

HEARST REGATTA—With the waters a little choppy, sailing craft in the 18th annual William Randolph Hearst All-Clubs regatta come under the camera glare as the San Francisco skyline serves as a backdrop for this beautiful photograph.

Excitement is in the air and everyone is scurrying back and forth looking for that special gift for that special one. Students are looking forward to eleven carefree days away from books and school worries. We hear that the pretty new General Lee Room at Johnson's Restaurant will be the setting for several Christmas parties and dances. Be seeing you there and around.

Most of our college young folks will be flocking home this week and won't it be fun seeing them around town for a few weeks? Welcome home, boys and girls, we're always glad to see you.

Have you heard the latest? Virginia Turlington was proposed to by Jon Fitchett. I'm mighty glad she refused because we can't afford to lose any more boys. But naturally, folks, this was way back in kindergarten.

The FFA sponsored minstrel was mighty good to have had such a small audience. Suppose it was too near Christmas with too many conflicting events. Also most budgets are bursting at the seams now and we're wondering how to make our few dollars go the rounds.

A Florida conductor was only slightly injured when struck by lightning. Maybe he was a non-conductor.

Many people came from far and near to view the Living Nativity Scene at the First Baptist Church last year. We are going to have the opportunity of seeing it again and perhaps many more years to come. The performances began on Monday night at 7:30 and will continue each night thru Christmas Eve. If you did not see it last year, please do come because it is the most beautiful scene that could be shown at anytime. It is the real meaning of Christmas.

The Boy Scout Troop 71 is really enjoying Christmas in a big way. They are having a big dance Thursday night. All these boys will have their favorite girls spinning that night. (Not only their feet, maybe.) We'll have some new romances coming out of that night. But for those who are going, there are a big treat is in store for them.

Always give a woman driver half of the road, if you can tell which half she wants.

Walter Byrd succeeded in beating Charlie Hayward's time. He and Joyce Goetz are really making big time, but mark my words, folks, Charlie won't be without a girl long. He's just not that type!

Dunn High really started off basketball with a bang, by winning two games and tying the third in a triple header. Starting for our girls were Kay White, who scored 19 of the 40 points, and Jack Butt as guard. And for the boys, Tommy Wagoner was the outstanding player. Dunn was slated as the underdog against Lillington but emerged on top. We're expecting a successful basketball season. The cheerleaders were out strutting themselves in new sweaters and are they sharp!

The "Sardine Sayers"—oh, pardon me—the Sardine Players—entertained the student body with their performance of "Tom Sawyer" last week. Tom's half brother, Sid, stole the show and everyone was really thrilled by that good-looking Buck Finn!

The Band and Glee Club of Dunn High gave a joint Christmas Concert. William Carbozz started as trumpet soloist with "Red Rhythm Valley," and Fannie Sue Turnage with a vocal solo in "Silent Night." All in all, it was really wonderful. Nothing like music at Christmastime.

Seems like D. B. Register leaned out a bit too far with Joy Lou Edwards. She is now seen quite regularly with Roy Byrd. Better watch out, D. B., Joy Lou is a cute girl.

The average person's trouble are chiefly imaginary—the kind hardest to cure.

Buteh Fowler is really sporting Jan Aycock around the town. Really Blotch, don't you think the other boys will get jealous if you capture Jan's heart? But I don't blame you, although no one's done it yet?

Definitions of our Favorite Expressions: What's you say, Sport—in other words—Hello, friend.

How'er ya getting along—How are you?

Oh Yeah—Better watch out. Sho' Nuff—Yes.

Say, there's two more dances I forgot to mention awhile ago. The Teenage Club and their big dance Thursday night which will be similar to the Boy Scout Dance and Morton Fleishman's big formal. He's requiring everyone to be dressed to the teeth but of course the girls won't. You should hear the girls talking about their new dresses. Some of them are really humping-ers!

GREENACRES, Wash. (AP)—Melvin Hanson spun his car on a slick street on a rainy night to demonstrate to friends how well it whirled. Two of the spectators were deputy sheriffs. Hanson was cited for negligent driving.

Asks Lots of $$$$ Pretty Martha Morris Devigier, 16, Torrance, Cal., high school girl who recently wed Roland Devigier, 28, Swiss manufacturer, has filed suit for separate maintenance and $12,000 a month. The marriage lasted just fifteen days. Martha asks the large monthly sum so she can live in the manner in which she became accustomed during the short span the union lasted. (Internationally)
