McCarran Plans Showdown On All Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Pat McCarran served notice today that he intends to conduct a campaign to force government agencies to crack down on subversive, spying Communist diplomats in this country.

Senator Willis Smith of North Carolina is a member of Senator McCarran's committee.

The Nevada Democrat said his Senate Internal Security Committee has information about the operations of "hundreds" of sub-diplomats. The group already has issued reports on three of them.

"I am determined to expose cases such as these until we have obtained a vigorous enforcement of the law," he said.

DIPLOMAT TRAINED KILLER

The latest report, issued last night, concerned Jiri Stary, a Czechoslovakian diplomat at the United Nations, who, the committee said, was once trained in "silent killing" of Czech nationals deviating from the Communist party line.

Both McCarran and Sen. Herbert R. O'Connor (D-Md) noted that the Internal Security Act authorizes the Justice Department to deport or exclude even diplomats if they engaged in activities "prejudicial to the public interest of the United States."

O'Connor said he for one "cannot urge too strongly" that Stary and his wife, who are now attending the United Nations General Assembly meeting in Paris, be barred from re-entering this country.

The committee said that Stary and his wife, Olga, first entered this country in August 1949. Since then, it said, Stary has operated as director of a Communist espionage network trying to obtain secret U. S. military and diplomatic data.

O'Connor said, despite adverse security reports, neither the State or Justice department did anything to expel Stary from the country.

Yule Parade Plans Complete

Theme for the annual Christmas parade in Dunn will be "Christmas at the Circus," it was announced today by James Snipes, chairman of the Retail Merchants committee of the Dunn Chamber of Commerce.

Date for the parade was set for December 1, at 7:00 p. m. at a meeting held by the group together with C. E. McLamb, parade chairman for the Chamber of Commerce.

After considerable discussion it was decided to schedule the parade for a later hour than usual because it has become traditional to turn the Christmas lighting on at the start of the parade. The later hour will make this part of the program more effective because it will take place after dark.

Staff Begins Marking Line On The Map

PANMUNPOM, Korea. — Allied and Communist negotiators agreed today on all but one point of the "truce by Christmas plan" and ordered their staff officers to begin marking on a large-scale map the line on which the shooting could stop in Korea.

Two staff officers of each side will begin the task Friday. The major decision, an indication that the drawn-out negotiations may be nearing an end, left only one hurdle in agreeing upon a buffer zone — what to do about a truce line if an armistice is not reached in 30 days.

A United Nations plan suggested that if there is no armistice within 30 days, a "new provisional military demarcation line" would be set up on the basis of existing contact between the opposing forces at that time.

REVISION OF LINE

The Red plan calls for a revision of the line in such a case, but agreed the new cease-fire line should be the line of contact between the forces.

The Communists counter-plan on that point, offered at Thursday's afternoon session, was taken by U. N. delegates back to their base camp for study Thursday night. The negotiators will meet here again Friday at 11 a. m. 9 p. m. Thursday EST and presumably the U. N. will give its reply at that time.

MAY BE PROPAGANDA

It was felt here that dicker over the point might be purely propaganda fencing with each side hoping for the sake of prestige to get its own proposal accepted.

Major Gen. Henry H. Hodges, senior U. N. delegate to the joint subcommittee meeting, disclosed after the Thanksgiving Day session that the Communists had agreed to the first two points of the three-point plan.

PANTIES STOLEN

The Dunn Police Department is investigating a report of an unusual robbery reported by Mrs. Blanche Barefoot. The loot consisted of ten pairs of ladies' panties, stolen from a line at the Barefoot home.

Nation Gives Thanks Today

Americans paused to give thanks today like the Pilgrim fathers did 350 years and eight wars ago. It was Thanksgiving observed with a single hope-peace. American GIs in Korea were given all the turkey they could eat, but many of them had to take time out to beat off a Communist attack during their dinner. ## Man Jailed In Contempt Is Released At Hearing

Junior Ellis of Lillington who was serving a 90-day jail sentence for contempt of court Tues. was ordered released following a habeas corpus proceeding brought by his attorney, A. R. Taylor, before Judge Chester Morris in Raleigh.

