Lyle C. Wilson Says War Not Around Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: The United Press Washington manager has spent the past months in England, France, Germany and Italy. He has interviewed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and European leaders. In this dispatch he sums up his findings.

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—(UP)—World War II may be on its way but it is not yet in sight, nor just around the corner. That is the way it looks today to the top military and political brass of Europe as the people of the West begin their Christmas shopping.

In other words, 1952 is expected to be about as peaceful as 1951. That is faint praise, for sure, but it could be worse.

Moving for some weeks among the capitals and provincial cities of Western Europe, I got the impression that war jitters are less acute here than at either end of Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington. Western Europe is a lot closer to war geographically than is the United States. That may be why Western Europeans refuse to concede No. III is inevitable. It surely is the reason many persons here fear that provoked or impatient Americans may lose the lightning prematurely.

BUT THERE'S ANXIETY
There is real anxiety about that. Watch closely when Prime Minister Winston Churchill visits President Truman in the U. S. Churchill will want many things. One of them is sure to be some kind of British brake on the use of American A-bomb airplanes based in Great Britain. Europe in general does not trust our finger on the trigger.

Our allies and friends do not accept the Communist Party line that money-hungry American billionaires itch for the profits of World War III. Western Europe's fear is that hot-tempered Americans may suddenly get fed up and say:

"To hell with this. Let's get it over with."
The thought of that all but paralyzes a European living in the path of Russian ground troops and under skies open to Red bombers. But (Continued on page two)

Hit-And-Run Charge Is Faced By Driver

Charlie B. McCorquodale, 22, of Godwin today faced charges of hit and run driving in Harnett Recorder's Court following an accident Saturday night in South Erwin in which William Porter, 25, of Erwin, a pedestrian, was injured.

Meanwhile, Porter is in Good Hope Hospital with a broken right leg and a lacerated arm. More than 100 stitches were required to close the cuts on the arm, ripped from the shoulder to the hand, by the door handle to McCorquodale's car.

Patrolman Paul G. Albergine said the accident happened as Porter started to cross Highway 217 in front of Pauline's place in South Erwin. The officer said eye witnesses told him that as Porter stepped into

Boy Scout Ax Used To Slay Mom, Daughter

DETROIT (AP)—Police hunted an 18-year-old assistant Scoutmaster with an uncontrollable temper today for questioning in the Boy Scout ax slaying of his mother and 11-year-old sister.

The bodies of 44-year-old Mrs. Daley Maurer and her daughter, Janet, were found last night by her husband, Lawrence, 46, when he came home from his job as a supervisor at the Cadillac Motor Car Co.

The body of Mrs. Maurer was lying on the floor of her bedroom, her head and face battered and her palms ripped to shreds. The walls and furniture were spattered with blood.

THROAT SLASHED
Screaming for his young daughter Janet, Maurer tore upon a closet door to find her body slumped on the floor, her head almost severed by the slash in her throat. She, too, was still clad in her pajamas.

Maurer, overcome with hysteria, fainted in the arms of a neighbor who ran into the house when he heard the man screaming.

"Where's Ken? Look for Kenneth," Maurer sobbed to police.

His son Kenneth, an assistant Scoutmaster employed as a forester with the City Department of Parks and Recreation since his graduation from high school last spring, did not show up for work yesterday, his employers said. Neighbors said they saw the youth leave the house about 10 a.m.

The mother, a slight woman weighing about 100 pounds, apparently put up a fierce struggle before she died. Shreds of clothing (Continued on Page Two)

Over $45,000 Yule Checks Mailed Today

Final details of the Christmas parade to be held here Saturday evening were ironed out at a meeting of committee chairmen with the parade co-chairmen yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce office. Christmas lights are now being hung here.

Billy Pearsall and Charles Whitenton, parade co-chairmen, urge those who plan to sponsor floats in the parade, to get in touch with them without delay. The parade promises to be the longest and most colorful in Dunn history, and they want to assign positions as soon as possible.

Clarence McLamb, Parade Chairman for the Chamber of Commerce and James Snipes, head of the retail merchants committee are planning to roll the merchants to find out whether or not they wish to stay open Saturday night.

TO POLL MERCHANTS
"The majority will rule on this," Snipes declared, "if the majority of the stores are in favor of remaining open after the parade, we will all go along with them."

Bands which have accepted invitations to participate are: Dunn (Continued on Page Two)

Drive Is Slated For Old Plates

Poll Reveals Ike Strongest In The South

By UNITED PRESS
A leading GOP senator today threw his support to a Taft-MacArthur presidential ticket, as Eisenhower backers hailed the "sensational" results of a public opinion poll showing Gen. Ike as the party's strongest candidate for Southern votes.

And while the Republicans continued to wage their inter-party tug o' war, the Democrats renewed their pledge to clean house in the administration.

TRUMAN TO CLEAN HOUSE

Demo national chairman Frank E. McKinney said last night he and President Truman will rid their party of "any termites" in public offices guilty of political corruption.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart said today he favors a Republican presidential ticket of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Douglas MacArthur with either man in the top spot.

"Either MacArthur," and Taft or Taft and MacArthur," the Indiana Republican told newsmen. "Take your choice."

Capehart made the statement in support of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower hailed the "sensational" results of a Gallup poll showing the general to be a stronger candidate than either Taft or Gov. Earl Warren of California against President Truman in 13 Southern states.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., R-Mass., Eisenhower campaign manager, said the poll proved the general's "tremendous popularity" in the South.

