grounds her striptease was "pure art."

SEED LOVE TO

He said he'd like to have her undress before the jury of 10 women and two men to prove it.

Lill said she'd love to, if she could do it in Ciro's with "the proper atmosphere."

The main issue, in yesterday's session, was whether Lill climaxed her act with a bump and a grind. Three sheriffs have testified they saw her.

Herman Hover, Ciro's owner, testified indignantly that they could not have because Lill didn't give 'em.

He threw the courtroom into howls of laughter when he demonstrated just what it was Lill didn't do. "A bump is a . . . well . . . a pelvic propulsion," he testified, "and a grind is a circular movement of the hips without moving any part of the body."

Then at Ciesler's request, Hover went into his act.

"Did Miss St. Cyr do a bump and a grind on the night in question?" Ciesler asked.

"Absolutely not," said Hover.

Attorney William G. Ruymann, a member of the Nevada Marriage and Divorce Committee, said he would submit evidence to the State Bar Association indicating Sinatra failed to comply with Nevada residence requirements when divorcing his wife Nancy here Nov. 1.

LEGAL SLIP-UP

Ruymann said the singer listed a Nevada residence on legal documents when he received his divorce but that he gave a California residence when he obtained a license to marry Miss Gardner one day later in Philadelphia.

Nevada legal authorities have pointed out in the past that the state's requirement that a person establish permanent residence here before obtaining a divorce is a officials from throughout the 16th District, and Parker was introduced by District Commander T. L. Smith of Siler City.

HITS AT LAXITY

The State chief declared that Washington has been extremely lax in ferring out the Communist and other enemies of America now holding office.

He cited specifically the case of Alger Hiss, who attended the San Francisco peace conference as aide and advisor to the late President Roosevelt and turned out to be a traitor to America.

"When you're dealing with Communists these days," said Parker, "you're dealing with gangsters who have the atomic bomb."

OUTLINES PROGRAM

The speaker outlined the program of the Legion from rehabilitation and child welfare through national defense and reminded the veterans that, "We are the accepted leaders of a free world whether we like it or not. The rest of the world looks to us and we must be strong."

The State Commander was welcomed to his hometown by a number of old-timers, including Dr. J. M. Morgan, who attended the charter meeting of the Legion in Paris in 1918, by Carl Fitchett, Sr., Ralph Wade and a number of others.

Parker's father once operated the old Bijou Theatre in Dunn, but moved away when the State commander was only two.

District Commander Smith spoke briefly. Among visitors were Carl G. Butler of Pittsboro, Sammy Hesse of Siler City, Prentiss Sloan and Bobbie Wrenn of Lillington, Frank Wilson of Broadway and M. B. Matthews of Buie's Creek.
