"Anything which has capabilities is a possibility and there is great capability there," Ridgway said.

GUARD AGAINST DEMONSTRATIONS

More than 15,000 French police and troops guarded against threatened hostile demonstrations against Ridgway by the Communists. But his motorcade proceeded through Paris from the airport without incident.

He said he would spend the rest of the week in conference with Eisenhower, who leaves for Washington Saturday.

"I came over here with confidence in the leadership of General Eisenhower and to get the problems at first hand," Ridgway said.

"I am appreciative of the notable reception by so many notable people," he said. "To return to France, this lovely land, is indeed a happy occasion."

"My assignment offers me a great privilege of great service following along the road pioneered by that great man and inspired leader General Eisenhower."

said he remembered making a trip through Dunn about fifteen years ago, but that he had not stopped. Although he had previously admitted his identity to Chief of Police A. A. Cobb and Deputy Sheriff B. E. Sturgill, who went to New York after him, he refused to admit it to the New York District Attorney and at first to the judge. However, he later admitted his identity to the judge, but refused to sign a waiver of extradition.

The judge refused to sign the extradition papers, unless Stephens was represented and assigned a Negro attorney to handle his case. This delayed the signing of the papers until 2:00 p.m. when the prisoner was finally released to Chief A. A. Cobb and Deputy Sheriff B. E. Sturgill. Brought back to Dunn, he is now awaiting transfer to the County Jail in Lillington.

Operetta

morning, Miss Gaine stated that "the coming musical presentation will thrill the hearts of the citizens of Dunn. Anyone who misses this opportunity will be deprived of an evening of fine and enjoyable entertainment."

"The Music of Stephen Foster" Miss Gaine continued "is loved by all people and I feel sure that each person who attends will be humming the melodies to himself following the show as I have been doing since witnessing the show in Goldsboro on Sunday." The Little Theater personnel also observed that the characters in the operetta portray their roles in an excellent fashion and was particularly impressed with the individual and choral numbers by the cast. Miss Gaine urged the citizens to Dunn to attend the musical presentation as it will be in town for only one performance.

TWO ACT OPERETTA

The musical will be in two acts and the scene will take place in the garden of Colonel Stauton's home in Kentucky around the year 1850. All the favorite melodies of the immortal music of Stephen Foster will be heard either through individual or choral singing by the cast. The operetta will have a ten minute intermission at half-time.

Miss Evelyn Gaine who is the General Chairman of the coming operetta which is being sponsored by the Sacred Heart Church of Dunn announced the growing interest in the forthcoming musical and indicated that a large turnout of people from Dunn and Harnett County area could be expected. Miss Gaine stressed the point of securing tickets beforehand from the various places in town even though they may be obtained at the door. Tickets will be seventy-five cents for adults and forty cents for children.

LOCATION OF TICKETS

Besides the Ticket Committee who have been active during the past week, tickets may be obtained from the following place in town: First Citizens Bank and Trust Company; Skinny's Esso Station; Auto Sales and Service; Automobile Supply; Butler-Carroll Drug Store; Uphurch's and Johnson's Restaurant, south of town on U. S. 301.

Biggest Vote

was 516,864 in the 1936 first primary; and the all-time high for any candidate was the 266,354 votes. That majority was larger numerically though slightly less percentage-wise, than the 185,027 cast for Gregg Cherry over the same Ralph McDonald's 134,661 in the 1944 primary.

It is some talk about one or the other candidate this year winning by 100,000 or more. It doesn't make much sense in the light of history.

The biggest margin, both in number of votes and in percentage, by which any candidate for Governor has won the nomination since the primary was inaugurated was the nearly 68,000 won by A. W. McLean over J. W. Bailey in 1924. The official vote was 151,197 to 83,573.

BROUGHTON SMALLEST

Which any candidate has won the nomination for Governor since woman suffrage doubled the potential was the 147,386 given J. M. Broughton in 1940. That was a seven-way contest and runner-up W. P. Horton, who had polled 105,916 in the first primary, did not call for a run-off. Broughton had less than one-third of the total vote, but his lead over Horton was almost 42,000. Within a few days after the first primary A. J. Maxwell who had been third with more than 102,000 and Lee Gravelly who had run fourth with 63,000, announced their support of Broughton "majority" stood at 42,000.

The narrowest margin recorded for a winning candidate was 13,000 for J. C. B. Ehringhaus over R. T. Fountain in the 1932 run-off. Ehringhaus had 182,055 to Fountain's 168,971.

