The Senator from Georgia is one of the ablest—if not the ablest—of all members of the Congress. The North Carolina Senator said that Russell "has the friendship and respect of all who know him, regardless of party. He is fearless and capable." "For the good of our party and our country," Senator Smith said, "I hope the President will approve and support Senator Russell's candidacy as the next president of the United States."

Under the plan approved by the legislature, all State funds not needed for immediate purposes within a period of three months are invested for interest.

As of March 5, reported Mr. Bridges, the State had on hand a total of $229,191,897.29. Of the total amount invested, $148,138,132.94 is invested in Federal notes and funds and another $45,086,445.00 is invested on time deposits.
