

BULLETINS

MILWAUKEE. — (UP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy says Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's hands appear to be tied just "as MacArthur's were in Asia."

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — Dr. T. H. Johnson will become director of the Atomic Energy Commission's research division Dec. 1.

ST. LOUIS. — (UP) — Disputes which shut down Anheuser-Busch, Inc., the world's largest brewery, and three other major beer plants here, ended today and workers returned immediately to their jobs.

BERLIN. — (UP) — Top American officials here are convinced that Russia will not strike westward within the foreseeable future, if ever. This was the main impression gained by 14 touring American newspapermen after conferring with high Allied officers in Berlin.

VERSAILLES, France. — (UP) — Exiled Queen Amelie of Portugal, 86, critically ill for the past three weeks of angina pectoris, died at her chateau today.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — The Congressional subcommittee which conducted four weeks of public hearings on the legality of baseball will make known its findings sometime after Congress reconvenes in January, Rep. Emanuel Celler said today.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — The Agriculture Department promises more meat next year. And best of all, more beef. But it doesn't hold much hope for lower prices.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — Diplomatic informants said today that "progress" made in American-Iranian talks would be reported to Britain to determine whether the stalled oil negotiations might be resumed at an early date.

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. — (UP) — AFL painters and plumbers returned to work at three strategic atomic projects today in response to appeals from union leaders, but 370 electricians remained idle.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark says he's glad President Truman decided not to give him a temporary appointment as America's first ambassador to the Vatican.

PROSOCKET, R. I. — (UP) — A textile industry spokesman has called for "drastic action" to prevent further exodus of New England mills to the South.

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UP) — A "disgusted" Gloria King asked a court to annul the marriage she "doesn't remember" of her playboy husband, Sheppard W. Abdullah King can marry an Egyptian shimmy artist.

DETROIT. — (UP) — A second request from the government to call off a strike against the Borg-Warner Corp. will be considered at a meeting tomorrow of the CIO United Auto Workers policy committee, a union spokesman said today.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (UP) — Episcopalians from 15 Southern states voted yesterday to recommend that Negroes be admitted to the theological school of the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — President Truman received the 1951 Histadrut Humanitarian Award today for his "outstanding efforts" to foster "maximum understanding" between Israel and the United States.

ATLANTA. — (UP) — An Atlanta man, who downed a drink of "death market" whiskey after remarking, "I don't believe it'll kill me," died today, bringing the death toll from the lethal mixture of water and methyl alcohol to 31.

NEW YORK. — (UP) — Rebel AEL stevedores hooted down a proposal today, to end their 11-day $250,000,000 wildcat strike here and hurried pickets to Baltimore, Philadelphia and Chester, Pa., in a move to paralyze shipping at those ports.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson leaves for Paris today for a showdown United Nations meeting with the Russians on Korea, atomic energy and other critical problems threatening world peace.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia. — (UP) — Twelve persons, including an American, died yesterday when a Yugoslav airplane crashed about 200 miles southeast of Belgrade, it was announced today. The American was not immediately identified.

COEUR D'ALENE, Ia. — (UP) — Mrs. Ida Crossdan, 200 pounder who testified she split her girdle when a Railway Express dolly truck forced her to fall from a train platform, was awarded a judgment of $3,600 by a federal court jury.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — A seven-member subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee was named today to study prospects of eliminating "overlapping and duplicating" taxes by federal, state and local governments. The House ordered the investigation in a resolution adopted Sept. 27. Rep. Robert L. Doughton, D., N. C., is chairman.

HOLLYWOOD. — (UP) — Screen siren Ava Gardner will fly to New York Saturday to pick up the strings of her romance with crooning Frank Sinatra.

WASHINGTON. — (UP) — President Truman said today that the federal government must do everything possible to give members of the armed forces a chance to "vote intelligently."

Winter Vegetables Housewives Problem

Winter vegetables sometimes pose a real problem to the housewife who must watch her food budget and, at the same time, serve meals to catch her family's fancy. One answer will be found on her spice shelf.

The common though often overlooked, flavorings will do the same thing for an over-familiar dish that a new hat will for a last season's dress—make it new and exciting.

