

Murray Tells Industry To 'Go To Hell'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - CIO President Philip Murray told the steel industry today to 'go to hell' for trying to bargain down the 26-cent-an-hour pay raise recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board for his United Steel Workers.

Murray brought 3,000 delegates to the union's convention cheering to their feet as he hotly assailed the industry's role in the six-month contract battle.

He accused the steel companies of violating the 'rules of common decency' and promised that 'they are not going to get away with it.'

Murray told the delegates that the union is determined to get the 26-cent three-installment wage and fringe package recommended by the board.

If the industry refuses to grant it, Murray said, 'I say to them, go to hell and I mean it.'

BLISTERING SPEECH

In a blistering 70-minute speech Murray accused the industry of spending 'millions of dollars in tax payers' money' for 'slandering' advertising in the big steel contract battle.

He said the advertising is 'calculated to deceive the American people' and charged that the operators have 'extorted money from the pocketbooks of every man and woman in this country.'

The industry, Murray said, has 'arrogantly defied and willfully violated - not the rules of the game - but the rules of common decency.'

'They are not going to get away with it - we are not going to allow it.'

Hoey And Smith Opposing Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D-N.C.) backed officials of four public utilities yesterday in opposing three appropriations for the Southeast Power Administration.

Hoey, who said he also had the support of Sen. Willis Smith (D-NC) told a Senate appropriations sub-committee that the agency is trying to take over the business of private utilities in the Carolinas and Virginia.

SEPA has asked for $450,000 to build transmission lines from the Buggs Island Dam in Virginia through Rocky Mount, Wilson, Goldsboro, and Kinston, N. C.; $25,000 for survey of a line from Clark's Hill Dam in South Carolina to Hartsville, S. C.; and $495,000 to buy power for resale and for 'wheeling' charges.

Louis V. Sutton, Raleigh, N. C., president of Carolina Power and Light Co., said his firm has offered its facilities to transmit the Buggs Island power cheaper than the government can build the same lines.

Dunn Girl Receives High Honor At UNC

Miss Allene Warren of Dunn, who will graduate in June from the Pharmacy School of the University of North Carolina, has been selected for membership in Rho Chi, national pharmaceutical society and the highest honor that a pharmacy student can attain.

Membership in Rho Chi is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa in the arts and sciences. It is based on the scholastic record of a student and the scholastic average must be over 82.

Miss Warren, popular Dunn girl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Warren, prominent Dunn residents.

OUTSTANDING RECORD

She is one of several girls now studying pharmacy at the University. One requirement for membership in Rho Chi is that a student must have been on the Dean's List or the Honor Roll for seven consecutive quarters.

Miss Warren's record is one of the highest of any student in her class.

The Dunn girl is also a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta, Sigma Kappa, and Kappa Sigma, honorary pharmaceutical societies.

Olive Says He Has Made No Promises To Rename Godwin

Gubernatorial Candidate Hubert E. Olive says he has made no promises or commitments to reappoint Superior Court Judge Howard G. Godwin of Dunn as one of the State's special judges if he is elected governor.

Interviewed by The Daily Record by telephone at his home in Lexington, Judge Olive made it emphatic and clear that he has made no such promise, or even an indication, to Judge Godwin, the judge's friends or any other person.

He said such reports now being circulated in Harnett County are 'absolutely untrue and without foundation.'

'Just as I have said all along,' declared Judge Olive, 'I have made no promises or commitments concerning Judge Godwin or any other person and I don't intend to do so.'

'KEEPING OPEN MIND' said Judge Olive. 'I have an open mind on all appointments, as well as other matters, and I shall endeavor to fill every office with the best man to be found. That's as far as I care to go.'

'He said it was only logical that he had made no such promises to Judge Godwin or his friends in Harnett. 'If I did it in one case, I'd have to do it in every case,' he explained.

Judge Olive added that he's 'extremely well pleased' with the progress of his campaign in Harnett as well as in other sections.

Seventh District Has Provided 25 Solons

Daily Record Bureau Assn. Afternoon Dailies By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH - According to official North Carolina Manuals the counties now comprising the seventh congressional district have furnished three United States Senators and 22 Representatives in the Congress since the first session convened in 1789. Harnett is one of these counties.

There have been numerous changes in county lines since establishment of the United States Government 164 years (1789) and some of the early addresses listed on official records are confusing.

When New Hanover county was formed in 1729 it contained most of the area now embraced in the seventh congressional district, plus a lot more. Bladen was organized in 1734 out of New Hanover - and had no recognizable western boundaries. Changes in county lines prior to 1789 would not affect listings after that date.

