feb. 9, 1920, by agreeing to place the two strategic Arctic islands within the "competence" of the commander of the Eastern defense forces.

The Soviet warning was contained in a stiff note handed the Norwegian ambassador in Moscow yesterday by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

CLAIM WAR PREPARATION It accused Norway of permitting Norwegian territory to be used for the preparation of war against the Soviet Union and also charged the Norwegians with carrying out a "vast" military program of their own.

The note berated Norway for joining the Atlantic Pact. It said that the Norwegians had assured Russia in a note on Feb. 15, 1929, that they never would concur in a policy aggressive to the Soviet Union and never would permit Norwegian territory to be used for such purposes.

The islands represent the last Western islands on the Arctic approach to the Soviet Union. From Alaska to Spitzbergen it is only 2,000 miles across the polar regions, and from Spitzbergen to Leningrad, 1,500 miles.

OCCUPIED LAST WAR Germany seized and occupied the islands during the last war.

Lee Is Sworn As New Lawyer Harry McCauley Lee, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lee of Newton Grove, was sworn in as a member of the North Carolina Bar in ceremonies held Monday afternoon in Harnett County Court house in Lillington.

WHISTLE-STOP TOUR The overhaul now underway suggests that the president plans to go to the country again after Congress adjourns. The end may come this week.

The President had on-again-off-again plans for months for such a rail journey. Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., persuaded the President to hold off. Now Boyle is out of office, subject to the formality of national committee acceptance of his resignation, opposition to a whistle-stop journey may have disappeared.

Compton Addresses Boy Scout Leaders At a dinner meeting of the Harnett County District Committee, Boy Scouts of America, at Angler last night, W. Y. Compton of Raleigh, scout executive of Occochee Council, outlined plans for a three-year program which will start January 1.

The plan contemplates fully functioning manpower, a quality program for the boys, and increased membership. It is hoped that by the end of the three years every troop and cub pack will have at least two fully trained volunteer leaders, able to provide the sort of program which will appeal to boys and bring them all that they dream of in camping and outdoor activity.

DRIVE FOR MEMBERS Each troop is going to be urged to register at least five new boys between September and December in preparation for the start of the new program. "Subpoenas" have been served on the council president, on the district chairman, and finally on the troop leaders. They will be called into a mock court to report on their new members or to show cause why they fell down. Individual scouts will be issued "sheriffs' stars" in recognition of their accomplishment in training recruits. Troops will be issued streamers for their troop colors signifying their success in putting over the various objectives of the master plan.

All of the above activity costs money as was pointed out by E. K. Bruton, district finance chairman. The annual budget of the 12 counties which make up Occochee Council is $82,000, which breaks down to about $10,000 per boy. The financial drive starts next week, will not be based upon local or district quotas, but Council-wide money which is needed. Compton pointed out, "Each community receives what money it can use within the limits of the budget."

WINTER CAMP Norman Rutledge, field secretary for Harnett and Currituck Counties, who will receive professional scouting status as county secretary of the district, announced for a winter camp for the Camp Duran during the month of November.

British Troops Seek To Quell The Egyptians

(By United Press) British troops went into action the Suez Canal Zone today against Egyptian rioters. A British military spokesman said the troops were in action in Ismailia, just south of Port Said, quelling disorders which began when a mob set fire to a British service post exchange. The spokesman said he had "no idea of the number of casualties, if any."

He said Egyptian police had adopted a passive role, standing by during the disorders. The Cairo newspaper, Al-Balagh, organ of the governing Wafdist Party, said the Ismailia rioters set fire to some British Army equipment. Trucks also were overturned and fired, it said. An Egyptian Army unit was sent to Ismailia to reinforce security forces, the newspaper said.

TO JUNK TREATY The rioting followed the Egyptian Parliament's approval last night of the government's plan to junk the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty under which Britain keeps forces in the canal zone. The Parliament also approved government action to put the Sudan under the Egyptian crown of King Farouk. This would end an 1899 agreement under which Britain and Egypt shared in the administration of the Sudan.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS 1. Some 70,000 nationalists defied a police ban on demonstrations and a state of emergency to surge through downtown Cairo in anti-British demonstrations. 2. The newspaper Al-Balagh said the government had cut off communications with the Sudan.

City Board Discusses Water

Water was the main subject of discussion at the meeting of the Dunn Town Board last night. Most of the petitioners who appeared before the board asked for some aid with reference to water. John Hodges told the board that his last bill for water was out of all proportion to his previous bills for this commodity. He had discovered a leak, however, which accounted for this.

He had been ill, he said, but attendants at the service station he operates on the Erwin Highway had noted that the grease pit was continually flooded, although there had been no rain.

Cutting the brush behind the station revealed the leak in the water pipe where it entered the building. The board decided on a major policy, that in cases where the water bill increased more than 300 percent in three months, the consumer would be allowed to purchase the water at half price.

Joe Young appeared before the board and asked that water and sewer lines be installed on General Lee Avenue in places where they were not available at present. SURVEY ORDERED The board instructed City Manager O. O. Manning to make a survey of the section and report, together with recommendations, at the next meeting.

Another matter of policy with respect to water, determined by the board was that in case persons desired relief due to low pressure, the cost of installation should be borne by the consumer.

