

Greenwave Plays Final Game In Rockingham Tonight

Tommy Waggoner, Doc Corbett Play In Last Greenie Games

The Greenwave plays its last scheduled basketball game for '52 tonight at Rockingham where the locals will be the underdog to the third place Rockets. The JV's, who took a 34-25 decision before, will also play.

In a game played here on January 11, the Rockets bounced the locals by a 54-41 score.

An admitted weak Dunn entry in AA competition has become even less effective as some of the players have been lost to the squad during the season for various reasons, the latest being star center Tommy Waggoner, the backbone of the team. Tommy has been out for the last three games with an injured ankle. Tommy is expected to try to help the locals tonight despite his still-ailing ankle.

ROUGH ROAD
Coach Waggoner's boys have had rough sledding lately as they have dropped seven games in a row. Most of the games have been fairly close, however, especially in the opening half.

The two boys who have carried most of the load lately will have to supply most of the scoring punch tonight if the Greenies are to pull an upset.

The competition consists of well-known Bill McLean, the 6'7" footer, of 208 points, Sonny O'Brien, a small, speedy guard, led the Rockets in their conquest here earlier and he will undoubtedly cause trouble tonight. The third Rocket threat is Danny Dyson, a 6'1" sharp-shooter.

Good luck to the Greenwave on its last venture for '52.

DA Releases Star Kentucky Center; Ex-Cat Summoned

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Kentucky basketball player Jim Lane was to be questioned here today by District Attorney Frank Hogan regarding the fixing of basketball games during the 1949-50 and 1950-51 seasons.

Lane, who was scheduled to arrive here by plane early today from Kansas, was a Kentucky teammate of stars Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, and Dale Barnstable, who recently pleaded guilty to fix games.

Hogan said his agents had been seeking Lane for some time and had recently located him in Kansas.

Hogan related that his office has released Kentucky star Bill Spivey, who was questioned here this week. The DA's office would not comment on whether Spivey had given Hogan any information, but it was emphasized that no charges of any kind have been placed against Spivey.

A seven-foot, all-America center on the 1951 Wildcat team, Spivey is presently under suspension from the Kentucky squad at his own request "until my name shall be cleared in the basketball scandal."

ASSOCIATION TEAMS
The eight members of the Triple A American Baseball Association are Toledo, Columbus (O), Indianapolis, Louisville, Milwaukee, Kansas City, St. Paul, and Minneapolis.

NIT Picks Winner LaSalle, Loser NYU; Seattle Player Sets Record

By JOHN GRIFFIN (AP Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (AP)—Only one berth remained unfilled in the National Invitation basketball tournament today, but the competition was just starting to heat up for the 13 empty places in the NCAA post-season carnival.

The NIT brought the ranks for its March 8 opening near completion last night with the selection of New York University (16-6) and LaSalle (19-5).

The NCAA, with more time to get set for its March 21 opening, still has places for seven conference champions and six "members at large." The only teams so far assured for the NCAA are champions Kentucky of the Southeastern Conference, St. Louis of the Missouri Valley, and Texas Christian of the Southwest.

LaSalle celebrated its NIT acceptance last night by whaling Manhattan, with 24 points and Tom Gola,hattan College, 77-55, as Norm Grech with 22, led the assault. But NIT's celebration fell flat when the Wildcats were beaten 78-75, by St. Johns, also an NIT team, as Bob Zawoluk scored 24 points. St. Johns won the game.

E. Carolina, Apps Upset Victims In N. State Tourney

STATESVILLE (AP)—The North State Conference basketball tournament went into the semi-final round tonight with Guilford matched against Lenoir Rhyne and Elon against High Point.

Top-seeded Appalachian went down before an old foe last night, losing to Guilford 66-67 in a hard-fought contest. Traditionally the top-seeded team is nearly always eliminated.

Elon, second-seeded, took Catawba in a walk, 84-65. Catawba was only in the game for the first half.

SIX-MINUTE FREEZE
Western Carolina displayed some poor shooting and went down before High Point accuracy, 68-54. High Point maintained a good lead throughout the game and froze the ball for the last six minutes until they got a chance for five more points at the end.

Lenoir Rhyne came through with an upset and beat fourth-seeded East Carolina, 85-73. The win came mainly on the sharpshooting of Tony Sellari, who scored 26 points high so far in the tourney.

CAGE LANES
College basketball teams play on courts marked with six-foot lanes. The pro cagers use a 12-foot lane in effort to cut down use of "goons" under the boards.

Harnett County Cage Teams Lose In Sanford Tournament

The Benhaven High boys gave Sanford High a real battle before falling by a 42-39 score in the Mid-State Invitational Tournament at Sanford on Wednesday night.

Coach Fred Sweeney came trail-end most of the way but he pulled into a 19-19 tie at halftime and a 37-37 tie with only two minutes left in the game.

Ed McCormick and Joe Johns led the Western Harnett boys with 13 and 10 points. Other scores were Ted Reese 5, Billy Kelly 4, and Billy Olive 3. Billy Kelly and Ed McCormick played swell games for the red and white.

Lee Lawrence topped the Sanford scoring with 11 points, and Bud Castleberry and Harold McNeil made 8 each.

The Boone Trail girls ran into more than their match in the Sanford tourney as strong Bisco (24-21) trounced the Harnett team by a 68-30 score on Wednesday night.

