SUMMIT Miss. — [P] — An outspoken woman editor challenged the federal government today to "either confiscate my business or put me in prison."

Mrs. Mary D. Cain editor of the weekly Summit Miss. Sun said in an open letter to Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder that she is refusing to pay the "immoral and illegal" social security tax.

Mrs. Cain announced she would refuse to pay both the self-employment tax on herself or deduct payments from the salaries of employees.

"I have all the insurance I want or need and I don't want any that stems from this rotten

Tax Collector Is Sending Out Polite Reminders

Those small letters with window envelopes which Tax Collector D. P. Ray, Jr. started dropping in the mail yesterday are polite reminders that now is the time to pay county taxes.

Theme of the letters is "Pay your 1951 taxes and save advertising and land sale costs." In spite of all that has been said about paying, Ray said, "It is true that a good many taxpayers have really forgotten. These second notices make it plain to those who have been negligent (1) how much they owe, and (2) that if taxes are not paid by the second week of April, the property will be advertised for sale." The sale will come off on May 5.

Penalties for not paying are higher starting April 1. Expense of advertising will also be added to each delinquent's tax bill.

"Frankly," Ray said, "I'd like to see everybody who owes any taxes come to see me before April 1." Collection of the 1951 levy is running ahead of collections at the same time last year.
