Our Mr. Dearborn Spends Day With Highway Patrol

By LOUIS DEARBORN
Record Staff Writer
Fifteen or more hours of ceaseless activity and vigilance, with two one-hour breaks for meals and perhaps a coffee stop now and then, is just a routine Saturday tour of duty for Harnett County's Highway Patrolmen.

Saturdays are particularly strenuous during the present football series, for the group assigned to traffic duty at the games, and for their mates, left in the county to hold down the home front. Last Saturday, for example, only two, G. R. Carroll, Jr., and Joe Whitaker, were left to patrol this large county.

A Saturday tour of duty with one of these Patrolmen is a revealing insight into the activities of the patrol, not only in Harnett, but throughout the state, since the patrol here is typical, in making the highways safer for you and for me.

Let's climb into the patrol car with Patrolman Joe Whitaker and see just how these boys operate. And remember, this is just a routine day, although Whitaker admits that he "works just a little harder on Saturday."

This particular day for Car 532, started at 9:30 a. m. The first order of business is filing the report of the previous day's activity, which in Whitaker's case, due to his call for duty at the circus in Raleigh, was a sixteen and one half hour tour. No eight hour days for these boys.

FOUR COPIES OF REPORTS
The report covers every phase of the day's activities and, of course, must be made out in the inevitable quadruplicate. Expenses must be itemized and woe betide the patrolman who turns in an item without a receipted bill. He will not only have to pay it, but probably will hear some ungentle words from the sergeant.

"Corpse" Comes To Life Just Before Embalming

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 60-year-old woman who had been pronounced dead 10 hours began gasping for breath as her "body" was being carried into the city morgue and physicians said today she had a 50-50 chance to live.

Her condition so closely resembled death that a doctor had even signed a death certificate.

"The next 24 hours will tell the story," said a hospital physician. "SHE CAN GO EITHER WAY"

FOUND IN BATHTUB
A maid found Mrs. Butler lying in a half-filled bathtub in her apartment yesterday.

Mrs. Theresa Butler was in critical condition at San Francisco Hospital from what physicians said was an overdose of barbiturates that almost stopped her breathing and caused her blood pressure to fall almost to zero.

Mrs. Butler had lived there since the death of her husband, a San Jose hospital superintendent, 10 months ago.

The apartment house manager summoned a physician, who examined the "body" and called the coroner.

"The body was cold," said the physician. "There was no detectable pulse, no reflex of the eye, and no heart beat that could be picked up by a stethoscope."

He estimated Mrs. Butler had been dead about 10 hours.

Ruffin Says Business Must Save Nation

SALISBURY. — (UP) — William H. Ruffin, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today that business leaders must spearhead a drive to save "our national standards of morality," and to demonstrate that "a free economy is better than a totalized economy."

Ruffin scored corruption and extravagance in government and warned the country to "beware of socialist reformers and economic planners in and out of government."

Speaking at a civic club luncheon here, the president of Erwin Mills in Durham said revelations of official bribery and tax evasion, sports scandals and underworld crime empires, have struck "every right-thinking American with shocking impact."

He said the national government has not responded swiftly or thoroughly enough to the public concern.

HITS SOCIALISM
"Rather than concentrating on its constitutional duties, our government has expanded into socialist channels," he declared. "It has taken over many rights and responsibilities which could be more effectively exercised by individuals and state and local governments."

High taxes and inflation are the toll American families and business are paying for 18 years of governmental extravagance, he said.

In a speech last night to the Piedmont Industrial Relations Conference in Winston-Salem, Ruffin warned employers to be "on guard against unwarranted exploitation of the emergency by big government."

MANAGEMENT MUST PROCEED
"If we are ultimately to escape a totalized economy, management must now proceed to demonstrate that the job of production both for defense and civilian consumption can best be accomplished in a free economy," he said.

"Intelligent and patriotic leadership in labor and management should refuse to ask for or to grant wage increases."

Management can expect charges of profiteering "unless employees are instructed in the basic considerations that enter into costs, prices and profits," he said.

1952 Dodge To Go On Display

The new 1952 Dodge, proclaimed as the "Car of the Year" will go on display Saturday morning in the showrooms of Naylor-Dickey Motors in Dunn, located near the tobacco warehouses on the Fayetteville highway.

Luby Naylor and Bob Dickey, local Dodge-Plymouth dealers, today extended to the public a cordial invitation to visit their showrooms tomorrow and see the beautiful new automobile.