Columbus county was formed in 1808 out of Bladen and Brunswick and there were subsequent annexations of additional territory from Bladen. All of Pender, and a woody part of Sampson used to be New Hanover. As late as 1911 Hoke county was formed out of Cumberland and Robeson. For these reasons it is probable that congressmen credited to New Hanover, Bladen, Cumberland or Robeson might have lived on land now in some other county. It is also true that the congressmen from these counties represented large areas upstate now included in other congressional districts.

Data used as basis for this story came from the official records as carried forward in the North Carolina Manual of 1913 and subsequent editions.

WOW To Unveil Kins Monument

It has been announced that the Newton Grove Camp No. 371 of the Woodmen of the World will unveil the Monument of William Rufus King, a former member of the Camp, on Sunday afternoon, May 18th at 2:30 P. M. at the Hillcrest Cemetery near Newton Grove.

Mr. King died in an automobile accident last July near Newton Grove. He had lived in Dunn and was instructor in Veterans Training at the Dunn High School.

In making the announcement, E. C. Hood, District Manager of Dunn stated that Mr. J. Edwin Williams of Dunn will be the Orator for the ceremony. Mr. Williams is Post Consul Commander of the Erwin Camp and an Officer of the Central District Log Rolling Association.

Mr. Jasper F. Rose will act as Consul Commander and other officers assisting will be James E. Rose who is now Consul Commander, Granger Westbrook, Willard Wilson, Royal W. Wilson, Shelton Wilson, Lindsay Langston, Dewey Warren and J. Ferdie Williams. Other members of the Camp will also assist.

Surrounding Camps have been invited to attend this ceremony and also the public is invited.

Youth Board Has Little Trouble With Civic Items

A new board of commissioners took over the affairs of Dunn last night and turned in a creditable performance in meeting together as a town board to solve city problems, as part of Dunn's Youth Rally.

With Tommy Waggoner serving as City Manager and Harry Driver as Mayor the group solved the problems presented on an agenda, similar to one at a regular board meeting with the efficiency of veteran city legislators.

Items on the agenda had been selected by City Manager Oliver O. Manning, so that the youthful board would be able to handle a group of problems similar to those that would ordinarily come up at a regular board meeting.

The actions taken by the Youth Day board are official, however, and the action they took on the various problems with which they were confronted will be taken as the board directed.

Items such as having City employees spread the rat poison instead of supplying citizens with the preparation to spread met the disapproval of the board because of its cost. Thus, this board, too, protected the money of the taxpayers.

PREPARE MINUTES

The minutes of the meeting were prepared by City Clerk Fay Jackson, along the same lines that minutes are prepared by City Clerk Charles Storey. They read as follows:

The Board of Commissioners held its regular meeting Monday night, May 12, 1952, at 7:30 in the Municipal Building. The meeting was called to order by the Mayor, Harry Driver.

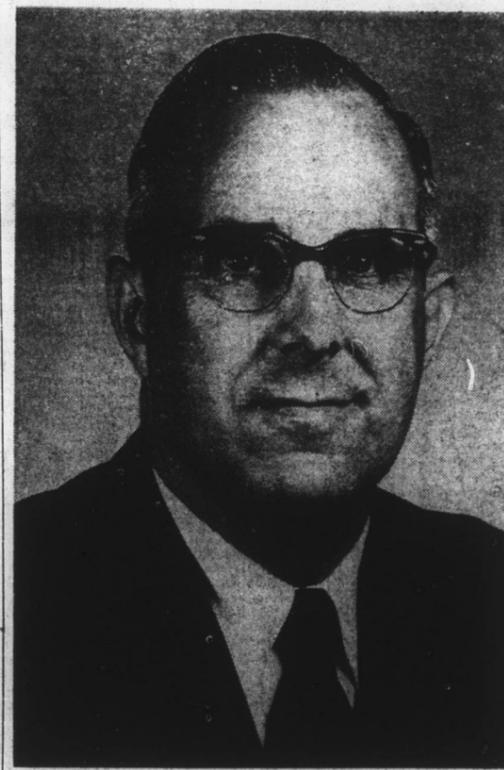

Mr. J. L. Lockwood, Mr. E. B. Pope, Mr. Carl Maynard, and Mr. John Wellons, own property on each side of West Divine Street. They are requesting that this be opened for a distance of approximately 300 feet. Harvey Eldridge Jr. made a motion that the street be opened. Charles Dorman seconded the motion. The motion was carried.

