Federal Agents Nab 14 Men

Cumberland County ABC officers and Federal ATU agents, in a series of raids, seized five automobiles and charged 14 men with violations of the prohibition laws. Two, arrested in their car, which contained a small amount of liquor, broke down under questioning and led the officers to a still in Nellie's Creek township. The officers had noticed the odor of mash on the persons of the pair, Willie Rogers Stone and Wade Williams of near Coats. Their car was seized. Two other autos were seized, seven men arrested and approximately twelve and one-half gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey seized in Manchester township. James B. Blalock, Coats Route 1 (Continued On Page Two)

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT CONVENTIONS — J. O. West, left, delegate to the Republican National Convention, and State Senator J. Robert Young, right, delegate to the Democratic National Convention are pictured here with Dr. Charles W. Byrd, Rotary president, Friday night after they gave sidelights and highlights of the two big party meetings. Senator Young said nomination of Stevenson wasn't any popular and spontaneous affair, but was cut and dried long before the convention opened. Mr. West, who's pointing to his Robert Taft tie, related some of his humorous experiences, told the club he went to the convention for Taft, stuck to him to the last but came home a confirmed Ike supporter. Both speakers gave interesting presentations. (Daily Record Photo by Bill Biggs).

Ballentine Picked As Top Speaker At Festival Saturday

State Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine will deliver the principal address at the big Town and Country Festival to be held in Dunn Saturday, it was announced today by Chairman Earl McD. Westbrook of the program committee.

Mr. Ballentine accepted the invitation extended him during the weekend. He will deliver the address Saturday morning at 11 a. m. in Dunn's Memorial Park, scene of most of the day's events. Mr. Ballentine was the unanimous choice of festival officials. Chairman Westbrook pointed out that since it is an event staged primarily for the farmers that Ballentine is ideal for the occasion. The former lieutenant governor is thoroughly conversant with all phases of agriculture and his address should prove one of the high spots of the day's program. Starting with the big parade at ten o'clock Saturday morning the day's activities have been so spaced that there will be never a dull moment. Merchants are adding to the prize list and the interval between awards is consequently being shortened, so that by Saturday this may have shrunk to less than a half hour.

L. Y. BALLENTINE

McLAMB SUPPLYING TRUCKS Merchants throughout the area have taken advantage of the offer of Chamber of Commerce president C. E. McLamb to supply trucks for the floats in the parade, and a galaxy of gaily decorated vehicles is assured.

A. R. Howard of Wilmington, popular agricultural agent for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad will act as Master of Ceremonies for the events of the day. The events will include a greasy pig and greased pole contest, a continuous all-day horse shoe pitching tournament, a beauty contest to select a Cotton Queen for the festival, a mammoth fish fry, and a dance. To provide music for the day's events as well as for the dance, the Chamber of Commerce has secured the services of the Smile-A-While Boys, a talented group of entertainers.

NEW ENTRIES RECEIVED Six new entries have been received for the beauty contest, which makes a total of thirteen beautiful girls from the area surrounding Dunn. (Continued on Page Seven)

Unions Oppose Proposal To Avoid RR Strike

By United Press A strike paralyzed the Goodrich Rubber Co. today and a government proposal designed to prevent a strike of the New York Central Railroad was thrown off the track by three rail unions.

Labor harmony was also threatened in the meat packing industry as the CIO United Packinghouse Workers union began a war of nerves against the "big four" meat packers. About 18,000 rubber workers in nine B. F. Goodrich plants across the country began their strike today after 10 weeks of negotiations over "fringe" benefits were broken off at Cincinnati. The strike began just after midnight Sunday, and L. S. Buckmaster, international president of the CIO United Rubber Workers, said all the plants were "shut down or in the process of being shut down."

The National Mediation Board yesterday made a "package" proposal aimed at settling the dispute between the rail brotherhoods and the NYC, but the unions rejected it. The railroad agreed to the federal compromise, with some reservations.

AFFECTS EASTERN DIVISION The strike, if called, would only affect the Eastern division of the New York Central. About 60,000 commuters in the New York City area would be hardest hit.

