Officers Made June Hotter For 'Leggers'

Harnett County bootleggers, apparently planning to profit from the extra demand for beer expected during the hot June weather had their plans upset by the county law enforcement officers. In a report made to the county commissioners, Sheriff W. E. Salmon reported that constables and deputies destroyed 3,950 gallons of non-tax paid whisky during June. The large amounts of beer were found when officers confiscated a total of 25 stills. Cleveland Harris of Lillington and Hardy Ray Draughon of Averasboro, arrested at stills have been charged with violation of the prohibition law. Officers E. L. Jackson, E. L. Morgan and C. E. Moore were credited with finding seven stills each. Jackson located two in Lillington township and five in Grove. Morgan found five stills in Grove and two in Black River. Moore seized illegal whiskey-making outfits in Grove and one each in Averasboro and Lillington. Draughon was arrested at the Averasboro still by Moore. B. E. Sturgill reported one still captured in Averasboro where the 46 gallons of whisky was found. W. B. Castleberry located two distilleries in Johnsonville and Wade Stewart found one in Lillington where he arrested Cleveland Harris. As drafted by key party policy makers and top wordsmiths for consideration of the 100-man platform group, the document denounces the administration for fostering inflationary policies at home and playing into the hands of the Communists abroad.

Convention Shorts

CHICAGO, (P)—The Republican platform committee met behind locked and guarded doors today to approve a 5,000-word campaign document pledging an end to inflation, support of collective security, and "quickest possible development of appropriate and completely adequate air power."

BEHIND SCHEDULE
CHICAGO, (P)—The Republican convention seems sure to run into Saturday. It was originally scheduled to end Thursday afternoon. The timetable has been knocked into a cocked hat by the bitter Taft-Eisenhower fight over seating delegates. That fight was hung up in the credential committee. The convention cannot act on a platform, a candidate or anything else until all delegates are officially seated.

CHICAGO, (P)—Taft and Eisenhower camps claimed new converts among Southern delegates today in an intense home-stretch drive to corral unpledged and wavering Republican national convention votes. Dixie backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said they have picked up five additional votes from Arkansas and Florida, plus a probable sixth from Alabama. Sen. Robert A. Taft's managers claimed six new delegates from Virginia, Alabama and South Carolina. But Taft's gains were offset somewhat by the apparent loss of two delegates in Arkansas. Virginia was the No. 1 question mark of the Southern delegations which are not being contested.

Man Kills Wife, Son And Himself

LENOIR, N. C. (P)—A 50-year-old furniture worker shot his wife to death with a shotgun, fatally clubbed his young son with the weapon and then shot himself to death today, Sheriff George D. Greer reported. Greer said neighbors, investigating the sound of a shot, found the body of W. Spencer Hamby in a field close by his home in the rural Happy Valley community near here. Further investigation, the sheriff said, revealed the blanketed bodies of Hamby's wife, Bessie, 47, and his 12-year-old son, Zeke, in their home. He said the boy, whose skull had been crushed by the butt of a shotgun, was found in a bed and his mother, her body blasted by buckshot, was lying on the floor nearby. "It was a plain case of murder and suicide," the sheriff said.

Local Resident Badly Injured

Mrs. A. E. Bailey of Dunn, was painfully bruised but not seriously hurt when she was struck by an automobile, at the intersection of Broad Street and Clinton Avenue yesterday. The car, a 1950 Ford, driven by Waymon Melvin of Erwin, was making a left turn from Clinton Avenue into Broad Street and Mrs. Bailey was crossing the street. She was treated at the Dunn Hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

EISENHOWER BOWS TO YOUNG MISS

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER bows gallantly as he is introduced to Mary Alice Losch, of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose father, a GI, died in Germany during World War II. This scene took place at a reception given in Chicago for the Eisenhower delegates. At left is the wife of the candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. (International)

Field Tests

proper insecticides as needed. Infestations should be kept below the ten percent level. Ammons cites some excellent examples inspected during the past few weeks, which show the value of a good dusting or spraying program in the control of the boll weevils. INFESTATION DROPS
On the farm of J. A. Wilkins, F-quay Route 2, Ammons points out, with one dusting the infestation dropped from 24 percent last week to 4 percent, this week it is down to one percent. Ammons points out, C. P. Kelly, Lillington Route 1, had a count of 23 percent week before last, with a rise to 45 percent June 30. With one dusting during the week of June 30, the count was reduced to 16 percent yesterday, July 7. Other farms checked showed equally good results. W. H. Byrd, Bunnlevel, had 2 percent yesterday; Willie Cameron, Bunnlevel, Hardee Byrd, Bunnlevel, Mack Tucker, Dunn, Route 4, M. E. Thornton, Dunn, Route 4, Henry McDougal, Bunnlevel, showed zero counts, yesterday. Robert Elliott, Dunn Route 4, had a count of 23 percent.

