

Open House Held Friday Night At Hubert Peays

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Peay and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Harrell entertained at a holiday open house Friday night from 8 till 10 o'clock. The party was at the Peay home.

Decorations carried out the Christmas and New Year motif. In the receiving hall, silvered foliage and candles were used. The living room mantel was graced with an arrangement of greenery, candles, and plastic snow balls.

The dining room color scheme was red and white. Red candles in two branched candelabra and an original snow scene in plastic foam formed the decoration for the buffet. The dining room table, covered with a cutwork cloth was centered with candles in a three branched candelabra.

The hosts and hostesses received at the front door and Mr. and Mrs. James Yates in the dining room.

The refreshments consisted of hot punch, chicken salad sandwiches, cheese biscuits, open faced sandwiches, and fruit cake squares topped with whipped cream and cherries.

Those assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Ed Hood, Mrs. James Snipes, Mrs. George Franklyn Black, and Mrs. Ballard McLamb.

Miss Dorothy Knox Schrum Married To Horace Hall In Ceremony At Newton

Miss Dorothy Knox Schrum of Charlotte and Newton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Franklin Schrum of Newton, became the bride of Horace Douglas Hall of Charlotte and Lillington, only son of Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Hall of Lillington in a beautiful ceremony Friday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church of Newton.

The Rev. R. F. Hall, father of the bridegroom, officiated, assisted by Rev. T. M. Shoffner, pastor of the church. The vows were spoken before an altar arrangement of Kentia palms, Oregon fern and southern smilax interspersed with large altar baskets filled with white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums, and a seven-branched wrought iron candelabra holding lighted white Cathedral tapers. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Winnie Simpson, organist, and Rev. Roy E. Leimbach, baritone, presented a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Simpson played "Intermezzo" by Provoost, "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg, "To a Wild Rose" by MacDonald, "To an Evening Star" by Wagner, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens, and "Through the Years" by Heyman and Youmans. As the candles were lighted by Edward and Frank Schrum, brothers of the bride, Mrs. Simpson played "O Perfect Love" by Barby on the chimes. Rev. Leimbach sang "Oh Promise Me" by DeKoven and "Goin' as the Night" by Bohm. During the ceremony the organist played "Libesträum" by Liszt and after the benediction Rev. Leimbach sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The wedding march from said goodbyes.

Around 140 guests called during the evening.

"Lohengrin" by Wagner was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recession.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and Capt. Hugh Lee McKinney of Arlington, Va., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Edward and Frank Schrum, and Joe Lawrence, all of Newton. Bill Childers and A. T. Brown of Charlotte, and Robert James Hall of Baltimore, Md., cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin fashioned with long tapering sleeves and low, sheer décolletage. The tightly fitted bodice of Gros-Point-de-Venise lace accented the full skirt which fell into a wide, sweep train. Her two-tiered finger-tip veil was a candlelight circle of French imported hand-made Princess lace and was worn with a pearl studded calot. The bride's only ornament was a cameo brooch, an heirloom of the family worn by her maternal grandmother. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white gladioli, lily-of-the-valley, and French illusion centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jacquelyn Vere Thompson of Wilmington, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of fire opal falls fashioned with strapless draped bodice outlined with French scrolling topped with brief Victorian capelet. The skirt, made full with back inverted pleats, accented the slender waistline. Her head dress was an ashes-of-roses ostrich tip. Short white gloves completed her costume. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet, similar to the bride's, of shaded camellias, feathered carnations, and pom-pom chrysanthemums in delicate shades of pink tipped with silver.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward P. Schrum, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. J. D. Cochran, Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Abernethy, Jr., all of Newton; Mrs. Robert H. Lineberger of Lillington, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Hugh Lee McKinney of Arlington, Va., and Miss Ruth Hall of Wilmington, Del., sisters of the bridegroom. Their gowns were fashioned like the maid-of-honor's as were their head dresses and bouquets.

Little Miss Helen Pharr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pharr of Charlotte, and little Miss Susan Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd also of Charlotte, were flower girls. They wore floor-length dresses of fire-opal taffeta covered with matching net and trimmed with scalloped ruffles. Their head dresses were bandeaus of delicate pink net trimmed with rhinestones and baby ostrich tips. They carried dainty baskets of pink net tied with pink satin ribbon and filled with rose petals.

Mrs. Schrum, mother of the bride, wore a gown of mist-blue crepe and imported Chantilly lace with bustle side-drape, rhinestone and silver accessories and a corsage of hybrid pink orchids.

Mrs. R. F. Hall, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of soft grey crepe and lace, with steel bend and pearl trim, black accessories and a purple orchid corsage. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schrum. Guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Whitener, assisting at the reception were Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mr. and Charles Mebane, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Rudisill, Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Lefler, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reinhardt, all of Newton and Mr. and

SYKES-CULBRETH MARRIAGE VOWS ARE SPOKEN IN SALEM CHURCH

In a ceremony marked with simplicity, Miss Claire Lynn Culbreth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harold Sykes, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sykes of Godwin, route 1, Sunday afternoon, December 23, at 4 o'clock in Salem Methodist Church in Fayetteville. Rev. Daniel Lane, pastor of the church, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Vows were spoken before the altar which was decorated with arrangements of mixed white flowers in standard baskets.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Fletcher McLaurin, organist, and C. Daniel Patterson, uncle of the bride, soloist.

Mrs. McLaurin played "Traumerei" (Schumann) and "One Alone" by Romberg.

Mr. Patterson sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" (Stollis) and "O Promise Me" (DeKoven). "Seal Us, O Holy Spirit," was sung as the bride and bridegroom knelt for the benediction. The traditional wedding marches were played for processional and recession.

The couple entered the church unattended. The bride wore a suit of navy blue with mauve accessories and a purple orchid in shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Culbreth, mother of the bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of tiny carnations. Mrs. Sykes, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a black suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Both of bride and bridegroom are graduates of Central High school.

Mr. Sykes is employed with the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company.

Immediately following the ceremony
