SOMEWHERE IN KOREA—Marine Capt. Charles A. Willis of Doucette, Tex., started out on his first Korean combat mission in a Corsair warplane and came back on a bicycle. Willis' plane ran short of fuel as he was returning from a combat mission and the 30-year-old pilot was forced to parachute over Allied territory.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Skeptical officials of the famed Folger Shakespeare Library disclosed today they declined to play "angel" for a New York drama critic's expedition to England to recover lost manuscripts of William Shakespeare's plays.

CINCINNATI, (AP)—CIO United Rubber Workers were expected to withdraw picket lines of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., ending a nationwide strike of 18,000 employees which began 11 days ago.

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A non-political welcome mat will be rolled out for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, by Colorado's Republican governor on September 5.

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—Authorities assured Earl Nolan, 41, of Richmond, Ind., today that he'd get his driver's license back after he convinced them that he and Early Nolan, 41, of Richmond, Ky., were two different persons.

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP)—Sen. William E. Jenner says the United States is getting "history's all time double cross" in the NATO army. The Indiana Republican said last night that several European countries are not fulfilling their manpower pledges for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization army.

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—The mineshaft into which badman William Billy Cook tossed the five bodies of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill., almost two years ago will be permanently closed off.

SAN ANTONIO, (AP)—An Air Force B-17 caught fire five minutes after takeoff from Kelly Air Force Base at San Antonio, but its pilot bailed out of the bomber in an open field and the crew of six jumped out uninjured.

TAMASSEE, S. C. (AP)—Sen. Burnet R. Maybank said last night he hopes voters will not forget "that in the past 20-years our farmers have lifted themselves from poverty living to American living."

PACIFIC, Mo. (AP)—A dozen state highway patrolmen, a pair of bloodhounds and an airplane searched this area today for William Merle Martin, one of the FBI's 10 "most wanted" criminals.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The B-17 bomber which was accidentally downed over the Gulf of Mexico Sunday was hit by "dummy" rockets, the Air Force disclosed last night.

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—Communist China repeated its demand today that the United Nations give up plans to "hold back prisoners" if it wants a truce in Korea.

NEW YORK, (AP)—New York Democrats headed for a bitter convention floor fight over a candidate for the U. S. Senate today as Gov. Adlai Stevenson refused to intervene. Stevenson, who will address the party's convention when it convenes at 8:30 p. m., bluntly told New York leaders he wanted no part of the red-hot squabble over a senatorial candidate.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Controlling interest in the Los Angeles Daily News was acquired today by a syndicate headed by Robert L. Smith.

NEW YORK, (AP)—The United States Court of Appeals, in a two to one decision, affirmed today the three-year sentence imposed on convicted Communist leader Gus Hall for contempt of court.

Kills His Playmate Playing Communist

JACKSBORO, Tenn. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Robert Don Shelton told authorities today that he shot and killed a 15-year-old playmate in a game called "communism."

Coroner C. E. Bibebe said Robert broke down and confessed that he shot Charles Johnson in the head Tuesday night while they were playing "communism" on Walnut Mountain in the remote Stinking Creek section.

Bibebe said Robert first claimed that the shooting was accidental but after hours of questioning admitted that it took place during the new "game."

Robert was jailed here on a charge of murder.

After the shooting, Bibebe said, Robert remained with the body until his brothers arrived, then walked more than a mile down the mountain to tell his father. The body still lay where it had fallen when Bibebe and Sheriff Austin Harmon arrived in response to the father's summons.

Called Him Red

Bibebe said the boys had been sawing timber when, according to Robert's story, Charles "began flashing his gun at him and telling Robert he (Charles) was a Red."

At one point, Robert told Bibebe, Charles shouted,

"When I get through with you, I'll be a Jap."

Robert claimed that Charles "snapped" his rifle at him twice and that one shot narrowly missed his head before he killed the boy with one shot from a .22 caliber rifle. The bullet split his brain, Bibebe said.

Bibebe said an examination of a cartridge in Charles' gun confirmed the other boy's story that it had been "snapped" twice.

"a high level." Stevenson seemed completely willing to make the campaign a personal, as well as a broadly ideological affair.

Stevenson in his speech yesterday before the American Legion convention, confined himself generally to the "non-political" billing given his address. But once he left Madison Square Garden and the Legionnaires, he turned to the more direct phraseology of a tub-thumping party pep talk at the Jumping Rock Country Club outside Asbury Park, N. J., where a number of party faithful and contributors gathered over broiled steaks.