AHEAD OF TRUMAN

The survey showed Eisenhower and Warren running ahead of Mr. Truman in Southern sentiment, with Taft trailing in the chief executive. Eisenhower ran well ahead of Warren.

Lodge said the figures proved Eisenhower's "tremendous popularity" in unchallengeable fashion.

"This popularity must be expressed at the Republican national convention in the votes of delegates from these states," he said.

The renewed Demo pledge against corruption in office was made last night by the new party chairman at a $100-a-plate dinner meeting of the Democratic national committee.

McKinney told 2,500 Democrats that "any man who betrays the (Continued on Page Two)

Police Probe Shooting Here

Dunn police are investigating the shooting of Ed Junior Smith, Dunn Negro, who was badly wounded in the leg by the blast from a shotgun in the "Korea" section of Dunn.

Civil Suits Filed With Harnett Clerk

Two civil suits involving Dunn farmers were filed this week with the Harnett County Clerk's office.

William C. Williams and James H. Williams, plaintiffs, have filed suits against J. M. Neighbors, defendant, for the recovery of a $1,000 note and farm implements stolen on October 21, 1945.

R. A. Chisholm has brought a suit against J. C. Jackson for the recovery of a $1,000 note and farm implements stolen on October 21, 1945.

Other recent suits filed include that of Union Shirt Co. Inc. against Harry Schafman of Jillingston, N. C., for the recovery of a $1,000 note and farm implements stolen on October 21, 1945.

Three divorce actions have also been filed. They include the case of Leslie C. Graham against Guy H. Graham on grounds of two years separation.

Betty Jean Carr is asking for divorce from Raymond H. Carr, now of Georgia, on grounds of adultery. The plaintiff asks custody of Raymond H. Carr, III, now two years old. She alleges Carr earns $400 per month or more and asks for a payment of $75 a month for the care of the child.

Ruby McG. Cameron is suing Eugene Cameron for divorce on grounds of abandonment, and is asking custody of their two children, Marjorie Gene 4, and Harold Lee 3.

There's still some business going on at four Harnett Schools, indicating County Superintendent of Schools G. T. Duff reported today that the county's huge building program is not yet finished.

Reds Opposing Inspection Behind Lines

PANMUNJOM, Korea. — (UP) — With a provisional Korean cease-fire line agreed upon, new discord between the Allies and the Communists arose today to dim hopes for an armistice by Christmas.

The latest impasse came from a United Nations demand for the right to go behind Red lines as far north as the Manchurian border during an armistice to make sure the Communists do not build a new invasion army.

The Reds immediately rejected the demand.

Chief U. N. delegate Vice Adm. Joy Turner made the demand presenting a seven-point cease-fire program to the Communists at resumption of full-scale armistice negotiations.

AGREE ON FURTHER STUDY
The Communists at once rejected the proposal and pressed for adoption of a five-point program of their own. Joy said it was "not good enough." Both sides agreed to study the question further and to return at 11 a.m. Wednesday (Continued on Page Two)

ENFORCEMENT PROBLEM
The truce teams plunged immediately into consideration of items on their agenda—concrete arrangements for and enforcement of truce—after ratifying a 145-mile fire line and buffer zone. The rest of the armistice terms are set within 30 days.

One Burglary Reported

One burglary and one attempted burglary were reported to the Dunn Police Department.

The Tractor Department of the Johnson Cotton Company was entered by prying open a window and a candy and Coca-Cola machine looted. The Coca-Cola machine yielded about $20 in cash and the candy machine about $5. Gun and jewelry were also taken.

Register reported that an offender had pried the screen off one of his windows. The burglar was evidently frightened away, however, because the home was not entered.

D. Gale Johnson In Train Smash-up

Dr. Gale Johnson of Dunn was aboard the ill-fated train that crashed at Woodstock, Ala., Sunday afternoon at Woodstock, Ala., killing 17 and injuring 70 others.

The Dunn physician, who is spending three years studying at the famed Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans, was not injured, however.

Dr. Johnson spent Thanksgiving here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan M. Johnson. He flew home and had planned to fly back but could not get reservations on the plane due to the heavy holiday traffic.

Early Monday morning, the young doctor's wife in New Orleans telephoned the Johnsons here to advise them that Dr. Johnson was not among those injured in the crash.

Several Are Boosted To Succeed Fields

Harnett County Clerk Robert Morgan pointed out today that it will be at least a week and possibly longer before he fills the vacancy on the Harnett County Board of Commissioners and the county welfare board caused by the resignations of C. G. Fields of Erwin.

Mr. Fields, vice chairman of the Board of Commissioners and chairman of the Harnett Welfare Board, has tendered his resignation to Chairman Lofton A. Tart to devote all his time to private business matters.

"Actually, I haven't been officially notified of Mr. Fields' resignation though I read it in 'The Daily Record,'" pointed out Mr. Morgan.

TO BE NOTIFIED MONDAY
Chairman Tart said he would present the resignation at the next meeting of the county board on Monday morning.

Clerk Morgan pointed out that naturally he could take no action until he is officially notified of Mr. Fields' resignation.

Meanwhile, various political groups in the district represented by Mr. Fields started campaigns for their favorite candidates.

A number of prominent names are being talked for the vacancy. Among those most mentioned are: Webb Deane Angier, Herman A. Halloran, Erwin political leader and Harnett Creek Township and Harnett gun of Southern Township. It will go down to the polls. Pointing it made.

If there is a tight race, it is pointed out, it may be that Harnett Democratic Party will try to make the best use of the situation.
