

Firemen Get

(Continued from page one) men were summoned to a grass fire in a vacant lot in the 900 block on Layton. The fire, on property owned by the Henry C. Lee estate and others was extinguished at 4:35 p. m. Cause was unknown. Nineteen men answered the alarm. Wednesday at 10:12 a. m. the firemen were summoned to the residence of James O. Elmore at 605 East Pearsall. Elmore called back, however, and said the fire was out, before the truck left the station. Nineteen men answered the alarm. At 12:35 Wednesday the alarm sounded again. The call was to the 500 block on South General Lee Avenue where an International tractor, owned by L. E. Pope, Sr., and operated by his nephew, Henry Pope, had caught fire and exploded. The flames ignited the grass and the tractor was badly burned. Young Pope escaped with slight burns. Twenty-one men answered this alarm.

Young Nurse Just Too Too Efficient

The great lengths to which imaginative play-acting may be carried by children was demonstrated in Benson a few days ago when eight year old Virginia Barefoot, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. J. R. Barefoot, was serving as nurse for her ill mother. Mrs. Barefoot, although not seriously ill, was confined to her room and Virginia was the attentive, efficient nurse in the afternoons when she returned home from school. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Barefoot's missionary circle met and when the meeting adjourned several of the ladies decided to call by the Barefoot home to visit the sick member. When they approached the front door they were surprised and alarmed to find a "No Visitors" sign on the door. A neighbor, Mrs. S. D. Stone in whose home Mrs. Barefoot's pastor, Rev. Ivey T. Poole, has an apartment while a new parsonage is being erected, was also concerned when she answered her door bell and Virginia's brother, John, inquired the way to the Poole quarters, Mrs. Stone, who knew that Mrs. Barefoot was ill, was further concerned when Rev. Mr. Poole and John Barefoot immediately left the house together. The solution, however, was simple when it was learned that John had only sought some reference books of the minister, which he had left the house to secure for John from the church study. Of course when Mrs. Barefoot learned that her would-be visitors were faced with Virginia's "No Visitors" sign she immediately sought to explain the situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Langdon, Mrs. Justus Parker, Miss Wilma Langdon, and Miss Melba Langdon spent Sunday with Dr. Gardner Morgan in Chapel Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith spent Monday in Charlotte.

ERWIN SOCIETY

Erwin Presbyterian Circle Meet With Mrs. Ray Lupold

Mrs. Ray Lupold was hostess to members of Circle Number One of the Erwin Presbyterian church at her home Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The home of the hostess was very attractive with winter berries and greenery. Mrs. Tony Harper, circle chairman, opened the meeting with prayer. The Bible Study of the 9th Commandment was given by Mrs. John McGill. The program for the evening on "Foreign Missions", was very interestingly given by Mrs. J. C. Graham. Following the program a routine business meeting was held after which the meeting adjourned with the group saying the Mispf Benediction. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed during which time the hostess served a sweet course with coffee to the following members: Mrs. Tony Harper, Mrs. J. C. Graham, Mrs. C. E. Raeford, Mrs. Dallas Johnson, and Mrs. John McGill.
