Southern Leaders Ignored In Plans

Dulles Visit Here Would Be Event Of Much Significance

John Foster Dulles' acceptance of an invitation to speak in Dunn is a major victory for Jim McMillen and his Dunn Information Clinic. Since the Clinic was formed, a big name has been sought.

Dulles, noted foreign affairs expert, is one of the most sought-after public figures in the nation. A national publication reported recently that he turns down an average of 50 invitations a day.

Even now, an address by Dulles is an event of national and world importance and a whole corps of newsmen usually follows him wherever he goes.

T. V. WANTS PROGRAM Officials of WFMY-TV at Greensboro have already contacted McMillen to invite Dulles and the Dunn group to appear together on a television broadcast.

MR. DULLES

That would add even greater significance to the event, particularly since he would just be returning his new duties about the time and the byhook would be waiting for his views.

CHOICE OF DATES The director said Dulles would be given his choice of dates in February. Dulles, who has served as advisor to the late President Roosevelt, to President Truman and to the United Nations, had high praise for the Dunn Information Clinic.

The total project will cost $100,000 and the rest of the money will be provided by the State and the County of Harnett. Plans for the new health center were provided by the town of Dunn.

The new health center, which will replace inadequate quarters, will be known as the Harnett County Health Center - Dunn Branch.

Interested golfers who have not yet joined will be invited to the opening festivities as well as the public to witness the exhibition between the golf pros.

The course itself is rapidly taking shape and getting into fine condition. The greens and fairways have been mowed several times and local pro Hal Jernigan, has kept his crew of workmen busy every day seeing that Dunn will have a first-class course.

A gala opening is being planned by the directors of the club, present plans call for an exhibition nine hole match between four professionals from nearby clubs.

Truman Forces Out To Stop Senator Russell

BY LYLE C. WILSON

CHICAGO, (P)—Democratic leaders crossed their fingers today and scheduled a short national convention with an open door for organized Labor but no welcome sign is yet visible for conservatives.

Speaker Sam Rayburn was the only top-drawer Southerner assigned a major spot so far in convention proceedings. Rayburn will be permanent chairman.

Convention speakers uniformly were chosen from the East, West and North. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will be the star of visiting orators. Two places on the 21-member preliminary drafting committee, which will rough out the 1952 Democratic platform, were assigned to the CIO and the AFL.

TRUMAN SPECIFICATIONS Seventeen of the 21 drafting committee members were from the East, North or West, a proof that the Chicago federation of labor, Mr. Truman's most significant representative on this preliminary committee which began work today was Rep. Brooks Hays, Arkansas, who took the lead in Congress toward a civil right plank compromise which would hold the Negro and other minority votes in the North without inciting Southerners to bolt.

Mr. Truman holds that the party's lead presidential nominee must run on the Truman-Kefauver record. An administration-controlled convention is being set up here to make it stick. That means the Truman forces are out to stop Sen. Richard B. Russell, Georgia.

Mr. Truman does not care much for Sen. Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, either. There was pre-convention speculation that strategists would make one more effort to persuade Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois, to head the 1952 party ticket.

With the opening session scheduled for 11:30 a.m. (C.D.T.) July 21, the standing of top candidates for delegate votes was: Kefauver, 267; Russell, 117 1/2; Harriman, 113 1/2; Stevenson, 51 1/2; Sen. Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma, 43 1/2; Barkley, 26 1/2. None was even close to

DR. W. DONALD MOORE AND HIS CAR RADIO

Coats Doctor Not Hard To Find; Has Radio Network

BY LOUIS DEARBORN Record Staff Writer

A phone rings and a pleasant voice answers, "Dr. Moore's residence." The caller asks for the doctor but learns that he is out on a call somewhere near Buie's Creek, from Mrs. Moore, who answers.

"I've got to get a doctor right now," the agitated caller says. "My little girl is choking and can't breathe. Unless something is done right away I'm afraid she may die."

Mrs. Moore instructs the caller to hold the line. She switches on a radio sending set and calls "KIF 578" the call letters on the radio in the doctor's car.

