Chester Brown (Continued From Page One) Brown, the new lodge master, is the son of the late J. A. C. Brown, retired Army man who lived on Lillingston Route 2. Within recent weeks, Brown in partnership with Mrs. Vertie Allen bought an interest in the B. and A. Grill, formerly known as Jack's Grill at the fork of 15-A and the road to Ft. Bragg. He is also bookkeeper at the Farmers Cotton Oil Company, a position he has held for nearly five years. Prior to that he was associated briefly with Sanitary Dry Cleaners. The new lodge master served in the Army during World War II from September, 1942 to January, 1946 and saw service in Europe. In June, 1948 he was married to the former Miss Doris Byrd of Bunnlevel Presbyterian Church where he is now assistant superintendent of the Sunday School and teaches a class of intermediate boys. The total cost of the Pentagon in Washington plus outside facilities was $63,645,954.