'Mrs. M. M. Driver requests a load of gravel in the alley by her house. There is a bad hole obstructing traffic. Mayor ordered City Manager to take care of the matter.'

'Harvey Eldridge Jr. wants a stop sign blocking off North Orange Avenue at the intersection West Harnett. Motion made by Harvey to have sign put there in near future. Motion seconded by Rilda Hamilton. Motion carried.'

'Mrs. George Blacklock of 307 S. Magnolia Ave. requests that the Town of Dunn furnish me to spread poison. Nancy Abernathy made a motion to give poison as

Surles Will Direct Dairy Month Events

James A. Surles, manager of Gardner's Dairy in Dunn and one of the best known dairymen in the State, has been appointed as Harnett chairman of the 16th annual observance of June Dairy Month.

Appointment of the prominent young Dunn business leader was announced this morning by R. B. Davenport of Durham, State Dairy Month Chairman.

Mr. Davenport said the State organization felt very fortunate in securing Mr. Surles as Harnett chairman for the observance.

Dairy Month has played an important role through the years in improving local and national health by causing more Americans to possess the important facts of sound nutrition and Mr. Surles, as county chairman, will stage a program calling attention to the importance of dairymaking.

'I'm going to do everything possible to point out and emphasize the importance of dairymaking to the people of Harnett,' said Mr. Surles today.

Only One Man Acquitted By Federal Judge

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) - Federal Judge Don Gilliam found 10 of 11 former Ku Klux Klansmen guilty today of kidnaping and conspiracy in the flogging of a white couple last Oct. 16.

Gilliam did not pronounce sentence immediately.

Gilliam found George Miller, 18, not guilty on the two counts. Miller testified yesterday that he had been asked to go along with the robed and hooded klansmen by mistake but that he went.

Found guilty on both counts were Early L. Brooks, 44, his son, Bobby Brooks, 18, both of Fair Bluff, N. C.; Horace Strickland, of Cerro Gordo, N. C.; Ross Enzor, 46, E. C. Worley, 25, James Robert Hayes, 36, Pittman Boyd Strickland, 29, George Miller, 18, Sherwood Miller, 27, Carl Richardson and Steve Edmunds, all of Cerro Gordo and Fair Bluff.

WAIVED JURY TRIAL

Sherwood Miller is the brother of the only defendant acquitted. All 11 had waived trial by jury. Four pleaded no contest to the charges but young Miller changed his plea to one of not guilty and asked that charges against him be dismissed.

Earlier today the government had introduced a map and thick leather strap in evidence, identifying the latter as the lash used in the flogging.

Colson Is Fired From Koje Post

SEOUL, Korea - (AP) - The 4th Army fired Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson today from his job as commander of Koje Island and indicated it will repudiate all or part of the concessions he made to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd from the prisoners who held him hostage.

Colson was returned to his former post as chief of staff of the 1st Corps in Korea. Brig. Gen. Hayden L. Boatner, assistant commander of the 2nd Infantry Division (Continued On Page Three)

Easter Seals Net Good Sum

Easter Seals sales among schools throughout the county netted a total of $862.46 for the North Carolina League for Crippled Children. It was reported today.

Fifty-five percent of the proceeds are kept in the county and the remaining 45 percent goes for state and national work among crippled children.

Schools and their contributions are as follows: Anderson Creek, $19.20; Angier, $54.55; Benhaven, $50.30; Boone Trail, $28.16; Buckhorn, $10.31; Rule's Creek, $48.57; Summerville, $9.00; Coats, $45.31; Dunn Elementary School, $60.00; Dunn High School, $100.97; Erwin, $83.36; LaFayette, $42.80; Lillington, $95.49; Mary Stewart, $21.00; Mapple Grove, (Indian), $3.00; New Hope School, $6.00; Angier, $5.00; Reitheltem, $6.00; Cedar Grove, $4.00; Gentry, $38.73; Harnett County Training School, $66.00; Johnsonville, $19.25; McLean's Chapel, $15.00; Norriston, $4.00; Ridgeway, $12.00; Shawtown, $22.50.

Dunn Jaycees Plan To Get Out Voters

Work will begin on the safety signs sponsored by the Dunn Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was reported at the meeting last night. This is a current Jaycee project.

Jim McMillen spoke on another important project of the organization, that of getting voters registered and getting out the vote. This is a project carried on by Jaycees all over the nation.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, since it is composed of the younger business group, is admirably suited for a project of this kind, particularly among the younger and newly registered voters.

Junior Chamber International chairman Bob Leak told the group that President Bill Signs, by virtue of his office, is automatically a member of JCI board of directors for this immediate area.
