

Dunn High Teams Lose Three Contests To Clinton Cagers

The Greenwave invasion of the Clinton gym last night was completely unsuccessful. The Dunn girls, boys, and Junior Varsity lost their games to the home clubs. The final scores were 46-33 for the girls, 26-27 for the JV's and 47-37 for the Varsityes.

The strong Clinton JV's were led by McClannahan and Draughorn with 12 and 7 points. Bobby Day Godwin led the scoring for the locals with 15 points, 10 of them coming in the first quarter.

Barbara Strickland led the Clinton girls to their second win over the Dunn girls as she scored 20

Plainview Teams Defeat National Guard, Guardettes

The only non-high school basketball teams in Dunn, the local National Guard and Guardette teams, suffered another loss each at the hands of high school teams. The girls and boys from Plainview High took wins from the locals at Plainview last night, the girls by a 73-61 score and the boys by a 50-37 final.

Melrose Tart of the Guardettes was the big feature of the twin-bill however, she scored 43 points. In a previous game last week, Melrose scored 40 points against a strong Herring High team. Loise Johnson was second high for the visitors with 7 points. Francis Surles and Effie Lou McLean led the defensive play.

Sadie Jerriean led the winners with a small total of 35 points, and Shirley Sutton added a potent 21. Shirley Jerriean and Irish Ellmore topped the defense.

Visitors Weakened

The Plainview boys were held to a five-point lead at halftime, 29-21, but the home team scored 24 points in the second half while "Bobby B" was able to add only 16.

Jimmy Hinson topped the scoring in the boys' game with 20 points. Core scored 10 points for the winners. Henevett and Godwin starred on defense.

Lewis Smith and George Willoughby led the scoring for the Guard with 12 and 11 points. Paul Strickland Jr. and Jasper Norris led the defense.

The Guard and Guardettes will play the local high school tomorrow night for the second time this season. In the previous games, Greenwave teams took two victories.

MIAMI — (AP) — Bobby Dykes was "made" today even in fistic frustration.

The skinny slugger from San Antonio failed by a slim six points to win the welterweight championship of the world from Kid Gavilan. But as a 4 to 1 underdog who almost came through, he was done battling for biscuits.

Disappointed, sure. For when you come close to hitting the jackpot nobody expected you to, may be not even yourself, it's mighty hard to take.

So his face was etched with lines of despair last night after Gavilan won a split decision by the razor-thin-edge of 428 points to 422 in the first mixed fight in Florida ring history. And his frustrated fists hammered the dressing room table as he moaned.

"They told me I couldn't go 15 rounds, but now I know I could have opened up more. That's what hurts. And besides, my corner kept telling me from the 10th round on that I was way ahead on points. I was sure of it, too."

The stringy six-footer, who packs only 147 pounds, got off poorly because of nervous stomach which usually bothers him before he fights. It caused him to cancel one fight several months ago.

"It was the same way out there against Gavilan," he grunted, rubbing a red bruise under his right eye. "My stomach was tied in knots and I couldn't move out of my own way in those first two rounds."

Gavilan shook those knots loose with a rousing right hand to Bobby's chops in the second round. It dumped the quiet, clean-speaking 23-year-old flat on his back and his head bounced against the canvas.

"I thought for a second that maybe I should have stayed in Texas and stuck to my earlier ambition to be a rodeo rider," Bobby grinned. "No horse ever bounced me harder."

But Dykes, who fishes with golfer Sam Snead and wants to try his angling skill with Ted Williams, proved his gameness right there. He bounced up, clutched grimly through the rest of the round and part of the next, and then proceeded to take the play away from the free-swinging champion.

"If Bobby didn't win that one, he never won one in his life," barked his manager, Jimmy Parks.

A lot of other folks thought so, too.

Manager Hurley Has Double Desire; Cash For Matthews, IBC Revenge

By BILL McFARLAND
(U P Sports Writer)

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Jack Hurley, manager of Seattle lightweight sensation Harry "Kid" Matthews, today holds three aces and a kicker against a full house in one of boxing's greatest gambles.

The cage handler of Matthews, Las Vegas, Nev., gambler, himself and his fighting ace, against the International Boxing Club, the National Boxing Association, the New York Athletic Commission, and an ex-champion.

The kicker is Felix Bocchicchio, manager of heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott.

The stakes—a title shot for Matthews with Walcott.

INTERESTING ARRANGEMENT

The pot is oozing over with more than $250,000 guaranteed to Walcott is betting the cash of a millionaire.

Las Vegas, Nev., gambler, himself and his fighting ace, against the International Boxing Club, the National Boxing Association, the New York Athletic Commission, and an ex-champion.

The pros and cons of Matthews' rights to a title fight with Walcott have been hashed from one end of the country to the other. That doesn't matter to Hurley. The gambler is the thing, and if he wins, he will have accomplished a coup he's been gunning for during the last two years—a victory over his enemy, the IBC.

Hurley and Matthews have been waiting for this one.