Four years ago, in 1948, latest previous race for Governor, Kerr Scott led Charles M. Johnson in the second primary 217,920 to 182,684 for a majority of about 35,000 after trailing by 9,000 in the first.

The banner Democratic primary vote in history was cast two years ago when 618,479 persons expressed their choice among four candidates for the United States senate. In the second primary 542,903 ballots were cast, resulting in a majority of about 20,000 for Willis Smith—who had trailed Frank Graham by some 53,000 the first time.

With the margin of victory for successful candidates for Governor during the past 36 years ranging from 13,000 to 68,000, and the differential in the biggest primary vote ever cast for any office being 20,000, it is hardly likely that the present contest will show as much as 100,000 difference, despite the optimistic claims of candidates and managers.

HEAVY VOTE WOULD HELP OLIVE

There is general belief that a heavy vote, which this time means excess of 550,000, will benefit Olive because traditionally a large vote helps the challenger. A great many Unstead supporters concede that a large vote will mean a smaller percentage majority for their man, although they insist it will mean a bigger numerical margin. And elections are won, they say, by votes—not by percentage marks.

If the 1950 primary vote is to be used as basis for estimating the 1952 turn-out it is entirely probable

Reports Strike End

FEDERAL MEDIATOR Cyrus Ching is pictured as he testified before the Senate Labor Committee in Washington. Shortly before, Ching and officials of Western Union and the AFL telegraphers union announced that the seven-week-long telegraph strike had ended.

Taft Leads In Texas, Ike In Connecticut

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today pocketed 22 Connecticut votes in the Republican national convention, but pro-Taft forces gained the upper hand in the battle for the 38 Texas GOP votes.

Opposing Texas Democratic factions appeared set to send separate delegations to the Chicago convention.

KENTUCKY FOR BARKLEY

Kentucky Democrats met today and gave Vice President Alben W. Barkley 26 votes for the presidential nomination.

In San Antonio, the Democratic Party of Texas was split wide open when "loyalists" bolted the state convention over the issue of mandatory support of the national organization's presidential nominee.

POLICE INTERVENE

The "loyal Democrats" pledged to back the national ticket, walked out of the meeting after heated debate on their proposal to bar any delegate who would not take the party loyalty pledge.

Their exit was marked by brief scuffles which alert police quickly cut short.

that two records will be set this year, and the political statisticians given a paradox to work on in future elections.

The losing candidate may receive more votes than any winner before him, the winning candidate may run up the largest majority ever recorded for a Democratic nominee for Governor, both in the same election.

Erwin Texew Team Won Two Games

The Erwin textile union baseball team won two games during the past weekend. Texew topped Coats on Saturday night in the Dunn Park by an overwhelming 15 to 2 score, and the Erwin team won a 7-1 decision over Wade on the Erwin field on Sunday afternoon.

J. D. Faircloth, who played with the Harnett County American Legion team last summer, was the star of the game for the TWUA boys on Saturday night as he hurled a four-hit job and led the hitting. J. D. made three hits in four times at bat, including a three-bagger.

Coats scored in the opening inning and held a one-run lead until the third, and Texew scored three times in the third to sew up the ball game. Coats got its other run in the third round, and Erwin scored two or more runs in every inning from the third through the seventh and last, ending.

Jack Stewart, Mac Turlington, and O. C. Bass got 1 for 3 each for Coats. Bass' blow was a triple. COATS 101 000 0-2 4 5 TEXEW 003 235 2-15 14 1

Algie Faircloth smashed a triple as he got 4 for 5 to lead Texew to its 7-1 win over Wade on Sunday. Pitcher John Lee and Boozie Royals did some hitting also as they got 2 for 4 each. James Brown got 2 for 5.

Lee held Wade to give hits in registering the victory, and his two hits boosted his showing.

McNeill and McPhail got 2 for 4 and 1 for 4 for the losers.

The Erwin players got 12 hits off Wade offerings, and they scored in five different innings. The two runs in the second frame clinched the win.

Mobile's Joe Antonello Has Pounded 15 Homers

ATLANTA (AP) — Mobile's Bill Antonello is still ahead of the slide-rule in the race to set a new Southern Association home run record today, and hardly coincidental, the Bears were still ahead in the pennant chase.

"Booming" Bill helped both causes along yesterday as he walloped a pair of home runs that led the pace-setting Bears to an easy, 6 to 1, victory over Chattanooga.

The two blows boosted Antonello's homer total to 15 for the season. His present pace would carry him to a record-shattering total of 54.
