

DANDY OF THE FRISCO DONS

HEADING for an All-American berth, San Francisco's sprinter-fullback, Ollie Matson, continues to set records in scoring and offense in a brilliant individual performance which has kept the Dons undefeated. In seven games, Ollie has carried the ball 185 times for 1,279 yards and 17 touchdowns. Matson, 21-year-old Negro who has run the century in 9.6 seconds; has hit pay dirt on runs of 94, 90, 68, 54 and 53 yards among others. He was an outstanding star in the game against Fordham, played in New York. (International)

Stanford Possesses Excellent Receiver

SAN FRANCISCO — Coach Kip Taylor and the Oregon State Beavers attempt tomorrow what no other football team during the past three years has been able to do: Stop Stanford All-American end Bill McColl from catching passes. This is the game that provides the "test case" for a Stanford University football team that is gunning for a Rose Bowl bid and, incidentally, its first perfect season in 100 years.

Victory in this battle for the Indians would clinch the bowl bid and a game in Pasadena New Year's Day against the Big Ten representative, probably Illinois. But Oregon State, a powerful club in its own right, will be shooting for the upset. And to get it, the man they'll have to stop in McColl.

In his three years as a varsity star, McColl has caught an even 100 passes, good for 1,476 yards and 14 touchdowns. He still has two games to go — and the scoring potentialities are unlimited.

So far this season he has gathered in 34 passes for 497 yards and seven touchdowns. This despite the fact that most opponents have assigned two and three men to watch McColl on every play.

TWO TO ONE FAILED

"I had two men on him all through our game," said Jess Hill of Southern California. "And still they couldn't stop him. He's a Marvel."

"Marvel" is about the most-used word in describing McColl. At six feet four inches tall and 225 pounds, he is as springy as a cat, fast and clever. He is a "stretch-A student" and studying to be a doctor.

He is an expert field-goal kicker, although seldom getting a chance; and last year he was used on defense, too, because of his fine tackling. This year he has become an expert blocker.

One of McColl's major values to the team is his decoy ability. He is down there faking on nearly every pass, using up valuable defenders. As a result of his threat, he weakens the opposing team defensively.

Florida Bowls List Prospective Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Officials of the Gator Bowl today listed nine teams under consideration for the berth opposite the University of Miami in their annual New Year's Day game.

Sam Wolfson, chairman of the selection committee, confirmed that Clemson was the "most logical choice" but said the committee also is considering Oklahoma, Texas, Holy Cross, Tulsa, Virginia, Bucknell, Villanova and Cincinnati.

Miami, which is coached by Andy Gustafson, accepted the invitation of the Gator Bowl committee yesterday. It will mark the Hurricanes' third Bowl game but their first away from home. They served as the host team in the 1948 Orange Bowl game, in which they defeated Holy Cross, and also last New Year's Day, when they lost to Clemson.

Meanwhile, officials of the Orange Bowl committee at Miami announced they probably will not seek an opponent for Georgia Tech in their New Year's Day presentation until the conclusion of the Southeastern Conference season.

"We're adopting a just wait and see attitude," Chairman Van C. Kuesow said, but he indicated the

A Rooty-Toot-Toot For Kentucky Babe

By BILL FERGUSON (United Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA — Vito Babe Parilli, an adept student of football magic at Kentucky, makes "bums" of his teammates, fools of the opposition and just about the hottest All-American candidate in Dixie.

The Bluegrass Bomber, who in three seasons has converted Kentucky's sports fans from the gymnasium to the stadium, stands out like a lighthouse in the South's greatest collection of stars in Dixie.

Hank Lauricella, a hurrying halfback who has led Tennessee to seven straight victories, Alabama's Bobby Marlow and a raft of fast-passing quarterbacks give Dixie more than its share of backfield talent this year, but the Kentucky Babe is in a class by himself.

Parilli, winding up one of the most spectacular three-year careers in the South's history, is a coach's dream. Although the senior quarterback from Rochester, Pa., holds three national passing records, Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant says his deceptive ball-handling is his No. 1 virtue.

WHAT A BALL HANDLER

One highly-confused guard told his coach at halftime of a game with Kentucky that "Parilli's not only making the ball disappear, he's pulling spare halfbacks out of the air."

The six-foot-one, 190-pounder needs a math major to keep his records straight. He holds a national mark for completing 23 touchdown passes in one season and he shares another for tossing 47 in three. He also has established a record by gaining 4,062 yards in the air in three years. So far this season, nine games, he has tossed 196, completed 11 for 1,264 yards and 16 scores.

"Babe Parilli is the greatest T-formation quarterback who ever stood behind a center," Bryant said.

When it comes to sure-armed quarterbacks, the South is loaded. There's Georgia Tech's Darrell Crawford, Florida's Haywood Sullivan, Vanderbilt's Bill Wade and Georgia's Zeke Braddock.

Up front, three guards, Georgia Tech's Ray Beck, Maryland's Bob Ward, and Ted Daffer of Tennessee, could all anchor any All-American line.

SEES DOUBLE AND TRIPLE NEWPORT, Wash. — Mrs. Gordon Crumrine cracked an egg and found three egg yolks inside. Then she peeled a banana and found two perfectly formed bananas inside the single skin, she said.

GOOD WORK REWARD DENNISPORT, Mass. — The merchants of Dennisport liked the courteous way Officer Malcolm Nickerson handled summer traffic in this Cape Cod community as they took up a collection and presented him with $110.

Invitation will go to Rice, Texas, Baylor or Texas Christian.

Kuesow said the four teams from the Southeastern Conference "have an edge" on Oklahoma and indicated San Francisco, who "are still definitely in the running."

Bucknell, one of the teams under consideration for the Gator Bowl, has been invited to the Tangerine Bowl, officials at Orlando announced last night.

The Lewisburg, Pa., team, which completed an unbeaten season last Saturday, has until Saturday to accept the invitation.
