HST Expected To Call Peace Bluff Of Reds

WASHINGTON. — (UP)— President Truman will call Moscow's peace bluff tonight by offering the world a global arms control plan as the best way to prevent World War III.

American experts believe this plan for action through the United Nations offers a better chance for peace—or at least for taking the "peace offensive" initiative away from the Russians—than proposals for a Big Four meeting.

Mr. Truman is known to be reluctant to accept the Big Four bids voiced by French President Vincent Auriol and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

PLENTY OF CHANCES — The White House feels that Soviet Premier Josef Stalin has had plenty of opportunities to show his good faith in peace by allowing settlements in Korea, Austria and Germany. The idea is to give Stalin another chance to show where he stands.

ADDRESS AT 10:30 — The President's major foreign policy address will be broadcast and televised from the White House at 10:30 p. m. EST. Millions of fans will hear the President's address.

The American plan will be placed before the U. N. General Assembly meeting in Paris by Secretary of State Dean Acheson for debate by 60 nations.

Advance word on Mr. Truman's address forecast an appeal for peace in Korea, easing of other world tension spots and steps toward "real peace" backed by specific measures.

GOP Gains 1 House Seat, Elects Mayors

WASHINGTON. — (UP)— Republicans gained a congressional seat and several mayors today in scattered elections sparked by charges of crime and corruption.

Democrats turned the issue to their advantage in Philadelphia, where they elected a mayor for the first time since 1884.

Charges of corruption in government—sure to be an issue in the 1952 presidential campaign—figured heavily in the results of yesterday's off-year balloting.

Crime buster Rudolph Halley, 38-year-old former chief counsel of the Senate Crime Committee, swept into presidency of the New York city council, second highest office of the nation's biggest city.

HALLEY SWAMPED SHARKEY — Running as an independent, Halley swamped Democrat Joseph Sharkey, candidate of once-powerful Tammany Hall, and ran rings around Rep. Henry J. Latham, the Republican nominee.

GOP WINS IN INDIANA — Among the places in which the Republicans unseated Democrats for mayor were several of Indiana's largest cities, including Indianapolis, home town of President Truman's hand-picked new Democratic national chairman, Frank E. McKinney.

Other major results included: Republicans made a clean sweep of the four congressional seats at stake, two in Pennsylvania and one each in Ohio and New Jersey, for a net gain of one seat.

DEMOCRATS WIN KENTUCKY — Incumbent Democrat Lawrence Weatherly defeated Republican Eugene Siler for governor in Kentucky. Former Gov. Hugh White, a staunch states' rights and for of the Truman administration, was elected governor in Mississippi without opposition.

Republicans gained five seats in the New Jersey legislature while Virginia, Mississippi and Kentucky remained strongly Democratic as usual.

As a result of the GOP sweep of the four congressional elections, the