It's a trick the great chefs of the world have long held as a closely-guarded "trade secret." It's a trick any woman can perform in her own kitchen—and see the results at her own table. For instance:

Candied Sweet Potatoes Angostura (four servings) 4 cooked sweet potatoes 1/2 cup brown sugar 1/2 cup water 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 teaspoon Angostura Aromatic Bitters

Cut sweet potatoes in half, lengthwise, and arranged in a greased baking dish. Combine brown sugar, water, salt, and butter or margarine and cook for three minutes over a low heat. Stir in Angostura Aromatic Bitters and pour over the potatoes. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees, F.) about 30 minutes, basting with the syrup while cooking.

The addition of the secret blend of tropical spices which is Angostura gives an exciting, exotic flavor and aroma to the low-priced, highly nutritious—and sometimes very dull—sweet potato. Why not try it?

Herald Tribune

(Continued From Page One) falls to a great party is matched by the appearance of a leader, wise and tested, capable of giving reality to what masses of men and women have dreamed.

"We believe that for the Republican Party the occasion has now come.

"We believe that Dwight D. Eisenhower is the man." Eisenhower went hunting in the Scottish Highlands without hearing about the editorial.

An aide at his Culzean Castle vacation residence said the Atlantic Pact commander had "gone shooting" and was not expected back until tonight.

HAILED BY KANSANS The editorial immediately was hailed by Kansans who have launched an "I Like Ike" campaign with central headquarters in Topeka, Kan. Henry Jameson, newspaperman and organizer of the campaign in Eisenhower's hometown of Abilene, Kan., said, "this is very fine news. The Herald Tribune is a leading newspaper and we are happy to have it on our side."

Sen. James H. Duff R-Pa., who with Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., R-Mass. and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has been promoting the general's nomination, said "to get support right off the bat like that is an achievement of the first importance in the political world."

The editorial also drew favorable comment from Jacob M. Arvey, national Democratic committeeman from Illinois who attempted to obtain the Democratic nomination for Eisenhower in 1948.

REPUBLICAN BY FAITH Although Eisenhower never has publicly proclaimed himself as a Republican, the Herald Tribune editorial said "he is Republican by temper and disposition. He is Republican by every avowal of faith and solemn declaration of purpose."

Mrs. Ogden Reid, president of the newspaper read the editorial at the conclusion of the 20th annual Herald Tribune Forum at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel last night. There was a long burst of applause by the 2,000 persons present.

Former President Herbert Hoover, asked for his reaction, said: "None. No comment."

Poison Rum

The 31st casualty of the "death market" drinking orgy—the 29th Negro to die—succumbed today after remarking "I don't believe this will kill me."

Hardy's FBI record includes two years of prison service for manslaughter, killing a Negro in DeKalb County, Ga., and two more years on federal liquor violation charges.

Hardy said he bought his supply from a "North Georgia bootlegger" from Rabun County. The mountain county, legally dry, long has been recognized as a favorite hangout for moonshiners.

A reporter asked Hardy how he felt about his liquor supplies being responsible for 31 deaths.

"It would make anybody think," the giant retorted. "I don't know whether I'm the guilty dog or not."

no more harm to a person's morals than displays of female lingerie in store windows. The nudist, Mrs. Daisy Mae Jeter, a gray-haired mother of four sons, described nudist colonies as "the most honest groups I've ever seen."

At camp, she said, "nudists simply throw away the inhibitions brought by clothes."

ONE MORE EXPENSIVE The artist, angelo di Benedetto, whose painting, "Love In a Cornfield," was banned in Boston, was asked the difference between viewing live models and looking at pictures of nude persons in magazines. "One is more expensive," he said.

The editor, Lawrence Martin, associate editor of the Denver Post, testified that nude pictures at best were often of "disgustingly flabby specimens of humanity."

After all the testimony was in, the jury decided John Garrison, president of the Colorado Sunshine Club, was guilty of distributing "pornographic" literature and fined him $300.

The jury, however, acquitted two newspaper dealers, Dave Synder, and Jerry Galantieri, for selling the magazine.

pers against Bayles. They allege that in January of this year, he gave a note for $1,250 to be paid on Oct. 1, and that he has failed to pay.

They ask the sale and seizure of Bayles' new tractor, stalk cutter, plow, wood saw, gang disc, two wheel tractor trailer and even his tobacco sticks to pay this debt.

Bayles was born on that farm and has lived there all his life. Only two days in his life has he ever done public work.

He said sale of his crop is tied up in litigation. "I don't know what I'm going to do," he said today.

The jury, however, acquitted two newspaper dealers, Dave Synder, and Jerry Galantieri, for selling the magazine.
