Like Supporters Hint General To Return Soon

WASHINGTON (U) — The Eisenhower for President organization threw out new hints today that it hopes to put a flesh-and-blood candidate on public display before long.

Reports that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will come home before the July Republican convention persisted here despite contradictory dispatches from Paris that the European defense commander will not return in the foreseeable future.

A clear indication that Eisenhower is expected home before the GOP convention came last night in a speech by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Mass., manager of the Eisenhower campaign at Berlin.

"WILL PICK THE DAY"
Stumping the state in the final week of its leadoff presidential primary campaign, Lodge said Eisenhower "will pick the day" when his European assignment is finished.

And the senator said Eisenhower will decide when he can take over the vigorous leadership of this job at home which millions of his friends are now carrying forward in his name.

He said supporters can rest assured that "Eisenhower will be in the White House."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS
In other political developments: 1. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee entered Maryland's May 9 Democratic presidential primary as the only candidate in the race.

2. Rep. George M. Rhodes of Pa. announced his support of Kefauver as "the logical man to head the Democratic ticket."

3. Ervin Hohnes, national chairman of the MacArthur for President Committee, claimed that New Hampshire GOP voters will "elect the nation" March 11 by electing a full slate of convention delegates pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

4. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, entered Oregon GOP presidential primary, where Eisenhower and MacArthur had previously been entered.

5. Sen. Richard B. Russell D-Ga. said he is "gratified" at the support which Florida political leaders are giving his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Justesen Addresses Meeting Of Jaycees

Dunn Jaycees last night heard an outstanding address by Wayne Justesen, local photographer, voted to sponsor a public-speaking course, named Hubert Peay as projects chairman for the club and named Jack Hemmingway as the official Jaycee Bouncer.

A large crowd was present for the supper meeting, held in the General Lee Room of Johnson's Restaurant. President Bill Biggs presided.

Mr. Justesen, local photographer, retired Army officer and prominent civic and religious leader, addressed the Jaycees on "Possibilities and Opportunities of 1952."

He was introduced by Harry Phipps, who served with Frank McLeod as co-chairman of the program committee for the evening.

ALL THINGS POSSIBLE
Mr. Justesen, pointing out that all things are possible for those willing to try work and struggle, described 1952 as a great year of possibilities and opportunities.

He said the year offered possibilities for peace, for a moral and Christian uplifting, for new fields in science, culture and religion. The speaker reminded that the world today would not have electricity if Thomas Edison had not had vision and the courage to venture out into the unknown.

Mr. Justesen, who teaches the Young Married Couples Class at Hood Memorial Christian Church, asserted that no person has the right to sit down and say the job is finished, that there is nothing new under the sun.

To illustrate his remarks, the speaker quoted several passages and poetical sayings by famous authors.

President Biggs and other members of the club had high praise for the speech delivered by Mr. Justesen.

City Requested Truman Accused Of Failing To Cure Corruption

PHILADELPHIA (U) — President Truman was accused by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith R-Me of setting the "tone" for "lack of sensitivity to corruption in government."

She hurled the charge last night during a four-senator panel on "Integrity in Government" at the Philadelphia Bulletin's sixth annual forum. She said the cure would be a "new Republican administration."

Sen. Harry P. Cain R-Wash said he believes Mr. Truman means well, but, by claiming "there is nothing wrong in my house" he has "acted as front man for too many people who have taken advantage of him."

Two Democrats on the panel, Sens. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Blair Moody of Michigan, insisted that Democrats are cleaning out any wrong-doers in government but neither of them specifically came to the defense of Mr. Truman.

Plans for the colored Masonic lodge which was submitted and their request to build, turned over to the zoning commission for action. The building will be a business structure and the section is zoned as residential.

35 Killed By Earthquake In Jap Islands

SAPPORO, Hokkaido, Japan (U) — A powerful ocean-floor earthquake rolled eight tidal waves out of the Pacific against Japan's northernmost islands today, smashing and flooding thousands of homes, overturning trains and killing at least 35 persons.

Official reports said 169 persons were injured and 15 missing in Japan's most severe earthquake since the Fukui disaster of 1948, which killed 5,507 persons in Eastern Honshu Island.

Hokkaido and Northern Honshu Islands counted more than 2,000 coastal houses destroyed or washed away. Some 10,000 Japanese were homeless in bitter winter weather.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway ordered all American military units in the disaster area to "render all possible assistance." The U. S. Air Force began a mercy lift of relief supplies to stricken towns on Hokkaido.

No Americans or other foreigners were listed among the casualties. Little damage to U. S. 1st Cavalry Division and Air Force installations on Hokkaido was reported.

The earthquake, classed as "very strong," derailed five trains, snapped bridges, started landslides and ripped small fissures in the snow-covered coastal shelf of mountainous Hokkaido.

Two small fishing villages were isolated and officials said they may have suffered major disasters.

The entire 400-house village of Kiritappu was "washed away," according to police reports from the area. There was no immediate estimate of casualties there.

The big U. S. Air Force base at Misawa in Northeastern Honshu escaped damage.