B. T. picked up only 5 points in the opening quarter and only 1 point in the third period as the Montgomery County team poured it on Bisco, who holds an invitation to the state tourney at Aberdeen, was out-scored in the second period by Boone Trail by 14-10 as the leaders couldn't hold its pace with reserves.

Jean Stewart led the Harnett girls with 13 points. Others scoring for Boone Trail were Ernestine Mills and Joyce Stewart with 6 each and Helen Patterson 4.

Frances Long led Bisco with 31 points.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dramatic student Chio Vojar, prominent young waterweight lifter, meets the toughest test of his boxing career at Madison Square Garden tonight in the person of the crafty Canadian veteran Fritz Pruden. Odds-makers rated the rising young star from Stamford Conn., a 12-5 shot to win the television 10-round but ring-wise Pruden was drawing plenty of support.

GENTLEMAN REFEREE
Calling a technical foul on the crowd isn't the only answer to a case of foul play control of an unruly situation.

Ernie Quigley, former big league umpire, was working a contest between bitter, traditional rivals one night. He was having a bad evening and the crowd began to side him. Finally, Quigley could take no more. He blew his whistle and raised his hand. Everybody expected a technical foul.

But Quigley addressed the crowd in this manner:
"Ladies and gentlemen, I do not expect you to agree with all my decisions, but I do expect you to treat your opponents as your guests. Thank you."

From that point, the crowd behaved wonderfully and the game was back under control.

MIAMI—(AP)—Glamin' Sammy Sosa was meanin' the money this today as he prepared for a swift return to the golf tournament trail.

The man who reportedly has more money buried in tomato cans than there is in Fort Knox recently decided to build himself a house in Coral Gables. And to hear Sam tell it his new shanty cost more than a diamond-studded copy of the Taj Mahal.

"I've got to get back to work," complained the man who came out of the Virginia hills with little more than a stylish cigar and unconfined business.

It was quite a pretty sight to see a first cousin of Capt. John Smith, but the distance soon became known as an 1800 usually built stone building of Virginia. In his case it means that the man who reportedly has more money buried in tomato cans than there is in Fort Knox recently decided to build himself a house in Coral Gables. And to hear Sam tell it his new shanty cost more than a diamond-studded copy of the Taj Mahal.

"I've got to get back to work," complained the man who came out of the Virginia hills with little more than a stylish cigar and unconfined business.

RULES FROM ABOVE
North Carolina State College Basketball Coach Everett N. Case turned up with a bad cold on the day his Wolfpack was to face a tough intercollegiate foe, Villanova.

When the fans at the huge Villanova-N.C. Coliseum gathered in Raleigh, N. C., looked at the Wolfpack bench, Case wasn't there. Assistant Coach Carl E. (Butter) Anderson was directing the team.

Many fans thought Case had missed his first game in six years as boss of the Southern Conference Terrors. But Case merely went upstairs to the radio booths hanging beneath the calling and directed his team to a hard-earned win over the Wildcats by relaying his instructions via phone.

"We had considered using that system before," Case said, "but just never got around to it. It is a perfect way to watch a basketball game and find out what's wrong with play patterns and defense. A coach's seat on the bench is the worst place in the world to follow the game."

Now the Wolfpack mentor has Assistant Coach Vic Bubas stationed top-side to spot the details.

National Guard Team Puts Up Good Battle Against Youngsville

The strongly favored Youngsville National Guard team had quite a surprise when they met up with the county Battery "B" team last night at the Dunn Armory. The Youngsville Squad, made up mostly of six-footers and over were held to a 10-7 lead during the first quarter by the Dunn team.

The opening of the second quarter saw a new spurt in the Youngsville team and at the half-time whistle, the score was 25-17, still a good standing for the Dunn team as the favored squad has been used to a 90 point average and their standing was quickly dropping.

During the third period, the Youngsville squad took a strong lead and, despite quite a few wild passes, managed to take on a 50-31 lead, holding the home town boys to only three points during that quarter.

FAST PACE
The fourth period saw quite a bit of scoring on the parts of both teams, and some mighty fast playing also. The Youngsville squad rolled up 26 more points and the Dunn team chalked up 13; the most they made during any one particular quarter. The final whistle found the score 76-54, and both teams played a very impressive game.

Outstanding on the Dunn team in scoring was Smith, with 9 points, and Youngsville, Barnes, with 23.

Gavilan Troubled In Licking Don Williams

BOSTON (AP)—Hopes for an early crack at the world water-weight title faded today for short-roy Don Williams of Worcester after he lost a split decision to champion Kid Gavilan in a non-title 10-rounder.

Williams, who had licked four former world champions, was awarded a prompt return match for the waterweight title if he defeated Gavilan at the Garden last night.

STRONG FINISH
No one so close that the "Cuban Kid" had to put on a last minute flailing spurt in the ninth and 10th rounds to pull out a decision that was roundly booed by a sell-out crowd of 12,215 fans.

The hole-punching Gavilan, who spent his training period in clowning and rumba dancing, weighed in for the bout at 149 1/2 to 151 1/2 pounds.

Outstanding on defense for Dunn was Willoughby and Ross, and for Youngsville, Hart and James.

Gavilan almost put an end to the fight in the first round as he knocked Williams twice with a right and a left, but Williams bounced back and fought the champion to a standstill for the next seven rounds.