"One of the grandest things about the new 1952 Dodge," pointed out Mr. Dickey and Mr. Naylor today, "is that you could still pay hundreds of dollars more for a car and not get everything this great new Dodge gives you."

"ALL YOU'RE LOOKING FOR"
"For here in this 1952 beauty," they added, "are all the comfort, style and convenience features you'll be looking for in your new car. The smart, modern inside dress—the flattering new fabrics—the all-round-you roominess lets you relax and take things easy."

"The 'only thing wrong about the new Dodge,' declared the popular Dunn dealers 'is that we just can't seem to get enough of them to meet the demand.'"

Many fine new features are incorporated in the new '52 Dodge.

Stolen Pickup Recovered Today

The 1946 Chevrolet pickup which was reported stolen from the Jernigan Skating rink, between Dunn and Erwin at 10:30 last night, was recovered early this morning.

A report was made to the Dunn Police Department, and the description of the machine, owned by the Jesse Tart Estate, was broadcast. This morning, Patrolman Paul Albergine, reported that he had found the missing vehicle.

Gospel Tabernacle Calls New Pastor

The Rev. Dane T. Underwood of Montclair, West Virginia, has accepted the call to serve as pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle, it was announced today by the Rev. J. L. Davis.

Rev. Mr. Underwood, has had the post under consideration for several weeks, and preached the morning sermon at this church last Sunday. The morning sermon this Sunday, will mark his formal acceptance of the pastorate.

DAVIS RETIRING
He will relieve Mr. Davis, who announced his retirement some time back. Although the beloved pastor, who had guided this church for 34 years, had been planning to retire months ago, his congregation had prevailed upon him to remain.

However, lately, his health had become such, that he was forced to limit his activity. His activity in the future will be largely confined to visiting the sick and those in trouble or distress.

The Gospel Tabernacle has recently affiliated with the Pentecostal Holiness Conference. A group of the leaders of this church, headed by Superintendent, Eddie Morris of Goldsboro, was here recently to complete arrangements for the affiliation.

Harnett Club Hears Stator

William Stator, Sanford attorney, who is president of the North Carolina Young Democrats Club, spoke Thursday night to the Lillington Rotary Club on "Ethics in Politics."

The visiting speaker, who was introduced by Rotarian Robert Morgan, pointed out that recent political campaigns in North Carolina have brought wide-spread public indignation to misleading techniques and have indicated a necessity and desire for ethics in politics.

Demand Made By Vishinsky May End Hope

PANMUNJOM, Korea. — (UP) — Red truce negotiators stalled for time today, presumably awaiting orders whether to adopt Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's demand for an Allied withdrawal of the 38th Parallel.

Vishinsky's demand in the U. N. General Assembly in Paris Thursday was not mentioned during Friday's meeting of the armistice subcommittee, but it threatened to wreck Allied truce hopes.

Communist negotiators had reluctantly abandoned their demand for a cease-fire line along the 38th Parallel shortly after the truce talks were resumed two weeks ago. They now were seeking a firm agreement that the line be along the present battlefield, which runs up to 45 miles north of the parallel.

SESSION CANCELLED
The U. N. and Communist subcommittee members called off the usual afternoon session Friday when nothing new developed during the morning meeting of two hours and 45 minutes. They agreed to meet at 11 a. m. Saturday 9 p. m. Friday EST, however.

Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, the delegation spokesman, said the Communists adopted "what might be termed an elusive attitude" Friday morning.

"I got the impression, and so did the delegation, that today was a day of transition — a day of no decision, another day of stalling," Nuckols said.

It had been thought that the U. N. representatives might come up with a new proposal during the latest meeting. An extraordinary strategy conference was held at the U. N. delegation's base camp at Musan, 11 miles southeast of Panmunjom, Thursday evening.

Two Wrecks Occur Here

Two wrecks within the past 24 hours were reported today by the Dunn Police Department. In each case, one of the drivers involved was attempting to pass another vehicle which was in the act of making a left turn.

The first happened on North Ellis at 9:45 a. m. yesterday, when a 1949 Oldsmobile sedan, driven by Perry Oliver Spell of Hope Mills, (Continued on Page 8)

Plans Advanced For Community Building

At a meeting of representatives of the Dunn Women's Club and civic clubs and organizations of Dunn held last night, it was determined that the success of the Community Building plan hinges on the acquiring of a title deed to the lot instead of a lease.

The Town Board had authorized the leasing of the lot for the proposed building to the Women's Club for a period of 99 years, but with the town retaining title to the land.
