Schnozzola

TV WAS A NATURAL One of the far-seeing men of Hollywood, Abe Lastfogel, felt as Clayton did that television was made to order for the Schnozzola's warm, intimate kind of visual comedy.

Many conferences were held in Jim's back yard, with the Schnozzola, Clayton, Lastfogel, and executives of the broadcasting company participating.

"It is my hope that Durante will sign up for this," Clayton said. "It means an added annual income of two hundred thousand dollars for the next ten years. That would give him security. If he can't save something out of that for his old age, then to hell with him!"

Durante procrastinated. He would not sign the contract. Finally early in May he said to Clayton, "Lou, suppose you're not well enough to go East with me?"

Clayton studied Jim narrowly, as though to detect in Durante's question some doubt as to his eventual recovery. Then he said, "Since when did I ever let you down?"

"All right, then. Now let's hear Clem McCarthy broadcast the derby. I want to get my mind off your shabbiness."

Lou could still smile, as on a day when an interior decorator said, "Now, Mr. Durante, we should do over your dining room and put birds and flowers on the walls, and bring the outdoors indoors."

"When I want the outdoors," Jimmy replied, "I don't bring the outdoors indoors, but I go outdoors for the outdoors."

JIMMY STUCK BY LOU Durante stayed with Clayton in the hospital whenever his work would permit. Although Clayton lay in a drugged sleep most of the time, he would rouse on occasion to smile at Jimmy.

Toward the end, Lou told a group of friends: "Take good care of the big-nosed fellow. If I ever hear of anybody hurting him, I'll come down from Heaven and kill him."

Lou's eyes stayed alive when the rest of him seemed dead. And, peculiarly, his feet stayed alive. Beneath the bed linen those once great dancing feet kept moving in a quick, almost ceaseless, steady rhythm, subsiding only when he was entirely under the influence of sedatives.

E. H. Bost Speaks On Lent's Meaning To Group At Erwin

Mr. E. H. Bost was guest speaker to members of the Young People's Service League of Saint Stephens Episcopal Church at their regular meeting Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

The meeting opened with the group singing the youth hymn, "Father We Come." Bill Thomas led the responsive reading and Roger Sessions had the prayers. The group then sang "Ivory Palaces."

Boyer then presented Mr. Bost, who spoke very interestingly to the group on "The Meaning of Lent." "Lent," Mr. Bost told the group, "is forty days before Easter, which in the Episcopal church should look to us as a revival. During this time we should be present at as many church services as possible, and make our communion with a definite purpose and preparation."

Mr. Bost went on to say that we should make prayer a daily habit, turning to God at all times. The Bible should also be read daily.

"The period of Lent is also a period of self-denial." Each Episcopal church group should do his own self-denial and add the cost to his Easter offering.

Mr. Bost also told the group that they should examine themselves daily and undertake some practical work and carry it through for Christ.

During the business session the "teen age" club was discussed and postponed until after Lent. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Ralph asked the league members to make a special effort to be present at the Friday evening services during Lent. The members were also reminded to start making some article for the league booth at the bazaar next fall.

The meeting closed with the group singing "Sun of My Soul." Members present included Judy Harper, Diane Ralph, Patricia Warren, Roger Sessions, Bill Thomas, Bob Elderbaum, and George Barnshaw III.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 21 with their leader Mrs. Bryan Stevens enjoyed a slumber party at the park center club building Friday night.

Each girl carried a "nose bag" lunch which they spread and enjoyed together. They also danced and played games and as can be expected at slumber parties, very little sleep was had by anyone.

Girl Scouts present were Judy Harper, Janice Byrd, Judy High, Hilda Avery, Margaret Smith, Patsy Brantley, Sylvia Lucas, Betty West, Sylvia Barbour, Ann McDonald, Betty Sue Leonard, Donnie McLaurin, Janet Price, Peggy Barefoot, Jo Ann Reeves, Wanda Grady and Nancy Avery.

IN RALEIGH

Mrs. Nettie Sewell, Miss Ruby and Miss Sewell spent Saturday in Raleigh.

Campbell Finals Speakers Named Finals speakers for Campbell College have been announced by President Leslie H. Campbell.

Dr. J. Clyde Turner of Raleigh will preach the sermon June 1, and Dr. O. T. Binkley of Louisville, Ky., will deliver the address June 8. At present Dr. Binkley is professor of Christian Sociology and Ethics at the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, but was recently elected to teach at Southeastern Seminary at Wake Forest next year.

Dr. Turner, before retiring, was for over 30 years pastor of the First Baptist Church in Greensboro.

He is to go East to make the television shows.

"I'm only doing it," he explained, "because Lou wanted it that way. As for me, I'd like to stay right here in California."

The triumph of Durante as a television star has been witnessed in millions of homes all over the land. He has fulfilled Clayton's hopes and dreams.

