BOARD APPROVES HEALTH CENTER, NAMES OFFICIALS

List-Takers Selected At Board Meeting

BY LOIS BYRD
Record Staff Writer
Harnett County Commissioners yesterday voted approval of the new Dunn Health Center, provided county funds for this purpose do not exceed $20,000, and re-appointed for one year terms the present tax supervisor, the auditor and the county home manager.

A variety of business and welfare matters occupied the attention of the commissioners who held a lengthy all day session. At the close they witnessed the destruction of 11 cases of bonded whiskey and large quantities of beer which had been stored in the jail. In addition 34 whiskey stills also got the axe.

Need of a new health center at Dunn was highlighted by the report made by the Harnett County Grand Jury at its last session that facilities there were totally inadequate and obsolete.

A delegation of Dunn citizens headed by Dr. Charles Byrd, member of the county board of health, appeared before the commissioners and explained that 74.6 percent of funds needed to build a new center may be secured through the North Carolina Medical Care Commission provided the county and the town of Dunn will provide the remaining 25.4 percent.

Cost of the proposed center would

School Board Insurance Is Increased

Insurance coverage for school buildings in Harnett County will be for 100 per cent of the value of the property and its contents, under the re-valuation program of insurance, suggested by the State Board of Education.

This was decided at the meeting last night of the Harnett County Board of Education. The premium will be 26.3 cents per hundred. Schools in the county have an assessed valuation of approximately five million dollars.

NEARLY DOUBLED
The amount of insurance was increased from $2,566,400 carried last year to approximately $5,000,000 for this year and includes 100 per cent coverage on all new and old buildings and contents.

Seventy-five per cent coverage at 29.2 cents per hundred would have cost approximately $11,000, while 100 per cent coverage at the lower rate of 26.3 cents per hundred will cost approximately $13,000.

Superintendent Profit said the buildings couldn't be replaced for anywhere near the sum of five million dollars.

Three years ago the business was taken away from private agents in the county and turned over to the State, marking the entrance of the

Dr. Poteat To Read Carol At Campbell

The Annual Christmas Carol Festival being held in the D. Rich Memorial auditorium on the campus of Campbell College Sunday night, December 9, will have as its principal attraction the reading of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" by Dr. Edwin McNeill Poteat of Raleigh.

Dr. Poteat, a distinguished minister of the gospel, is a world-famed author, poet, composer and musician. Among his works of art he has given to the world such outstanding books as "Coming to Terms With The Universe," "Jesus And The Liberal Mind," "Rev. John Doe, D. D.," "Thunder Over Sinai," "The Social Manifesto of Jesus," "The Centurian" (a dramatic poem), "These Shared His Passion," "These Shared His Cross," "These Shared His Power," "Four Freedoms and God," "Over The Sea," "The Sky," (book of poetry), "God Makes The Difference," and "Parables of Christ." Internationally acclaimed as a composer, his most recent hymn "Eternal God Whose Searching Eye Doth Scan," has been published by Harper Brothers in their newest hymnal entitled "At Worship."

FIRST OF ITS KIND
The Christmas Carol Festival is the first program of its kind to be held in this area. This event, being sponsored and promoted by the officers of the Campbell College Concert Association, is designed to help preserve and revitalize the true Christmas Spirit. Sponsors and others cooperating to make this an outstanding attraction hope to make it an annual event for the people of this area.

One Dead, Four Hurt In Wreck

Stevens and Co. of Greensboro, textile firm.
ON STRAIGHT ROAD
Highway Patrolman R. B. Leonard said the accident happened on a straight stretch of road near Rogers Service station.

The officer said the tractor-trailer, loaded with only a few packages, was traveling west. Wood stated that his left front wheel brake locked and he pulled across the road and crashed head-on into the car driven by the Coats Negro. Evans was going east in the direction of Bulls Creek.

Leonard reported that Harnett County Coroner Grover Henderson said he will hold an inquest into the death of Evans at a later date, possibly when hospitalized wreck victims may be questioned.

New Banquet Room Honors General Lee

The Town of Dunn will soon have for the first time a large, modernistic dining room and banquet hall large enough to accommodate civic clubs, social functions and other big events and it will be named in honor of the late Major General William C. Lee, Dunn native and father of America's airborne troops.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barnes, operators of Johnson's Restaurant, announced this morning that, through special permission of Mrs. Lee, the beautiful new dining-emporium will be named "The General Lee Room."

Johnson's Restaurant, located on the busy Highway 301, is already a favorite stop for tourists and addition of this room paying tribute to Dunn's most distinguished native will make it an even greater attraction.

Large photographs of General Lee, airborne marauder and hero of the battle of Iwo Jima, will be used to decorate the large room.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes got the idea for the General Lee Room because of the large number of tourists who stopped and asked about the famed soldier who organized, trained and developed America's mighty airborne army and then wrote the doctrine; used in the D-Day invasion of Normandy before his death.

NEARLY READY

Johnson's Has New Manager

William Alton Fetner of Raleigh has been appointed manager of Johnson's Restaurant in Dunn and has already begun his new duties. It was announced today by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barnes, the owners.

Mr. Fetner is one of the State's best known restaurant operators and before coming to Dunn managed the Gold Leaf Restaurant in Fuquay Springs.

Before going to Fuquay, he served as head chef at the Wilkie Hotel in Sanford.

"I feel at home in Dunn," declared Mr. Fetner this morning, pointing out that he served as mess sergeant for Dunn's National Guard battery during World War II.

He has won a number of awards in restaurant management and is

Shell Property Taken Into City Limits; Other Matters Taken Up

By LOUIS DEARBORN
(Record Staff Writer)
City Manager Oliver O. Manning and City Clerk Charles Storey were instructed last night to "crack down" on delinquents on private licenses, by seeking indictments at the Town Board meeting last night. The penalty is now up to 25 per cent for those who have not renewed. The deadline was put forward from June to August, and monthly penalties of five per cent assessed since then. Delinquents are to be given ten more days to pay up "or else."

The problem of supplying a new case for the Dunn Police Department was tabled until the next meeting because there was but one bidder. However, the board decided to install a rebuilt motor in the present vehicle.

DEAR SANTA

Dear Santa,
I am eight years old. This is what I would like to have for Christmas: a big doll, a nurse set, and a nurse's uniform.

My sister is five years old. She would like to have a doll and cowgirl suit. Her name is Ginger. I have a tiny sister too. She is two weeks old. Don't forget her. Her name is Wanda Jo.

I hope you have a Merry Christmas.
Love,
