Nuckols Says Reds Take All, Give Nothing

PANMUNJOM, Korea. — (UP)—United Nations truce Negotiators disclosed today they have offered to withdraw from all Korean islands north of the 38th Parallel...

The Communists accepted the offer of a U.N. truce delegation spokesman said, but rejected the Allied demand that they give up Kaesong on the northwest approaches to Seoul in return.

TO GET FIRM

"The Reds have taken everything and given nothing," said Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, the U. N. spokesman "We will adopt a quite firm stand on the Kaesong issue."

But he would not say that the U.N. stand would be "adamant"—that the Allied negotiators would break off further truce talks rather than give up their claim to the strategic western front city.

Nuckols said the armistice subcommittee made no progress Friday in its efforts to complete a ceasefire line across Korea. The subcommittee reached general agreement on the location of the line across the eastern half of the front Thursday.

Another subcommittee meeting will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. Friday EST).

The Reds devoted much of Friday's subcommittee meeting to pressing their demand that the Allies accept the Red version of the truce line, but Nuckols said they stopped short of delivering an ultimatum.

30 Whiskey Stills Are Rounded Up

Harnett County moonshiners, free of the watchful of maneuvering soldiers, apparently did a bit of roaming in the gloaming in October judging from Sheriff W. E. Salmon's report of 30 captured stills which was filed today with the county commissioners.

The large number of stills, almost one for every day in the month, bore out the sheriff's unhappy prediction made earlier in the summer that with the departure of the Army, whiskey-making would increase.

During the summer when almost every stretch of woods in the county was full of soldiers here with Exercise Southern Pine, illicit whiskey-making almost ceased. "There were just too many folks around" was the Sheriff's explanation.

"Unfortunately, we cannot have a deputy behind every tree," said the Sheriff. But it looks like with thirty stills out of Commission our (Continued on Page Two)

Glad Tidings Revival Will Open Sunday

Revival services are announced to begin this Sunday, November 4, at the Glad Tidings Church. Special speaker for these services will be Rev. W. F. Garvin of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who is returning for his second series of meetings here. Mrs. Garvin is a very able public speaker herself, having been at one time a State officer in the W. C. T. U. of the State of Oklahoma. She will be teaching the Adult Bible Class in the Sunday School during her time here.

Ike Misses Civilian Life; Works Hard In European Military Job

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent ROCQUENOURT, France — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower thinks he and Mrs. Ike had it mighty fine back there when he was president of Columbia University. He could talk then and go about as he pleased.

Those were the good old days, to hear the general tell it, and I heard him yesterday in his big square office at SHAPE. As he talked, Ike's bags were being packed for a quickie visit to the United States at President Truman's suggestion.

The general — more especially his aides — were worried lest the travel news leak here. That would have caused talk that the general was home-bound on his own motion without Mr. Truman's knowledge to play some presidential politics.

Stories like that make Columbia and civilian life look good to Eisenhower. Now, more than six years after he hit the jackpot in fame and achievement when Hitler folded in 1945, Eisenhower is back in Europe (Continued on page two)

Los Angeles — (UP)—Painstaking work of criminologists and a woman's intuition combined to bring about the arrest of a 44-year-old house painter for strangling his wife and jamming her nude body in a steamer trunk, it was revealed today.

Heavy Draft Call Issued For January

WASHINGTON. — (UP)—The Defense Department today issued a call for 59,650 draftees in January for assignment to the Army and Marine Corps.

Of the total, 43,000 will be assigned to the Army and 11,650 to the Marines. The December call was for only 16,900. Inductions were suspended in that month for the holiday period between Dec. 21 and Jan. 2.

The January call was set higher to compensate for the small December figure.

ORDERLY BUILD The Defense Department said the January call will be regulated to provide for an orderly buildup to authorized strength of the armed forces, now set at about 3,600,000 and to include the recent presidential authorization for increase in the strength of the Marine Corps from 204,000 to 236,000.

The January call will bring to a total of 734,680 the number of men brought into military service through Selective Service.

Six Dead In Cold Weather

NEW YORK. — (UP)—The nation bundled up today against a bone-chilling freeze which blew down from Canada accompanied by sub-zero temperatures and blizzard conditions.

At least six deaths were attributed to the weather. The unseasonable cold was first stretched from the Pacific Northwest eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico.

SIX BELOW AT DENVER The lowest temperature reported in the nation was at Denver where the mercury skidded to an icy six degrees below zero. Six inches of snow also fell in the mile-high city.

Near-gale winds of 50 miles an hour howled down the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains, piling up snow in heavy drifts. And snow was generally through Colorado, portions of Kansas, the Texas Panhandle, Southern Missouri and parts of Kentucky.

Just 72 hours ago a record high temperature of 90 degrees was established at Dallas. It started to snow in Dallas early today.

The forecasters said the huge cold mass moved down from Canada and blanketed most of the nation. They predicted it would send an icy finger as far south as Florida by late today.

A separate storm, this one from the Northeast, dumped as much as 10 inches of snow over portions of northern New England and at least four persons died in traffic accidents during the snowfall.

Temperatures near zero prevailed in Wyoming and Montana, and snow was general in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and (Continued on Page Two)

MAYOR HANNA It has come to my attention that you plan to issue an edition in pictorial rotogravure depicting the development and the varied and progressive activities in Dunn and Harnett County. Such a step, at this time, is in my opinion constructive and valuable service to our community.

Here, we have one of the richest agricultural regions in the world, and our balance of industry and agriculture is being made more even year by year. We hope that this balance will continue to improve and that the living conditions of all our citizens will continue to be a wholesome and sound one. The publicizing of our past accomplishments and our immense potentialities for the future is something that must not be neglected. I believe you are taking a concrete step in that direction by this pictorial rotogravure edition of Dunn and Harnett County.

Here in this wonderful community we are privileged to have one of the most pleasant and prosperous sections of the South; one destined for rapid growth and expansion during the next few years. And to tell the world at this time of the advantages and assets of this immediate section, as you propose doing in your deluxe edition, will make this destined development all the more certain.

To take stock of ourselves and (Continued on Page Two)

Big Vote Urged For Saturday