From these examples, Mr. Ammons points out, it can be easily seen that a good control program is the answer to the weevil problem. Insecticide and machinery dealers are willing and anxious to cooperate with the farmers in developing a good control program for their particular farm.

Taft Forces

up to Senator Knowland. If he will throw California's support to Taft on the first ballot, then, if Taft does not get the nomination, Taft in turn will come out for Knowland for president. This proposal was made in order to obtain California's huge bloc of 70 delegates, which, however, Warren. If Taft could secure these 70 votes, he figures he could get the nomination on the first ballot. However, Knowland, who was appointed to be Senator by Governor Warren, was noncommittal. He told Taft's forces he would take the matter under consideration.

Typical of the wavering sentiment among the Taft forces was the caucus of the Idaho delegates shortly after the Eisenhower victory over contested delegates. Lloyd Adams, who dominates the Idaho delegation, remarked: "Taft broke his pick yesterday. If we stop Eisenhower we'd better start looking for someone else right now." The Utah delegation, also pledged to Taft and strong for him, was among the first to start wavering.

Polling Places Are Announced For Tobacco Vote On July 19th

Flue-cured tobacco growers in Harnett County will vote on Saturday, July 19, on whether or not marketing quotas on tobacco will be continued. The state-wide referendum will be conducted under the auspices of the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In a letter issued this week to county tobacco growers, McBryde Cameron, chairman of the county PMA committee, told farmers the purpose of the marketing quotas is to provide growers with a method of maintaining supplies in line with demand and to help them obtain fair prices for their tobacco. THREE CHOICES
Farmers were told they may vote for one of three propositions:
(1) For marketing quotas for three years, 1953, 1954, 1955;
(2) For one-year quotas, 1953 only;
(3) Against quotas. Any person who shares in a flue-cured tobacco crop this year, either as owner, operator, share-cropper or tenant is entitled to vote. However, no producer may vote more than once. List of growers eligible to vote in the referendum will be listed this week by the county PMA committee and will be open for inspection in the office of Kyle Harrington, county PMA supervisor. Quotas on flue-cured tobacco will remain if approved by at least two thirds of the growers voting in the election. WHERE TO VOTE
Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. Polling places will be as follows:
Anderson Creek, Hill's Garage; Averasboro Number 1, Charles Lee's store on 301; Averasboro, Number 2, J. W. McAlphin's store; Barco, Mickey's Place; Black River, Town Hall; Angier; Buckhorn, Spence Harrington's Store; Duke, Keever Moore's store; Grove, Town Hall, Coats; Hector's Creek, Right Smith's store; Johnsonville, Community Building; Lillington, Agriculture Building; Nell's Creek, Cleveland Johnson's store; Stewart's Creek, Joe Strickland's store; Upper Little River, Number O'Quinn's store; Upper Little River 2, Thomas Farm Service.

Taft Facing His Big Test

CHICAGO (P)—Sen. Robert A. Taft predicted today that the Republican National Convention will accept credentials committee decisions on delegate contests, including the one allotting him all 17 Georgia votes. He told a news conference that today's decision giving 13 Louisiana delegates to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination, was "completely satisfactory" to him. The Ohio senator announced that his managers have no intention of appealing the committee's decisions unless it should make an "exceedingly outrageous" ruling on the still unsettled Texas case. He reminded that he had already supported a Texas compromise, giving him 22 and Eisenhower 16 delegates. Taft faces his next big test with Eisenhower, probably tonight, when the Georgia decision goes before the convention. MIGHT AS WELL GIVE UP
"I think the convention will confirm the decision of the credentials committee," Taft told his news conference. "If they the Eisenhower forces are unwilling to accept the decision of an impartial committee, they might as well give up on their charges of fraud." He said he thinks the convention should accept the committee decisions because any made on the floor would be purely political decisions. Taft said he still estimates his strength at 607 to 609 delegates for the vote on the presidential nomination. A majority is 604.