As an example, where it is necessary to cut pavement for an installation the charge is $25; on a dirt street, $10. To this, of course, is added any needed materials such as pipe, joints, etc.

Commissioner R. G. Tart was appointed to the post of Mayor pro-tem, to take the place of Mayor Ralph Hanna in case of need.

This was the shortest session the board has had recently, and the meeting was adjourned at about 10:00 p. m.

Joy, Ridgway In Conference

TOKYO. — (UP) — Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the United Nations armistice team, flew here today for an urgent conference with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway on the deadlock preventing resumption of Korean truce talks.

The Communists came up with a new proposal at Tuesday's liaison meeting in Panmunjon, Korea, but it left the armistice talks as far from resumption as before.

REDS REJECT DEMAND The Reds rejected a U. N. demand for a reduction in the non-ferrous metal zone, and proposed instead its "substantial enlargement," a U. N. command announcement said.

The proposal would increase to about 175 square miles the area in which incidents could occur. The liaison officer, nevertheless, will try again at 10 a. m. Wednesday 8 p. m. Tuesday to "reconcile the divergent views," the U. N. announcement said.

LODGE TO MEET There will be a stated communication of Paimyra Lodge number 147 tonight at 7:30 o'clock. There will be work in the Entered Apprentice Degree. Visiting Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Frankie's Wife Seeks Divorce; Can Wed Ava

HOLLYWOOD. — (UP) — Mrs. Frank Sinatra, who married a little-known band singer 12 years ago and saw him climb to international fame as a "swamp crooner," changed him with "extreme mental cruelty" today in a divorce suit clearing the way for his marriage to screen siren Ava Gardner.

Mrs. Sinatra's attorney, Bernard Silbert, filed her long-anticipated divorce yesterday in nearby Santa Monica, less than a month after the crooner filed suit for a Nevada divorce.

Silbert said Mrs. Sinatra's suit would come to trial "in about three weeks." When she receives her interlocutory decree, the bow-tied singer can obtain his Nevada decree.

Dunn-Erwin To Get Better Bus Service Improved bus service between Dunn and Erwin, guaranteeing commuters and other continuous and steady service, was announced today by Southern Coach Company. A joint announcement was made this morning by Stacey W. Wade of Raleigh, president of the company, and Louis Wade of Durham, general manager of the company. The stepped-up schedule, which has already been approved by the State Utilities Commission, will fill the gap left by the Safeway Suburban Bus Lines, which has ceased operation.

Southern Coach Company, which formerly operated as the Durham-Dunn Bus Company until its operations were expanded to take in greater territory, has had a Dunn-Erwin franchise all along, but stepped aside for the local company when it was formed.

"We are extremely anxious to provide citizens of Dunn and Erwin the very finest bus service possible because we know of the great necessity for transportation between these two communities."

15 TRIPS DAILY The new schedule provides 15-round trips daily between Dunn and Erwin and on Saturdays services every half-hour from noon until 8 p. m.

Daily schedules run from 6 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. On Saturdays, buses will leave Dunn at 12:30 and every half hour until 8 p. m. in addition to the regular schedule. These same buses will leave Erwin for the return trip every half hour beginning at 12:15 o'clock.

A new innovation is the sale of commuter tickets, which are offered at reduced rates and are good for a 30-day period.

Southern Coach Company, one of the fastest-growing bus lines in the State, was established by the Wades in 1943 as the Durham-Dunn Bus Lines. Since that time, the territory has been extended to take in Wilmington and Raleigh.

TEN MODERN BUSES At present, Southern Coach Company offers three round trips daily to Wilmington, four round trips daily to Durham and three round trips daily to Raleigh.

Fluoridation Helps Prevent Tooth Decay

Editor's Note: Effectiveness of fluoridating public water supplies in reducing tooth decay among children has aroused nationwide interest. To give its readers the latest information about this process, The Daily Record, through the cooperation of the Harnett Dental Society, is presenting a series of articles on fluoridation. Today the history of fluorine.

Marco Polo had an experience with fluorine. The great explorer came upon it in China. In the first recorded report about the chemical he wrote that it damaged his horses' hoofs.

But, by no means, is all the fluorine in China. In fact, it is found in many parts of the world. It is 15 times as abundant as lead and three times as abundant as copper.

Fluorine is used in the steel industry to help remove impurities. It is used in making high octane gasoline and for other purposes in the chemical industry. The ceramic industry also uses it extensively.

Fluorine first became a concern of the dental profession early in this century at Colorado Springs, Colo. The first dentist in that town formed a dental society in 1908 and, under the leadership of Dr. Frederick S. McKay, set about to find out what caused the town's children to have mottled (stained and notched) teeth.

At his own expense, Dr. McKay started riding around the country to try to find the answer. He found one town where the children did not have mottled teeth. Nearby were a dozen communities where the children had severe cases of stained teeth. The only apparent difference between the town whose children were free of mottling and the other communities was that it had a different source of water.

Dr. McKay consulted Dr. Greene Vardiman Black, the great Chicago dental scientist. They made studies in Colorado, South Dakota, Arizona and Arkansas. They found several towns where children's teeth became mottled after sources of water supplies were changed. Two towns changed back to their original water sources and the mottling ended. Later examinations of children's teeth showed, however, that those which had erupted since the second change were made were more subject to decay than the mottled teeth. Thus, the investigators discovered that water which caused mottling also had a decay-