Dr. Moore hurries to the farm home, the origin of the call and soon has the child breathing normally, then continues on his interrupted journey to his home in Coats.

That, essentially is the way the radio equipment which Doctor W. Donald Moore installed in his car would work in a case of that kind. No matter where he is in the far-flung territory he serves, he can

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

SAXAPAHAW (P)—State Democratic Chairman Everett Jordan predicts that Sen. Richard B. Russell will get at least 28 of North Carolina's 32 votes on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention next week.

SANFORD (P)—The Sanford Herald will become a daily newspaper Sept. 1, co-publishers W. E. Horner and J. R. McIver announced today. A new building to house the newspaper is now under construction.

RALEIGH (P)—The way was clear today for acquisition of lands for a proposed Cape Hatteras recreation area.

MARKETS EGGS AND POULTRY RALEIGH (P)—Today's egg and live poultry markets:

Central North Carolina live poultry: Supplies adequate to short market fair, demand good; heavy hens weak, supplies plentiful.

United Press returns from 1,673 of the state's 1,790 precincts gave Byrd 212,460 votes to 124,841 in a record-breaking ballot for a senatorial primary in this State.

Byrd's overwhelming renomination for a fourth full Senate term, expressed amazement at defeating by "such a large majority" Col. Francis Pickens Miller, who had bitterly attacked "the Byrd machine."

Operator Of Kitchen Brewery Is Convicted

Roy Cameron of Mamers was a businessman selling a beverage with that real "home-cooked" flavor. Cameron was convicted yesterday in Harnett Recorder's Court of illegal manufacture of whisky after officers told the court about finding three stills in the Cameron kitchen.

The home-made brand, but certainly not intended solely for home consumption, was apparently popular with the customers. Sheriff W. E. Salman and Constable W. E. Castleberry testified they captured 243 half-gallon fruit jars filled with non-tax paid whiskey at the Cameron home.

Officers said the raid, made on a Sunday morning, found the stills idle. And they surmised that the operator had taken time out to repair his equipment after a busy week. Cameron who was away from home at the time surrendered next morning at the sheriff's office.

Pipes found in the kitchen extended from the stills to the pig pens in the back yard providing drainage of waste material from the whiskey plant. The smoke which went up a real chimney could be easily seen from Boone Trail School, one of the county's largest consolidated schools located on the main Sanford-Lillington highway.

Judge M. O. Lee deferred judgment until July 22 due to the absence of Cameron's attorney, A. R. Taylor of the firm of Young and

Byrd Is Reelected By Great Landslide

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Anti-Truman Democrats celebrated today the primary election landslide victory of Sen. Harry F. Byrd as a mandate for him to carry on a fight against waste in government.

Byrd's overwhelming renomination for a fourth full Senate term, expressed amazement at defeating by "such a large majority" Col. Francis Pickens Miller, who had bitterly attacked "the Byrd machine."

GREAT TRIUMPH Campaign leaders called Byrd's renomination, tantamount to election in Virginia, a "triumph of all that Senator Byrd stands for" and a repudiation by Virginia of policies of the Truman administration.

United Press returns from 1,673 of the state's 1,790 precincts gave Byrd 212,460 votes to 124,841 in a record-breaking ballot for a senatorial primary in this State.

"I am tremendously gratified and proud," Byrd said. "I interpret the vote to mean that the people of Virginia approve of the policies I advocate in Washington."

BULLETINS

BUENOS AIRES, (P)—The condition of Eva Peron, ailing wife of Argentine President Juan D. Peron, was reported last night as unchanged. Peron did not go to his office yesterday and the foreign diplomatic corps cancelled almost all social activities, causing speculation that she had taken a turn for the worse.

BELGRADE, (P)—The Yugoslav government announced that a jet fighter plane with Russian markings violated Yugoslav air space last Monday morning. The announcement said the plane flew at an altitude of about 6,500 feet and penetrated some two miles into Yugoslav territory over the northeastern village of Lukos, before returning to Hungary.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, (P)—Activities of the neo-Nazi "socialist Reich" party of Otto Ernst Remer have been banned by West Germany's supreme court. The ruling was