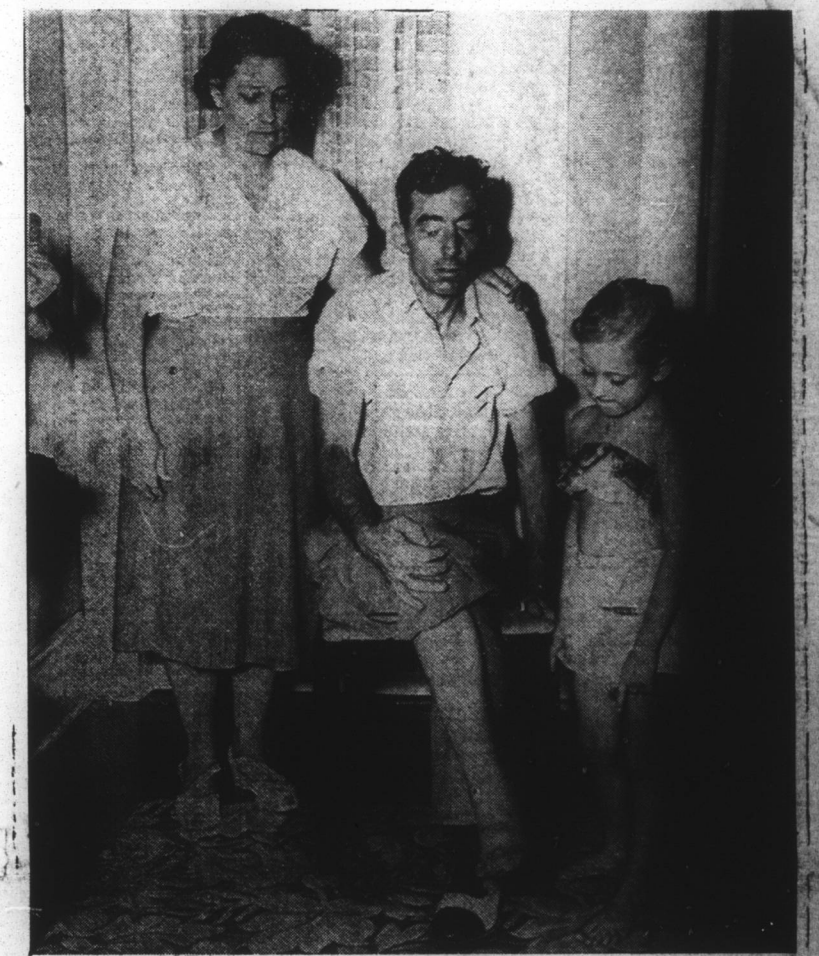

The rail brotherhoods did agree on a "final" meeting with federal conciliators and the NYC in Washington Tuesday.

The CIO rubber workers revealed that Goodrich had offered them a 10 cent hourly wage boost. They said this was in line with raises granted by four other rubber manufacturers. The controversy arose over "fringe" benefits. Although neither party to the dispute made clear what the issues were, it was believed that vacation pay, filling of job orders, grievance procedures and equalization of available work-hours were at the base of the dispute.

In addition to the sprawling Akron plant, the union said picket lines would be set up at Goodrich plants at Cadillac, Mich., Miami, Okla., Clarksville, Tenn., Marion, O., Riverside, N. J., Los Angeles, Calif., Oak Pa., and Tuscaloosa, Ala.

SECRECY IN PLANS The CIO packinghouse workers began their war of nerves against the meat companies by wrapping all their plans in strict secrecy. The 14-man executive board of the union met in Chicago yesterday to discuss stalled contract negotiations and refused to reveal what decision they reached.

Negotiations between the union, which represents 80,000 employees in 68 meat packing plants, and Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., and Cudahy have been hoped. (Continued On Page Two)

DISPLAYS HIS WOUNDS — W. R. (Turk) Lewis is shown here as he displays a badly injured and swollen ankle and deep gashes in his wrist and an injured head which he said he received last night at the hands of two Dunn policemen. With him are Mrs. Lewis and their young daughter. Lewis, 38-year-old veteran, says Policeman Francis Hall and Policeman Garland L. Stone beat him unmercifully on a charge that he was drunk. Lewis denies the charge, says police threw him in jail and denied him medical attention. Policeman Hall denied the charges. (Daily Record Photo by T. M. Stewart).

Dunn Choirs Again Win State Honors

Both the Youth Choirs and the Carol Choirs of the Dunn First Baptist Church came back from the State Finals at Caswell Baptist Assembly on Saturday with a rating of A—the highest score to be attained. They have been winners for the past three years.

