

United Press Picks All-American Basketball Team For 1952

Duke's Dick Groat Is Second Choice In Writers' Pick; Lovellette First

U.P. First Team Has 6'6" Height Average

By NORMAN MILLER
(United Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The United Press today announced its 1951-52 All-American basketball team made up of Clyde Lovellette of Kansas, Dick Groat of Iowa, Chuck Darling of Iowa, Cliff Hagan of Kentucky and Mark Workman of West Virginia.

A nationwide poll of more than 200 sports writers and radio broadcasters selected this coaches' "dream team" which averages six feet, six inches per man in height and has a combined scoring average of 24.5 points per man per game this season.

Lovellette, the six-foot, nine-inch Jayhawk center, who leads the nation's major college scorers with an average of 26.4 points for 22 games, was the outstanding choice on the team. He was a first or second team selection of 81 per cent of the voters. He is the only repeater from the 1950-51 United Press All-America first team.

Groat, the six-foot Duke dynamo, was the second most popular choice on the team, being named on 70 per cent of the ballots. Darling was first or a second team selection of 66 per cent of the voters, Hagan of 63, and Workman of 57.

TWO FROM SOUTH
The mythical team thus was made up of two players from the South, one from the midwest, one from the Midlands, and another from the border state of West Virginia. Lovellette, Groat, Darling and Workman are seniors; Hagan is a junior.

Lovellette is surprisingly agile despite his 230 pounds. Possessor of a deadly hook-shot, he has a remarkable 46 per cent field goal shooting average and never really has been "stopped" all season.

Groat, the smallest man on the team, is a rare combination of a prolific scorer and a great team player. In addition to ranking second among the major college point-makers with a 26-point average, the Swissvale, Pa., star leads the nation in assists with an average of eight per game. Groat is an unerring ball-hawk and a defensive standout.

Darling, a six-foot-eight center from Dearborn, Mich., was the most improved player in the Big Ten conference this season. His 20.1-point average for 21 games is third best among major college scorers.

Hagan, at six-foot-four, is one of the nation's "smallest" yet most effective centers. Although he invariably was forced to guard opponents who out-reached him from two to five inches, Hagan was a brilliant defensive player and one of the top 10 rebounders in the major college ranks. The Owensboro, Ky., youth has a scoring average of 21.6 points for 30 games.

Workman, a six-foot-nine center from Charleston, W. Va., is an exceptionally fine shooter and rebounder. Although he was hampered in his last few games by a cast on his face to protect a broken jaw, Workman maintained a 23.1-point scoring average for 23 games.

SECOND TEAM

Frank Ramsey, Kentucky's six-foot-three forward, was the leading choice on the United Press second team. He was followed in the balloting by Bob "Zeke" Zawoluk, six-foot-seven center from St. John's of Brooklyn, Bob Pettit, Louisiana State's six-foot-nine sophomore center; five-foot-nine Johnny O'Brien of Seattle, who became the first college player ever to exceed 1,000 points in a single season, and Rod Fletcher, six-foot-four Illinois guard.

A third team was made up of Don "Monk" Meinecke, six-foot-seven Dayton center; six-foot-seven Bob Houbregs of the University of Washington at Seattle; Ray Stein-

Campbell Loses To Lees-McRae

By EARL WRIGHT
(United Press Writer)

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Kentucky and Illinois again placed one-two today in the weekly United Press basketball rankings, but Kansas State's hold on third place was reduced to a single point by its arch Big Seven rival, Kansas.

Classy Kentucky, which during the week won the Southeastern Conference tournament, had its rating by the Board of Coaches slightly reduced. The Wildcats drew only 27 first-place votes out of 35, compared to 28 last, and a total point score of 331 points out of 350, compared with 353.

Illinois, on the other hand, received three first place votes, one more than last week, and 291 points, compared to 289.

WITHIN A STATE

But the real fight shaped up for third place where Kansas State received a total of 183 points in the balloting and Kansas, moving up from fifth place to fourth, received 181. These two teams collide Friday night at Lawrence, Kansas, in a game that will probably settle the Big Seven championship.

OFF THEIR PACE

Sam Frazier, Ronald Percise and Smith Langdon led the Camels with 14, 11 and 10 points. Frazier and Langdon, Campbell's leading scorers this season, were far below their usual pace.

Gregory and Street led Lees-McRae with 14 and 12. The same two teams met in Buies Creek on Wednesday night in the second game of the series. The local fans will want to compare Lees-McRae with Wingate. It will be the first appearance of L-S in the Campbell gym this season.

er, five-foot-ten St. Louis guard; six-foot-seven Jim Tucker of Duquesne, and six-foot-11 Walter Dukes of Seton Hall.

Among players getting honorable mention were Dean, LSU; Hamman, Washington and Lee; Hemrick, Wake Forest, Holt, Tulane; Morrison, South Carolina; Selvy, Furman, Speight and Terrill, N. C. State; Sullivan, Alabama; Vance, Mississippi State; and Watson and Whitaker, Kentucky.

GREENSBORO (U.P.)—Four of the first team 1951-52 All-Southern Conference basketball stars will lead their teams into the league tournament in Raleigh Thursday and three of them will close out their college careers.

Led by seniors Dick Groat of Duke and Mark Workman of West Virginia, unanimous choices, the all-Southern team was announced last night by the Southern Conference Sports Writers Association.

