Tommy Waggoner Wins Honor After Top Play Season With Greenwave

52,000 See Browns Top Giants In Game With Goal-Line Stand

By EARL WRIGHT (United Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK — The Cleveland Browns may be ready to roll to their sixth straight championship because Coach Paul Brown beat Coach Steven Owen of the New York Giants at his own specialty — defensive football.

Owen long has been rated the defensive genius of the National Football League but the Browns shut out his young Giant team 10 to 0 yesterday in what could prove to be the most decisive game of the season. The victory boosted Cleveland's lead over the runner-up Giants to a flat game-and-a-half in the American Conference.

All the teams still have four games to play, but only a complete collapse can keep Cleveland from winning its sixth consecutive division title to qualify for the championship contest with the National Conference winner.

Cleveland won the NFL crown last year but found the going pretty rugged after using sheer offensive power to win four titles in the All-American Conference. The triumph over New York was the latest and most convincing proof that Brown has switched his emphasis from offense to defensive play. The Browns have scored three of the five shutouts posted in the league so far this season.

Camels Drop 38-50 Game To Camp Lejeune Marines

Tommy Waggoner, son of Coach and Mrs. Paul Waggoner of 408 N. Orange, has been chosen to participate in the annual Shrine Bowl game at Charlotte.

This is an honor that all football players in high schools in North and South Carolina dream about and hope for during their grid careers in high school. It is the big game between the top players of the two states. An all-star collection from the North state meets a like collection from the South. Tar Heels vs. Sandlammers.

The cause that is behind this game is most worthy. The funds from the gate receipts of the game go to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children at Greenville, S. C. This year the 15th game will be played for this wonderful benefit.

BATTING A 1000
Tommy Waggoner is the second boy to be chosen from a Dunn High football squad. Last year Brother Woods participated in the big game and was one of the outstanding linemen. Tommy is expected to be one of the stars in this year's battle. This year and last year are the only two years that the local school has received entry blanks for boys' names to be introduced on So the Greenwave is batting a 1000.

Tommy has played outstanding ball for Dunn this year. Even though the local team won only one game this season, Tommy played the kind of ball that causes teams to have an undefeated season. He played end on offense and linebacker on defense and he didn't miss any action all season. He was and is an outstanding defensive man, and this is probably the thing that won him the coveted position.

ALL-AROUND STAR
The Dunn boy punted, placekicked, caught passes, ran end-around plays, tackled like a demon, blocked the same way, and led his team in spirited play and desire to win.

Coach Waggoner, just his pop, is not only a proud coach and dad, but he has another interest in this occasion. It reminds him of the day that he was in the Shrine Bowl

Camels Drop 38-50 Game To Camp Lejeune Marines

The Campbell campers went down on the East Coast and met the Camp Lejeune Marine team Saturday night and took a 50-38 loss.

The Camels took an early lead and stayed in front until the score reached the 23-19 point, but then the Marines sent in their secrete weapon, or something, and put a stop to the visitors winning ways. A former Long Island U. cager, R. A. Smith, was the fly in the ointment for Coach Earl Smith's invaders. R. A. Smith took the situation in hand, just like a Marine, and rallied the team behind him as he handled the ball like he had strings tied to it.

The outstanding player on last year's team, center Red McDaniel, was the only bright spot on the Campbell team. Red showed the steam that he used in '50 as he scored 13 points to lead the Camel scoring and played an all-around good game. The high scorer for the Marines was Smith with 8 points as 13 players got into the scoring column.

ANOTHER CHANCE
The Marines got to Buies Creek for a return game on Dec. 10. The Camels expect to get revenge at that time since the boys feel that they should have won the game, but they couldn't hit the basket for some reason. Coach Smith, according to a hearsay, thinks that his boys had eaten too much food, steaks.

The next Campbell home-game is on Friday-week, the 30th.

NEWS
Coach Paul Waggoner coached the South Carolina team in the 1945 game. As a sidelight, his assistant coach at that time is now coaching at the University of South Carolina. Coach Waggoner was coaching at Parker High of Greenville at that time. He also sent eight boys from Parker to the Shrine game while he was at the school.

The people of Dunn will be rooting for Tommy, and The Daily Record says well done and well deserved and we'll be rooting too.

first-place tie with the Los Angeles Rams in the National Conference. The Rams beat the New York Yanks 48 to 21.

In the other games, the Detroit Lions remained a half-game behind the Bears and Rams by rallying to defeat the Philadelphia Eagles 28 to 10; the Chicago Cardinals upset the San Francisco Forty-Niners 27 to 21; and the Washington Redskins beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 22 to 7.

Cleveland scored all its points in the first eight minutes. Lou Gros led off with a 34-yard field goal and halfback Dub Jones, one of the pro game's most underpublicized players, followed with a 68-yard touchdown run after taking a screen pass from quarterback Otto Graham.

SELL-OUT CROWD
A standing room crowd of 52,215 watched Brown's defensive unit take charge of the Giants the remainder of the way. The Giants with 14 first or second-year men, expected to win with youth and speed. They never got going against the club which includes 11 of the men who led Cleveland to its first title six years ago.

The Giants did not drive deeply into Cleveland territory until Charley Conerly completed a 50-yard pass to Bob Hudson in the final minute. Then the Browns, whooping like schoolboys, held on the one-foot line a virtual insult in the hard-driving pro competition.

LEADING SCORES
DURHAM — Bob Cox, coach of Duke University freshman team, holds the scoring record for a single grid season at Duke since 1931. He scored 69 points as fullback on the 1933 team which won nine straight games before losing the final game to Georgia Tech, 6-0.
