

INSIDE HOLLYWOOD

By Dallinger
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

MOVIELAND NEWCOMERS, Debbie Reynolds and Richard Anderson are rapidly proving themselves to be popular additions to the ranks of "new faces" in films. Seen at a buffet party, they have shared a number of dates since becoming acquainted a short time ago.

IT MIGHT BE INTERESTING to know just what Janet Leigh (left) was whispering to Barbara Hale when this photo was snapped at an informal dinner party in Hollywood. Two of the screen's most attractive stars, both of these beauties are currently experiencing their greatest film success. Both are married to actors, Janet recently became the bride of Anthony Curtis, new romantic star; Barbara's mate is Bill Williams, father of her two children.

BACK VIEW or front view, Jeanne Crain rates among the Film City's loveliest stars. Here the glamorous mother-of-three arrives at the theater with husband, Paul Brinkman.

RECENTLY WEDDED, Sally Forrest and Milo Frank, Jr., chat with film producer Ted Richmond (right) at a Movieland party. Their many mutual friends are happy to know that Sally and her bridegroom have smoothed out the difficulties that beset them for a while.

WHILE HIS WIFE, Mel, brightens up the picture, Ray Milland has a serious discussion with a friend at a Film City cocktail party. The handsome and successful actor, whose real name is Reginald Truscott-Jones, was born in Wales and attended King's college, Cardiff.

AVID AMATEUR photographers, Macdonald Carey and his wife, Betty, admire some of their handiwork—exposed during a vacation trip. They specialize in stereoscopic snaps.

INTERVIEWED by a radio reporter as they arrive at a Hollywood gathering, Walter Slezak and his wife, Johanna, give visible evidence of the happiness they have found together. Wed in October, 1943, the Austrian-born actor and his wife have three charming children.