WAY BACK WHEN

It all started in 1950, says Hurley. "The IBC turned down Matthews as a semi-main event. I told them then that someday they'd be asking for Harry. You'll have him in your hair from this day on. You'll have to have him because I'm going to make a great fighter out of him, and then when you want him, you'll have to pay through the nose to get him."

It might be said that Hurley is no respecter of titles, except the heavy crown. That may have been the reason for dodging the Joey Maxim scrap after he yelled long and loud to get a shot. Now the championship he wants most is within his grasp and he knew it was coming when he turned down a Maxim-Matthews bout.

"A champion isn't free," urges Hurley. "His matches are decided by promoters and boxing commissioners. Look at poor old Walcott. He wants to fight Matthews in the worst way and see what he's going through."

DETERMINATION AND CASH

"There is only one reason for being in the boxing business. That's money," said Hurley. "Titles . . . glory . . . scrapbooks don't mean a thing. The money counts."

He recalls another fighter of top caliber he once handled—Billy Petrolle. "He didn't have a championship or fancy scrapbook, but when he got blue, I always told him to look at his bankbook. When I made Billy retire he had about $250,000 saved."

"And that is the way it will be with Harry. He is going to get what it is worth to be in this business, and right now the big chips are down. Let 'em holler anything they like, but my boy is going to get a decent break in boxing," said Deacon Jack.

MANAGER HURLEY HAS DOUBLE DESIRE; CASH FOR MATTHEWS, IBC REVENGE

William & Mary Upsets N. C. State, Plays In Durham Tomorrow Night

RALEIGH — (AP) — The old jinx of the Norfolk City Auditorium and a sharpshooting William and Mary guard teamed up last night to shut out North Carolina State's perfect Southern Conference record and put the Wolfpack's league leadership in dire jeopardy today.

As the Indians have done three years in a row in Norfolk, William and Mary upset highly-favored State last night in a nip-and-tuck battle, 70 to 61.

The loss gave State an 8-1 conference mark. Challenging West Virginia can equal that with a win over North Carolina at Morgantown tonight.

The Wolfpack, playing its third straight game in four days, had trouble at the free-throw line and frequent fouls disrupted State's fast break.

Led by lanky Joe Aree, William and Mary played a slow, deliberate game and showed remarkable accuracy under the basket.

The Tribe, beaten by 36 points in an earlier State game here, led at halftime 35 to 34.

LEADERS IN UPSET

Aree scored 20 points to lead the Indians. Center Bill Chambers contributed 16 while Bobby Speight of the Wolf pack led the losers with 17.

Because of the State loss, tonight's West Virginia-North Carolina game gained added appeal. North Carolina, fighting for a tournament berth, is starting its crucial set on the Mountaineers home court where West Virginia is almost invincible.

In other games last night, Wake Forest edged by Davidson 64 to 63 at Davidson to bring the Deacons' conference mark to 4-5. Wake went ahead with a minute and 40 seconds to go and put a freeze. South Carolina dealt George Washington a blow with a 78 to 70 victory.

Outside the conference, Furman trapped Piedmont 86 to 51.

In a spotlight game tomorrow night Duke's Blue Devils, needing a victory to assure them a tournament berth, face William and Mary at Durham. Duke is riding on a five-game win streak.

Olympic Cage Playoff Goes To Kansas City

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the four opening-round Olympic tournament basketball games were shifted today from Madison Square Garden to the Kansas City Auditorium, March 29.

The transfer in playing sites was made in order to raise more money for sending the U. S. Olympic basketball team to Helsinki this year.

Accordingly, Asa S. Bushnell, secretary of the U. S. Olympic Committee, announced that the NCAA champion will meet the NAIB tournament winner and the national AAU champion will oppose the third or fourth place team in the AAU tourney at Kansas City instead of in New York as originally scheduled.

MORE MONEY EXPECTED

Kansas City interests protested new money could be raised by holding the Olympic tournament in Kansas City when Olympic officials committed the tourney to New York previously.

Ned Irish, executive vice president of Madison Square Garden, released the committee from its commitment to hold the entire tourney in New York after Olympic officials reconsidered the Kansas City bid yesterday.

Sugar Ray To Fight Bebo Olson On March 13 In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) After three postponements, the middleweight title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl "Bobo" Olson has been rescheduled for March 13, at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, according to promoter William P. Kyme.

Kyme said he reached an agreement on the new date with George Gainford, Robinson's manager.

The bout, originally scheduled for December, was postponed three times because Robinson allegedly suffered an injured back on two occasions and his mother became ill on another.

How to lose your side yard to your neighbor

It's easy. You just sit back and let your neighbor tend to things. Let him shovel the walk and rake the leaves and prune the trees — let him take over completely — five, ten, fifteen feet over your property line.

At the end of twenty years, he'll have a legal claim to every inch of ground he's cared for. And it will be too late for you to do anything about it.

We Americans can lose our freedoms in much the same way. We can sit back and let the federal government take over and run things — the doctors, the railroads, the electric light and power companies, for example. But the moment we do, we lose our way of life to socialism.

Most of us want to keep control of our property and our freedoms. And we can do it — if we don't let our neighbors or our government take over.

Lawyers call this "adverse possession."*
