Coats Hi News

By RUTH DENNING

By RUTH DENNING

Last week was a week of work for the majority of the high school students. It seems that there is no getting around the fact that mid-term examinations must be given. For most of the students this meant a review of what had previously been studied and for an envied few, there were exemptions. But for the student who never seemed to keep up with his daily assignments, it meant hours of extra work. Now that examinations are over we may calmly look back and comment that they weren't really as bad as we thought at that time, but still we are glad they are over and behind us.

The high school chapel program given Thursday, January 24, was, presented by various students in the form of a variety program. The program consisted of the scripture, Jo Ann Ennis, prayer, Mr. R. Hal Smith; group singing; poem, Graec Ennis; trumpet solo, Maynard Mopoints. The final score was 28-38 which these two teams are doing.

The Coats basketball teams played at Erwin Tuesday night, January 22, Our girls lost, although the score doesn't tell of the hard work and playing put into the game. The most outstanding guards were Sue Langdon and Imogene Williams, while Josephine Johnson and Dorothy Stewart were high scorers with 10 points each. The final score was Erwin 41, Coats 27.

Our boys played a thrilling game, one which was close all the way. Tommy Pope and Rudolph Miller led in defense, with all the players putting on a good defensive game. Miller was high scorer with 12 in favor of Erwin.

The junior varsity team played Erwin the same night. This game was quite a different story. Coats won, 58-36. Stewart Hough and Leon Johnson had 19 and 14 points respectively. Hough led in defense, The record for the girls team is not what we would like for it to be, mainly because of a lack of experience. We have only a few forwards with previous experience, who have held some of the county's high scorers to low scores. The entre team is showing improvement
