Truman Urged Not To Call Congress Back

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman was under heavy pressure from his own party today to forget about calling Congress back to strengthen price controls at least until after the November elections.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, publicly declared his opposition to the special session which Mr. Truman said last week he is considering.

As several influential Democratic senators had said previously, Sparkman warned that recalling the lawmakers "in the middle of a campaign" would produce a lot of political hair-pulling but not anti-inflation legislation.

ADLAI MAY INTERVENE Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, will have a chance to put in his own on the subject when he attends a White House luncheon with Mr. Truman and the cabinet tomorrow. He has not so far displayed any enthusiasm for the special session idea, which originated with Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall.

Economic Stabilizer Roger I. Putnam told a national radio and television audience last night that if the general price rise continues for another month at the same rate food prices have increased. "I think it will be necessary to call in Congress to tighten up controls."

On the other hand, Putnam said, if the public will cooperate, it may be possible to remove price controls "before many months."

ARNALL TO QUIT Arnall said food prices, which rose a record 1-2 per cent last month, are threatening to "get out of hand." He blamed the "weak" price control law passed by Congress just before it adjourned, and the drought which has parched crops in Southern states.

Associates said Arnall does not intend to sit much longer on the hot-seat price job, regardless of what Mr. Truman does about a special session. They said the former Georgia governor already has submitted his resignation, effective Sept. 1.

Arnall apparently, expected Mr. Truman to announce the resignation last week, but the President held off. Informed sources believed he hopes to line up a successor before making any announcement.

Three Hurt In Sunday Wreck

One person in the Dunn Hospital critically injured and two others received minor injuries in an automobile accident that occurred Sunday night at Sills Crossroads on Highway 87, east of Dunn.

State Patrolman James A. McCoolman of Newton Grove said the accident occurred when a 1952 DeSoto, driven by Louis Matthew Steward, 41, of 704 Fountain St., Tarboro, came into the intersection from a side road and ran into the 1951 Henry J., being operated by Arlon Jones, 30, of Newton Grove, Route 2.

TURNUED INTO DITCH The Henry J. was turned over into a ditch on the side of the road. Steward was brought to the Dunn Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries. Dr. Clarence L. Corbett, the attending physician, described his condition as "critical."

He remained unconscious for some time. Jones received minor lacerations and his wife received several broken ribs.

Patrolman McCoolman said no charges have been preferred pending completion of his investigation.

Chemical Plant, Other Vital Targets Struck

SEOUL, Korea. (AP)—One hundred and fifty United Nations fighter-bombers spread flaming death and destruction through North Korean chemical plant and troop concentration center at Namsok on the east coast today.

And in northwest Korea, not far from the Yalu River, American Sabre jets tangled with Communist MIG-15 jet fighters and probably destroyed one and damaged another MIG.

Five fighter-bomber wings of shooting Stars and Thunderjets and two groups of Marine war planes struck Namsok, about 20 miles north of Wonsan, with bombs, rockets, fuelled gasoline and machine gun fire.

HUGE FIRES RESULT Huge fires sprang up in the wake of the raiders, but the 6th Air Force said no details of damage would be available until later.

The attack was the latest in a series designed to cripple the Communist war effort in Korea and persuade the Reds to make peace with the Allies.

At the same time, B-26 light bombers from the 17th Bomb Wing attacked a supply target near Haeju, just above the 38th parallel in the west.

British carrier-based pilots for the second day in a row Sunday destroyed a slip in the face of Communist MIG-15 jets. Propeller-driven Sea Furies from HMS Ocean damaged and possibly destroyed one of the Russian-built jet fighters and drove off seven more during a raid near Chinnampo, western port for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

BRITISH GET MIGs The World War II-British planes shot down their first MIG of the war, damaged three and chased 10 away in the same area Saturday.

Japan-based B-29's attacked a freight yard at Chinnampo Sunday night while Okinawa-based Superfortress flew close air support along the battlefield.

On the ground, the war was fought in 104-degree heat. Chinese Communists tossed U. S. Marines off "Siberia Hill" a low advanced position on the Western Front, in a dawn attack Sunday. The Marines had taken it only four hours before.

Stevenson's Paper Won't Endorse Him

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—The Bloomington Pantagraph, partly owned by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, said in an editorial today that it wishes it could endorse him for the Presidency "without reservation," but that his party is a "great handicap."

Slaughter Not On Committee

Benny O. Slaughter, well-known Dunn business man, has advised The Daily Record that he was not a member of a committee of the First Baptist Church of Dunn which drafted a resolution censuring a news story in The Daily Record which correctly reported allegations in an alimony suit.

Jeff Denny was a member of the committee, instead of Mr. Slaughter, along with Oliver O. Manning and J. A. McLeod.

The Daily Record had been incorrectly informed that Mr. Slaughter was on the committee.

In asking The Record to make the correction Mr. Slaughter said: "BENEATH DIGNITY"

"I certainly would not be a party to such an act which was beneath the dignity of the church and an attack on the free press."

"The church," he said, "has missed some wonderful opportunities to speak out on great moral issues here in recent months and it's a mystery to me why it suddenly decides to speak out on a matter so trivial and unworthy of notice."