Dawn Porter Is Feted On Her 13th Birthday In Erwin

Mrs. Lyman Sheppard entertained at a party at the Park Center Club house Saturday evening from 8 until 11 o'clock complimenting her niece Dawn Porter of Durham on her 13th birthday.

During the evening the group played games and Dawn opened her gifts.

Later in the evening Mrs. Sheppard assisted by Miss Janet Byrd served ice cream, individual birthday cakes, and salted nuts to: Dawn Porter, Jerry Ennis, Carl Byrd Jr., Bill Sewell Jr., Jerry Taylor, Joe Walters, Judy Harper, Wanda Grady, Bobby Suggs, Janice Byrd, G. L. Elderbaum, June Dare Turlington, Milton Stephens Jr., Nancy Glover, Robert Beard, Betty Sue Leonard, Robert Elderbaum, Roger Sessions, Edward McCaskill, Diane Ralph, Nancy Avery, Tommy and Jonny Stevens.

Revival To Be At Erwin Church With Rev. I. Shephard

"Christ for All--All for Christ" will be the theme used by the Rev. I. Clyde Shephard in a revival meeting which will begin at the Erwin Advent Christian Church Sunday, March 16. The Rev. Mr. Shephard has been the pastor of this local church for more than eight years and was recently elected by the church to conduct this revival.

Assisting Mr. Shephard will be Rev. Thomas Horne, assistant pastor of the Erwin Advent Christian Church, Mrs. Thomas Horne, pianist and Rev. Everett Ransom of Boone, who will serve as music director.

During this week and next, prayer meetings will be held in different homes conducted by the ladies of the church and at night by the men. Special prayer services will be held each Wednesday at the church during this period of preparation.

The Rev. Mr. Shephard said today, "I am of the opinion that too often we endeavor to have a revival meeting directing our efforts toward and focusing our eyes upon our own local church as our main objective. This revival is one for all people regardless of who you are or where you come from. Our main objective is reaching the lost and winning them to Christ. To this end we shall be working and praying. We cordially welcome you."

Ladies Of Erwin Church Observe Day Of Prayer

Ladies from Erwin's leading churches met together at the Christian Advent Church Friday afternoon for an hour of worship in observance of the World Day of Prayer.

The theme of the worship service, "Christ Our Hope" was sounded by Mrs. Novell Stiggs of the Advent Church.

Others taking part were Mrs. L. W. Griffin, Mrs. John Wilbourne, Mrs. Milton Stephens, Mrs. Richard Webb, Mrs. Roy Godwin and Mrs. Forest Maxwell of the Baptist Church. Mrs. P. G. Parker, Mrs. E. G. Purcell, and Mrs. J. K. Bruton of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Puppel was in charge of the music and Mrs. Bruton sang the beautiful "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Those on the program from the Episcopal church were Mrs. W. E. Adair, Mrs. E. H. Bost, Mrs. Bryan Stevens, Mrs. E. L. Sewell, Mrs. Z. E. Matthews and Mrs. Frank Ralph.

Mrs. E. M. Phillips of the Presbyterian church had the closing part of the program and the Rev. D. Clyde Sheppard, pastor of the hostess church gave the closing benediction.

AUXILIARY TO MEET The Women's Auxiliary of St. Stephens Episcopal Church will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Louis Dearborn. All members are urged to be present.

SATURDAY IN FAYETTEVILLE Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Whittington and daughters Carolyn, Edith and Laura spent Saturday in Fayetteville shopping.

SHOP IN FAYETTEVILLE Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sewell and daughter Baffie, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee shopped in Fayetteville Saturday.

Tickets for the event -- $1.50 for the pork and $1.50 for the chicken -- are on sale at Meilin and Dorman's store in Benson and can also be obtained from any member of the Methodist Church in Benson.

Erwin Revival To Open Sunday

The revival at Erwin Methodist Church begins March 16. Rev. J. V. Early, pastor at Dunn, will assist the Erwin pastor and people. The initial service will be at 11 a. m. that first Sunday by a number of laymen of that church. Then it will continue at 7:30 in the evening, and each evening through the week.

Rev. Early is well qualified for the task. Because of his special evangelistic emphasis he has become the secretary of evangelism in the Raleigh district, and has been successful in the phase of the work in his own church.

In preparation for the revival cottage prayer meetings have been conducted in various sections of Erwin for the past two months. Services this week will be as follows:

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Mr. and Mrs. Alex A. Odott's at 204 East "K" Street, Mr. Sherill Stancil, leader. The speaker will be announced later.

Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Mrs. Carry Mason's at 106 East "D" Street. Mr. Albert Oldham, Jr., leader and Mr. Tony J. Harper speaker.

Friday evening at 7:30 at Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Norris' who lives just off the Cut Off on the right going to Dunn. Mr. George S. Bennett, leader, and Rev. D. A. Petty, speaker.