HITS AT IKE

Moreover, the Democratic candidate dumped sarcastic pity on Eisenhower for having to "stand on a bushel of eels" - Stevenson's tart description of the GOP platform.

"It looks more and more as though he were going to stand on our platform," Stevenson said of Eisenhower. "And what's worrying me is that I don't see how we can collect any rent."

Stevenson went beyond Eisenhower as a personality and said he did not think the Republican party was "capable of governing decisively and well in its present condition - torn between a vaporous yearning to return to a dead, dead past on the one hand, and stirred by anxiety to reaffirm the liberal, progressive ideas that brought it to birth."

SAYS GOP SPLIT

"The Republicans," he continued, "are split wide open on foreign policy. Our domestic policy only now are they slowly and reluctantly accepting the ideas sponsored by the Democratic party years ago. A party so disorganized and sterile cannot successfully manage the affairs of our nation in this time of crisis."

Conceding "mistakes . . . failure and false starts" by the Democrats, he counseled "professional creeps" to "close their mouths and open their eyes" to the accomplishments of his party.

By endorsing Archibald Alexander's Democratic senatorial candidacy in New Jersey, he took the occasion to shoot another barb at Eisenhower. He professed thanks for not being "in the delicate position of another candidate for high office, who faces the ticklish problem of whether to swallow his principles and endorse all the candidates running on the same ticket with him."

Abbey To Be Closed To Prepare Crowning

LONDON (AP)—Officials of Westminster Abbey said today they will close part of the historic structure early in December to begin the long months of preparation for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II next June 2.

The closing will be the first real outward sign of the mounting activity behind the royal scene as the 38th coronation since the Norman conquest of 1066 is arranged.

Britain has done a lot of penance lately with its reduced economic position but the feeling is the coronation must be "the greatest spectacle on earth" and those in charge of details are acting accordingly.

CENTRE OF CEREMONY

The 700-year-old abbey will be the center of the ceremony. A special gold-colored carpet is being made to cover the "coronation theater" before the altar where Elizabeth will be crowned by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Grandstands to seat about 8,000 people will be erected in the abbey. The queen will be anointed by her priests and consecrated to her duty before the peers of her realm and wearing the coronets of their ranks—and also representatives of the common people.

The job of converting the ancient church is delicate for parts of its date back 1,000 years and cannot take rough treatment.

Surveyors are examining the seven-mile coronation route for the erection of stands seating 100,000. They expect to start construction in the spring.

Another Teen-Age Vice Ring Found

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP)—Sheriff George L. Reed said today nine of 14 warrants had been served on men charged with participating in a sex ring with two 14-year-old girls here, but "we're having a devil of a time catching the others."

Reed said "about 20" men, ranging from 17 to 40 years old, were involved in the case, but only 14 warrants had been sworn out so far. Of the nine men arrested and charged with statutory rape and aggravated assault, seven were released under $1,000 bonds.

SWORN OUT BY PARENTS

Orangeburg Police Chief T. E. Salley said the warrants were sworn out by the parents of one of the girls.

The girls, taken into custody some three weeks ago by Lt. Harold Hall of the Orangeburg police, are now being held in the state industrial school for girls near Columbia. Arrested in the bus station here, they admitted intimacies with "at least 20 men" during the past six months, police said.

FROM AVERAGE FAMILIES
Salley said parents of one of the girls swore out the warrants and the parents of the second girl had taken no action yet. The girls, from "average" families, had no previous police records.

The juvenile pair told officers they had relations with the men usually in parked automobiles in woods around Orangeburg. Hall said on one occasion one of the girls admitted going to a tourist court in adjoining Colleton County.

Both girls said they were "forced" on some occasions and submitted willingly on others. Salley denied there was any organized "sex ring" operating here and said this was the only evidence of such "goings-on."

MORE ARRESTS IN N. C.

BRYSON CITY — (AP)—County authorities today promised more arrests in their investigation of a teen-age prostitution ring whose operations from nearby tiny mountain village of Ela touched to the Great Smokey Mountain National Park and the Qualla Indian Reservation.

U. S. Commissioner Arvil Calhoun yesterday jailed a 29-year-old woman and two men in default of bonds ranging from $5,000 to $20,000 on federal charges.