Ike Wins

It may serve to speed convention proceedings. BEHIND SCHEDULE
The convention program had called for nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates by Thursday night. Convention officials now doubt the windup can come before Friday night or Saturday. Taft men still claimed a second ballot victory for their champion while Eisenhower forces predicted that the general would win on the third. Counting the Louisiana shift, which presumably will stand, the United Press tabulation showed 537 delegates for Taft and 468 for Eisenhower. It takes 604 to nominate, and Texas was still in dispute. Eisenhower promised today that he will insist that all appointive officials of the government be "cleaned out and replaced by a fresh group." Eisenhower could capture a maximum of 42 Taft-held seats if he wins on all contests. That would be almost fatal for Taft. BIG STATES HOLD POWER
The Ikemen pinned their hopes holding the support of such pivotal big state delegations as Pennsylvania, Michigan, and California, all of which helped to hand Eisenhower his victory on rules changes in the convention's first test vote Monday. Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania hinted that he might announce his choice of a candidate today, after four months of fence-straddling. Reports that the governor leans toward Eisenhower were given new impetus by the prediction of his close associate, delegation secretary Samuel S. Lewis, that Pennsylvania will cast 60 out of 70 votes for the general.

Ike Would Order House-Cleaning

CHICAGO (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower pledged today that if elected president he will order a top-to-bottom house cleaning of appointed government officials. He told a wildly cheering 70-vote California delegation that "united and properly led nation can do anything." Earlier he told Oklahoma delegates to the Republican National Convention: "Everybody that's in an appointive position should be cleaned out and replaced by a fresh group."

These Republicans, They're Cool Crowd

CHICAGO (P)—These 1952 Republicans are a strangely cool lot. They never get heated up. The word for them, in the elegant slang of our times, is no-sweat. That's because they're attending the first air-conditioned national convention in the history of American politics. The air-conditioning system, one of the world's largest, was installed at a cost of $350,000. It works. Just outside this big barn of a hall by the stockyards the temperature got up to 98.5 degrees at 3:30 p. m. CDT yesterday. In the arena, where 2,412 delegates and alternates and several times that number of spectators were seated, the temperature was between 75 and 76. That was the official reading of Dick Gockley, the air-conditioning engineer in charge. A 39-cent thermometer — carried into the hall by an inquisitive United Press reporter — got up to 84 once. But some television lights were focused on it at the time and the reporter conceded that Gockley's figures were more authoritative. The plant uses vast quantities of refrigerant — 1,000 tons when the heat was on yesterday afternoon, according to Gockley. WATER FROM TWO WELLS
Water for the plant comes from two wells sunk 1,600 feet from the convention building. During sessions, water from the same wells is sprayed continuously on the arena roof to dissipate heat. Air inside the arena is filtered, dehumidified, and changed completely 72 times a day. The climate in the arena is not better than that in the adjacent workrooms where news and photographs of the convention are processed and transmitted. The air-conditioning stops at the doors separating the two areas. On one side its reminiscent of the sweat-soaked conventions in Philadelphia four years ago, not to mention other summer conventions of the past. On the other side of the doors are those cool Republicans. You can tell they're Republicans by the things they say. They praise Abraham Lincoln, speak lovingly of the Constitution, and denounce Democrats as criminals against humanity. GEN. MAC WAS COOL
One of the coolest was Gen. Douglas MacArthur, convention keynoter. He addressed the delegates for 59 minutes with TV lights shining full upon him the while. At the end there wasn't a bead of sweat on him.

Cotton Crop Doing Well

RALEIGH (P)—North Carolina's cotton crop is doing well and conditions so far favor a good set of bolls, the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said today. The service said in its first cotton report of the season that estimated cotton on North Carolina farms on July 1 was 700,000 acres. The size of the crop was not estimated because Congress prohibits release of such information before Aug. 8. The service said boll weevil infestation is higher than at this time last year but farmers are dusting and spraying their cotton to minimize the weevil damage.

State Prison Aide Is Fired

RALEIGH (P)—Assistant Prisons Director H. H. Honeycutt was relieved of his duties today by Prisons Director Walter Anderson — a move seen as an outright firing. In a letter to Honeycutt, Anderson said the veteran prison official would be placed on retirement Sept. 22. Honeycutt prepared to leave his post immediately on vacation.