Ellis, a state witness in the trial in Harnett Superior Court of Allen Newton on dynamiting charges last Thursday, was called by the Solicitor, Jack Hooks, to "come around. But Ellis was missing and the presiding Judge, A. R. Crisp, ordered him to be called by the Sheriff after the solicitor told the judge Ellis had been subpoenaed.

After Sheriff Bill Salmon had called Ellis and found him missing the Sheriff sent Constable Tommy Brown to seek Ellis. Brown found Ellis, drunk in bed and routed him out and brought him "weaving" to the courtroom.

When Ellis appeared in court a few seconds after Judge Crisp had granted the defense's motion for non-suit, Judge Crisp sentenced Ellis to 30 days in jail and a fine of $20.

However, in the habeas corpus proceedings, Ellis proved no subpoena had ever been served on him. Judge Morris ruled that a man had a right to be drunk at his own home if he desired.

Senator Smith Hits At Reds, Welfare State

ELIZABETH CITY — Sen. Willis Smith D-NC told citizens celebrating the 150 anniversary of the founding of Elizabeth City last night that the warm welcome extended newcomers by pioneers eventually was betrayed by arrival of some who took only the "red" in the stars and stripes as their emblem.

"May we be quick to detect, expose and to punish those who seek to sabotage our civilization," he urged.

The state's junior senator cited as a second dangerous element those who "talk of an ideal welfare state."

"We should never allow the people themselves to be the pawns of the planners, who seem not to realize that in all of history the tendency has been for the planners to become dictators and the dictators to become oppressors of the people."

Movie Triangle Falls Apart; They're Thru

HOLLYWOOD — The Barbara Payton-Franchot Tone-Tom Neal triangle fell apart like a grade B movie today, with all three shouting they were through with each other forever.

Barbara, who made a coy attempt to smuggle up to Franchot eight hours after he filed for a divorce, says now she wants no part of the saive actor.

"There will be no reconciliation," she snapped. "I don't want one."

Tone said those who were his sentiments exactly. He murmured a child-like "I'm afraid not" at Barbara's reconciliation offers and said he's going ahead with his divorce. Neal, the bemused actor Barbara's been batting her eyelashes at off and on for months now, says he's through too.

"Casey struck out at bat," he laughed. "That finishes it. I'm through."

Nine Prisoners Hurt In Wreck

Nine prisoners were injured, at least one critically, when a prison van overturned yesterday after colliding with a car.

Junior Lowry of Fayetteville, one of the prisoners, was not expected to live because of the nature of his injuries. First reports indicated that none of the other prisoners are on the danger list.

The accident occurred when the van and car collided at the intersection of Highways 210 and 87 at Spring Lake, between 4:30 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Goenton D. Belts of Linden, La., driver of the car, also was injured. She was taken to the Fort (Continued on page two)

Three Teen Aegers Injured In Crash

Lightning in the form of a serious car accident did strike twice in the case of Edward Hilton Register, 17, of Dunn Route 5. He wrecked the second automobile, owned by his father, Moses Register, yesterday morning at 10:30 and he and two teen-age girl companions required hospital treatment.

The accident, which is still under investigation, occurred on Mingo Road about five miles from Dunn, just across the Sampson County line. Young Register, driving a 1950 Ford, was turning from a dirt road into the main highway, according to the evidence of the skid marks.

The car failed to make the turn, rolled over, and came to rest, right side up, on the opposite side of the road and headed in the opposite direction. Register and his two companions, all in the front seat, were tossed about like peas in a pod.

Register was knocked unconscious and is still in the Dunn Hospital for observation. Shirley Wright, 16, of Dunn Route 1, who was in the center of the front seat, had a skinned left knee and a slight cut on her right eye. Hortense Register, of Route 5, riding on the right side, received cuts about the face and a sprained right ankle.

All were carried to the Dunn Hospital, where the girls received first aid and were released. Dr. W. W. Stanfield, head Registrar, further observation.

Investigation at the Dunn hospital was conducted by Highway Patrolman Joe Whitaker, who notified the Sampson County Patrol, where an accident occurred in Dunn County. Young Register was seriously injured several months ago in a similar accident with another car owned by his father.