Dunn Market Has More Buyers Than Any Other One-Set Mart

The Dunn Tobacco Market, one of the newest and fastest growing markets in the state, will open on Thursday, August 21 with a new distinction.

It will have the largest number of buyers of any one-set market in the State and, many believe, on any market anywhere. There will be ten company buyers on the Dunn market this year, one foreign, three domestics and six independents. According to Sales Supervisor Norman Suttles, no other market with only one set of buyers can claim 10 buyers.

HUSTLING MARKET "All of which," points out Suttles, "speaks mighty well for this young but hustling market." This will be the fifth season for the Dunn Market and, according to indications, it will be the biggest season in the market's history. Dunn has five big warehouses with a total of 480,000 square feet of floor space. All are modern warehouses with the finest facilities for handling tobacco to the best advantage and with greatest convenience to the farmer.

Buck Currin and his associates, Hank Currin, Jack Calhoun and Tom Smothers, are again operating the Old Big-4 and the New Big-4 Warehouses. The Old Big-4 houses are located on the Fayetteville highway, south of town; the New Big-4 on the Benson highway. (Continued on Page Two)

KING OUSTED BEIRUT, Lebanon

The Jordan Parliament announced today the ousting of ailing King Talal and proclaimed his 17-year-old son, Hussein II, as king.

Parliament announced after a secret session that a regency council has been established to assist the new ruler, according to dispatches from Amman, Jordan capital.

THE NEWS CAME HOME - Cleodous Naylor, 37-year-old Dunn truck driver, had a close call early Saturday afternoon when he tore up his 1947 Plymouth almost at the door of The Daily Record office on the Fayetteville highway. Naylor, a fireman, said he was enroute to answer a fire alarm when another car cut across the highway in front of him. Apparently driving at a terrific speed, Naylor cut across the highway, struck a telephone pole and then ran across the street, struck a heavy iron pole and knocked it down and turned over. The pole, on which hung a Daily Record sign, was almost cut in two and was dug up by the impact of the car despite the fact it was weighted down with about 200 or 300 pounds of concrete. Naylor, who had another close call months ago, escaped with minor injuries. No charges were preferred. This picture was made just before Lee's Truck Terminal wrecker removed the demolished vehicle. Erwin Mills To End Contract

Erwin Mills, Inc., notified the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO yesterday that the contract between them would be ended on its expiration date, October 11, 1952.

Formality of notification was made under the terms of the contract signed in 1950 in which both parties had agreed that cancellation by the Company or the Union would be made sixty days before the termination date. The decision affects Erwin employees in Durham, Erwin and Cooleemee, N. C.

Mr. Carl R. Harris, Vice-President, said that the move was made because the contest between the United Textile Workers, AFL and the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO has created such a state of confusion that no other course was open.

CHECK-OFF DUES SITUATION As an instance, he cited the state of employees' Union dues. Last May when the controversy between the Unions began, some employees asked the company to not pay to the CIO the dues checked off from their pay. The dues have been held in escrow ever since. Meanwhile, check-off dues of employees who did not withdraw are being paid to the CIO according to the terms of the contract.

The demands of employees in favor of one Union or the other have put the Company in an embarrassing position. Mr. Harris stated that it is Company policy to take no sides in union disputes. The only way to clear the situation is to end the contract with CIO and allow Erwin employees to decide whether (Continued on Page Five)

Chicora Country Club Will Open Wednesday

Everything was pronounced in readiness today for the grand opening of the Chicora Country Club which takes place Wednesday afternoon with a full round of events scheduled. The completion and opening of the golf course is not only a dream come true for local golfers, but marks another step forward for the residents of Dunn and Erwin and the surrounding community for additional recreational facilities.

Various committees have been busy these past few weeks formulating plans for the opening of the course and local pro, Hal Jernigan has had his crew of workers busy seeing that the course itself is in tip top shape for the opening day activities. The Publicity committee headed by John Dalrymple, has charge of the opening day program and this committee has announced the following program for Wednesday.

Stevenson And Ike Meet With Leaders

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today joined the parade of defeated Democratic presidential hopefuls beating a path to the door of victorious Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The somber-faced Tennessee criss-buster, who led the field on the first ballots at the Democratic convention, went to Springfield, Ill. and pledged his support to the party nominee and offer his aid in the campaign.

FIRST MEETING It was their first face-to-face meeting since the dramatic night session in Chicago's stockyards amphitheatre, when the Stevenson bandwagon ground Kefauver's White House dreams into dust as the lanky senator sat forlornly on the platform, waiting for a chance to concede his defeat.

Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower meanwhile called in GOP leaders from eight Southern states to canvass his chances for breaking the Democratic hold on Dixie. Ike talks farm problems Eisenhower also scheduled a luncheon meeting at his Denver headquarters with Republican members of the House and Senate agriculture committees, who were promised with advice on farm problems and the stand he should take on those. The candidates turned to such fence-mending activities after a hectic weekend of activity which included these developments: 1. Eisenhower flew to Dallas to sell an inter-tribal pact.