Miss Ann Britton and Miss Sue Ennis, who entered the Junior Memory Work drill, were also winners. They have been state winners for the past two years.

The representatives from the Dunn church left Dunn last Monday by car for Caswell Baptist Assembly near Southport. They arrived at their destination in time for the worship service on Monday night and on Tuesday morning began a regular routine of study, recreation, and worship.

Rising each morning at seven, the group served themselves breakfast cafeteria style in a large dining hall. Lunch and supper were also served in the same manner. All who attended report that the food was excellent.

Classes were held each morning from 8:45 until 12:45, when lunch was served. The entire afternoon was left for recreation. The group (Continued On Page Two)

Designer Taken In New Vice Roundup

NEW YORK. (P)—Minot (Mickey) Jelke, III, heir to a $3,000,000 oleo fortune, goes to court today to hear charges he furnished $500-a-night call girls to well-heeled gentlemen in pursuit of pleasure.

As the 22-year-old blueblood play boy prepared to plead his innocence, vice squad agents worked deeper into the maze of high-priced prostitution that also netted dress designer Samuel Chapman. Chapman, former husband of famous designer Cell Chapman and still a partner in their $1,000,000-year business, was arrested Saturday and charged with procuring women for prostitution.

BULLETINS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, (P)—Margaret Truman began a four-day visit here today and again laughingly denied reports of a romance with Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson. "He is a very fine man and he is going to win," Miss Truman told reporters after her arrival here yesterday from Copenhagen.

ARZANC, France (P)—Firemen called to fight a blaze in a farm-barn near here today found no water supply. They put out the fire with 1,000 gallons of cider.

Dunn Man Claims That Police Beat Him Without Reason

W. R. (Turk) Lewis, 38-year-old Dunn war veteran who claims that two Dunn policemen beat him unmercifully and injured him last night in front of his home, was removed to the Veteran's Hospital at Fayetteville this morning for X-ray examination and treatment of his wounds.

Lewis, who received serious head wounds in the Pacific, and several eye witnesses told reporters this morning that Policeman Francis Hall and Policeman Garland L. Stone beat the man in the head with a blackjack without reason.

The incident took place about 7:30 last night in front of Lewis' home on East Broad Street. Policeman Hall lives right across the street. Lewis is facing charges for public drunkenness, disorderly conduct. (Continued On Page Two)

Minister Defends Governor Stevenson

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson was slouched in a rear pew when a Presbyterian minister charged that Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill told a "blatant lie" about Stevenson.

The Democratic presidential nominee took time out from weekend strategy conferences to attend the church services yesterday and heard the Rev. Richard Paul Graebel blast Dirksen, who has often criticized Stevenson. Graebel told his congregation that the Illinois senator told a "blatant lie" when he made a recent statement saying Stevenson was the worst Illinois governor since the turn of the century. The minister said Dirksen was "one of the most irresponsible men" in the Senate and the Republican party.

DEFERS HOLIDAY Stevenson today deferred a planned holiday at Minocqua, Wis., so he could hold staff conferences on campaign problems. He wanted to discuss questions which arose during weekend meetings with his nine-member campaign strategy board. Today he expressed hope that everything will be done to encourage registration and voting between now and Nov. 4. He said barely (Continued on page two)

$1,172 Given Cancer Fund

Generous Harnett County citizens this summer contributed a total of $1,172.50 to the American Cancer Society. It was reported today by the county fund chairman, the Rev. A. A. Amrine of Dunn. The money will go toward a three-pronged attack on the disease through education, research and treatment. Mrs. Grady Johnson of Lillington is county commander of the society. (Continued On Page Two)

Ike Will Speak In Richmond, Atlanta

DENVER, (P)—Dwight D. Eisenhower will start this week on a presidential campaign tour that ultimately will take him from the East Coast to the West and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

While many gaps still remain to be filled in the GOP nominee's precise itinerary, it is evident from plans already announced that Eisenhower expects to keep his earlier promise to go into the nooks and crannies of the country in search of votes.

On Sept. 2 and 3 the former five-star general will make a whirlwind 48-hour campaign tour that will take him by chartered plane into 10 or 20 Southern cities for political speeches. Most of these speeches necessarily will have to be made at the airports because of the shortage of time. IN PHILLY SEPT. 4 A close schedule calls for Eisenhower to be in Philadelphia on the night of Sept. 4 for the kickoff of his presidential campaign. The Philadelphia (Continued On Page Two)
