Large Crowd Expected For Debate Tonight

Meeting Place Is Moved To Grammar School

Congressman F. Ertel Carlyle and his opponent, Joe Tally, were touring Harnett today wooing the voters as they warmed up for what promises to be a hot debate tonight — hot from the standpoint of the weather and the issues — in the Dunn Grammar School Auditorium.

Mr. Tally was due to arrive in Dunn early this morning to spend a full day campaigning, while Mr. Carlyle and his supporters were touring the county in a motorcade. So much interest has been manifested in their joint appearance here tonight that Jim McMillen of the Dunn Information Clinic announced this morning that the debate will be held in the Grammar School Auditorium in order to accommodate the crowd.

STRICKLAND TO PRESIDE

The city courtroom is old, shaky and outmoded and fear of overloading the building was expressed. The school auditorium might also prove to be cooler. City Judge H. Paul Strickland will serve as moderator for tonight's debate. Each candidate will be given 20 minutes opening and 15 minutes for rebuttal.

A question-and-answer period will be held at the close, provided the candidates agree and providing there is ample time. The debate is open to the public. No tickets and no reservations are needed. Order of the debate will be dictated by a flip of the coin. According to present plans, this will be the only debate of the campaign.

Report From Engineers Not Yet Completed

Dr. Henry Jordan, chairman of the State Highway Commission, told The Daily Record this morning that engineers have not yet reached a decision on which direction the new Highway 301 will be routed around Dunn.

Governor Scott yesterday announced the allocation of $1,300,000 to be used on 301, from the Harnett County line through Dunn.

Approximately half of the $12,000,000 total surplus was allotted to US 301 in Harnett, Nash, Johnston and Cumberland counties.

Dr. Jordan said this morning that Highway 301 is being made a part of the new Federal inter-regional highway system and for that reason heavily-congested areas will have to be eliminated from the highway.

ON BASIS OF TRAFFIC

These areas he listed as Dunn, Smithfield and Rocky Mount. All of the special appropriations were recommended upon the basis of a survey of traffic and need.

There has been talk for some time that 301 will be re-routed out of Dunn's business district and Dr. Jordan confirmed the report this morning.

He said Federal requirements call for a minimum right-of-way of 250 feet, as compared with 100 feet for normal highway construction.

"It is quite obvious," pointed out Dr. Jordan, "that no 250-foot-right-of-way could be found in the center of Dunn. We wouldn't want to put such a right-of-way through any town," he added.

SOME SURVEYS MADE

He said some surveys have already been made here and that others will be made, beginning almost immediately. He said a definite decision on the new routing would be made probably within 90 days and that work would proceed immediately.

Dr. Jordan said he had no idea which route or which direction will be decided on by engineers, but said positively that no decision has yet been reached. Highway engineers were here several weeks ago making surveys in the area of the old Sures Pond and near the Jesse Tart Estate.

ROOM FOR FOUR LANES

Dr. Jordan said that the highway to be built immediately will be only a two-lane highway, but that the 250-foot right-of-way (Continued On Page Two)

A HAPPY OCCASION — Bankers ordinarily don't like to burn notes, but this was an exception. Manager Norman Suttles of the Dunn Chamber of Commerce looks on proudly as Gene Smith, left, of The Commercial Bank, and Earl Mahone, right, of the First Citizens Bank, burn the final notes on Dunn's Memorial Swimming Pool. The pool was built entirely by public contributions. When all but $11,000 was raised, the two banks each financed half of the remaining indebtedness. This summer, the final $2,500 was raised—largely through the efforts of President Clarence McLamb of the Chamber. Mr. McLamb headed the drive and did most of the solicitation to pay off the debt. Ironically, the pool was closed for repairs when the ceremony took place. It will be reopened Thursday. (Daily Record photo by T. M. Stewart).

Democrats Still Trying To Get Stevenson To Run

CARSON CITY, NEVADA

A pretty, fiery French-Canadian claimed today that eccentric millionaire LaVere Redfield "gave me permission" to steal his $1,500,000 fortune and they "sealed" the bargain in a bedroom tryst. Mrs. Michaud testified yesterday that she masterminded one of the biggest robberies in history because "I loved Redfield."

"If you want to cure a smoker you take away his cigars," Mrs. Michaud testified. "If you have a man who worshipped pennies you take away his pennies."

LIVED AS MAN AND WIFE — The attractive, dark-haired woman unfolded her side of the fabulous story before a packed courtroom which was cleared of all minors when the testimony became too spicy. Once, she said, she lived with Redfield as man and wife for "several days."

Mrs. Michaud told in detail how she and the eccentric gambler-financier "sealed" the bargain whereby she would be allowed to steal the safe loaded with cash, securities and jewelry from his Reno home last March. Government prosecutor Bruce Thompson asked if Redfield had (Continued On Page Two)

Congress Asks HST To Invoke T-H Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today joined the Senate and "requested" President Truman to get a Taft-Hartley injunction to stop the 24-day-old strike of 650,000 steelworkers. The vote was 190 to 133.

The House acted after shouting down an alternative proposal that Congress "direct" Mr. Truman to use the Taft-Hartley law. Administration supporters argued that this would be unconstitutional and would invade the powers of the executive.

What effect the action will have on Mr. Truman is uncertain. He has said Congress can request him to seek an anti-strike injunction, but cannot force him to do so.

CONSIDERING IT — However, he has said that he is considering using the Taft-Hartley law.

The House action came shortly after Rep. Charles A. Halleck, (R-Ind.) predicted that the 24-day steel strike will be settled within a week.

Halleck did not disclose the source of his information. His prediction was made as more (Continued on page two)

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Communist guerrillas killed 46 persons, including an American soldier, and kidnaped 80 others today after dynamiting and raiding a passenger train near Sagari behind U. N. lines in southwest Korea.

The start of the third year of war in Korea was also marked by sharp ground fighting along the 155-mile front.

In two air battles just south of the Yalu River in northern Korea, Allied jets caused one Communist BIG-15 fighter to crash, probably destroyed another and damaged a third. The downed MIG went into a violent spin and crashed after overshooting an American plane it was trying to shoot down.