Groat and Workman captured the maximum 245 votes in the record poll of 49 ballots.

Both were also named to the United Press All-America team today.

Second Team includes Dvane Morrison of South Carolina, Bill Chambers of Washington and Mary, Jay Handlan of Washington and Lee, Bobby Speight of North Carolina State and Johnny Snee of Clemson.

Third team berths went to Neill Gordon of Furman, Al Lifson of North Carolina, Bernie Janicki of Duke, Lee Bawley of Maryland and Bill Cox of South Carolina.

Greenwave Begins Football Practice

Coach Waggoner reports that instead of the rain interfering with his practices, it is actually aiding him in getting off to the right beginning. The coach is installing the Split T at Dunn High next fall, and he needs plenty of time to teach his boys the new-to-them system.

The indoor sessions are just what the doctor ordered.

Nineteen boys reported for the Spring session, twelve holdover varsity members, four JV's, and five new gridders-hopefuls composed the group which met in a classroom with the coach yesterday. Probably six or eight other boys will report later.

Coach Waggoner told the boys about the advantages of the new T that they will be using this coming fall. He diagrammed some of the fundamental plays for them. He also showed the boys how the linemen take their positions in the T system.

Today, the indoor session will continue with a further knowledge of the new attack being given to the future Greenwave eleven.

Illinois Takes Another Big-Ten Title; Upsets Jar Wyoming, West Texas State

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Illinois, winning the Big 10 basketball championship for the third time in the last four years, moved today into a reserved berth in the NCAA post-season tournament.

The Illini took the title last night as they trounced Northwestern 95 to 74, while second place Iowa was upset by Wisconsin 78 to 75.

Thus, with 12 wins in 13 conference games and a two-game lead in the last column over Iowa, the Illini can lose their final league game of the season against Wisconsin on Saturday and still finish on top. A win Saturday would give them the same 13-1 loop mark they had last year.

The only consolation for the Hawkeyes was that Darling tallied 24 points to set the following league records for a season—364 points in 14 games, 132 field goals, and 100 free throws—and a three-year total of 716 points that smashed the league three-year record of 688 set by Don Rehefeld of Wisconsin and also the four-year mark of 675, also set by Rehefeld.

MISSED A CHANCE

West Texas State muffed a chance to win the Border Conference championship and an NCAA berth last night. Needing only a win over Texas Tech to clinch, the Buffaloes were upset, 69-64, at Lubbock, Tex.

Now the border title must be decided by a playoff between West Texas State and New Mexico A&M, each with a 9-5 league record.

The Big Seven race became a deadlock as Kansas State trounced Iowa State, 68-66. Now State is tied with Kansas with a 9-1 league record and the stage is all set for their titanic battle at Lawrence, Kans., on Friday.

COUPLE OF UPSETS

Wyoming and Holy Cross, a pair of teams already picked for tournaments, were also upset last night. Wyoming took a 60-44 drubbing from Colorado that may jeopardize the Cowboys' No. 10 national ranking.

Wyoming has clinched an NCAA berth as Skyline Conference champion.

Holy Cross, picked for the National Invitation tournament, lost to an old rival, Boston College, 64-61.

Leading games tonight include St. Johns NIT team ranked ninth nationally, against Brooklyn College; New York U, also NIT, vs. CUNY; and Columbia-Yale in the Ivy League.

Elon Makes N. A. I. B.

ELON (U.P.)—The Elon College basketball team will go to Kansas City Monday to represent the Carolinas district in the NAIB tournament.

Elon beat East Carolina 75 to 67 last night to win the finals playoff. It was the same game which was postponed last Tuesday because of snow.

ONCE AGAIN DAVIDSON

— For the third straight year, the annual Southern Conference tennis tournament will be held at Davidson College. Dates for the tourney are May 16-17.

Jack Burke Becomes Golf Power

Houston's Jackie Beats Bolt, Narry For Fourth

BATON ROUGE, La. (U.P.)—Jackie Burke Jr., the ex-Marine from Houston who has found the winter gold dust trail very profitable, moved on to St. Petersburg, Fla., today in search of his fourth consecutive major tournament victory.

The 29-year-old Burke, described as an "iceberg in the clutches" by the men who play against him, took his third straight tournament yesterday by outlasting two competitors in the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open.

The hard-earned win came after an extra 19-hole round and two holes of sudden death play. It was over sharp-shooter Bill Narry of Albuquerque, N. M., and Tommy Bolt, the fiery Texan who plays out of Durham, N. C.

SALUTE TO BURKE
"They'll have to get more talent than myself to keep Jackie from winning these tournaments," Narry said after missing a 20-foot putt on the second hole of the "sudden death" playoff that eliminated him.

Burke took the tournament and the $2,500 top money when he rolled in a 20-foot putt for a birdie in a 20-foot putt for a birdie on the second playoff hole, while Narry's birdie putt rolled over the cup.

Saddler Disqualified In Bout At Montreal

MONTREAL (U.P.)—The athletic commission was scheduled to hold a special meeting today to investigate last night's bout here between world featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and Canadian lightweight Mike Amund. Saddler was disqualified at the end of the third round of the non-title fray when Commissioner Eddie Gaudin ruled he was "not fighting" according to the rules and had been committing repeated fouls.

The athletic commission's decision to disqualify Saddler was made pending today's meeting.
