

NORTH CAROLINA - Partly cloudy and warm today, tonight and Saturday. Scattered showers Saturday. Not much change in temperature.

The Daily Record

Dunn Stores Open All Day Wednesdays

VOLUME II

TELEPHONES: 3117 - 3118 - 3119

DUNN, N. C., FRIDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 29, 1952

FIVE CENTS PER COPY

No. 189

Hurricane Heads Toward Coast

Negro Leaders Are Satisfied With Stevenson

NEW YORK, (P) - Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson today reaped the political benefits of his strong stand on civil rights by hearing from an assortment of Negro groups powerful in the East that they were now "satisfied" on this volatile issue.

Stevenson received advice and praise from a number of political quarters, ranging from Bernard M. Baruch, the elderly financier and economic expert, to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., the Democratic Harlem congressman.

POWELL FOR HIM

Powell, who only days ago advocated a Negro boycott of the Democratic national ticket, had a complete change of heart which he attributed to Stevenson's addresses last night before the New York Democratic convention and the Liberal Party.

"We are thoroughly satisfied with the whole civil rights issue as presented by the Democratic candidate," Powell said. "We are 100 per cent in back of him."

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and an ardent civil rights advocate, predicted after talking with Stevenson that the Democrats, given a "reasonable working majority" of the House and Senate this fall, would enact a compulsory FEPC law.

"We won't give a fig for some of those recalcitrant members from the South," he said.

Gardner's Buys Raynor's Dairy

Raynor's Dairy at Erwin has been purchased by Gardner's Dairy Products, Inc. of Dunn, it was announced today by Manager James Surles.

The Raynor Dairy was established by Rock Raynor, well-known (Continued on Page Two)

McMillen Plans Speech Classes

Jim McMillen announced today that the classes in public speaking he conducts, which had been dropped during the hot weather, will be resumed next week.

The first class will meet Tuesday evening, September 2, in the conference room of the Carolina Power and Light Company at eight o'clock. He urges anyone interested in joining the class to be present.

BULLETINS

HOLLYWOOD, (P)—Funeral services will be held next Tuesday for film producer-writer Lamar Trotti, 53, a former Atlanta, Ga., newspaperman, who died yesterday of a heart ailment in Oceanside, Calif. Trotti won an Academy Award in 1944 for his script of "Wilson," a film biography of Woodrow Wilson.

MANILA, (P)—Philippines Vice President Fernando Lopez, his wife and two children sail tonight aboard the liner President Wilson for the United States. Mrs. Lopez will undergo treatment at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (P)—Cattle which caught some radiation in Nevada experiments with the atomic (Continued on Page Two)

Allied Warplanes Pound Pyongyang

SEOUL, Korea (P)—Allied war planes from four nations joined in a huge aerial armada today to blast the North Korean capital of Pyongyang with bombs, bullets and napalm in the heaviest air assault of the Korean war.

Three waves of planes flew over the battered capital in the fifth major attack this month on the nerve center of Communist Korea. The attacks were preceded by a Radio Seoul alert to civilians warning them to flee.

The raid surpassed the previous record assault on Pyongyang on July 11 when 1,200 sorties were flown in attacks on the capital and the Sariwon - Pyongyang supply route.

RED JET SHOT DOWN - Protecting American Saab jets shot down one Red MIG-15 jet and damaged two other enemy fighters (Continued on Page Two)

Coast Residents Are Warned Of Possible Danger

CHARLESTON, S. C. (P) - Hurricane preparations for the Southeastern Atlantic states were ordered today, and planes, blimps and small water craft began heading for safety from the threat of a hurricane.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., (P) - The Glyco naval auxiliary air station here went under "Hurricane Condition No. 1" today and started evacuating its blimps to Key West, Fla.

MIAMI, (P)—An Atlantic hurricane aimed its 75 mile an hour winds at the Upper Florida, Georgia and South Carolina coasts.

The hurricane, increasing in intensity, was located at 11 a. m. only 280 miles east of Melbourne, about midway up the Florida peninsula.

Storm warnings were ordered hoisted from Vero Beach, Fla., to Wilmington, N. C., and the weather bureau warned coast residents to stand by for possible hurricane warnings this afternoon and tonight.

Hurricane "Able," the first of the year, was blowing along at an 18 mile an hour clip—rather fast for the doughnut-shaped tropical storm.

INTENSITY INCREASES - "Further intensification may occur during passage over the Gulfstream," the weather bureau predicted. "It has shown a slight increase in strength and has a more definite center today."

It was moving in a west-northwestward direction about a more northerly course than the previous storm.

All interested parties should stand by for further advice and possibly hurricane warnings, the advisory warned.

The storm, spawned north of the Leeward Islands in the Atlantic five days ago, caught residents along the North Florida coast by surprise. Only 12 hours ago it was (Continued on page two)

Commies Don't Like Eisenhower

MOSCOW (P) - The Communist Party newspaper Pravda in a bitter attack against Dwight D. Eisenhower, said today his recent speech to the American Legion "implied war."

In an editorial Pravda used probably the most vitriolic language it ever has directed against an American presidential candidate or politician.

The editorial was titled "Eisenhower is Preparing to March." The fact that Pravda devoted two columns of its front page—a space usually reserved for the most important party and state pronouncements—indicated the grave view taken here.

Pravda said Eisenhower was worse than Hitler and that his foreign policy was one "of returning a considerable part of Europe to American domination by force of arms."

MODERN GIN IN OPERATION - Shown here is the new modern high speed Lummus gin that has just been placed into operation by the General Utilities Company here. Capable of handling about a bale in every ten minutes of operation, it incorporates the results of 82 years of gin designing and building. It is all metal and requires a minimum of maintenance. It was placed in operation just in time to handle this year's crop. (Daily Record photo by Louis Dearborn).

Ginning Now Modern Operation

Publicity Sought To Boost Adlai

NEW YORK, (P)—Architects of the Stevenson-for-president campaign reported privately today that his rough "middle-of-the-gutter" speeches were part of a deliberate effort to pick a dock walloping fight with Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

One of Stevenson's top strategists explained that the Democratic candidate, suffering from a lack of full identity in the East, had elected to pick a series of name-calling quarrels with Eisenhower to be sure that the public knows and learns about him. The Illinois governor was more than satisfied with the results of

Ike Is Ignoring Blasts By Adlai

NEW YORK, (P)—Backers of Dwight D. Eisenhower adopted a "let him go, our turn is coming" attitude toward Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's free-swinging opening of the presidential campaign.

The Eisenhower aides promised that the Republican candidate would have some "fireworks" of his own when he hits the campaign trail in the next few days.

It was doubtful, however, that the retired general will use anything like the "middle of the gutter" taunt hurled last night by his Democratic opponent. While promising a "fighting" campaign for complete Republican victory in the November election,

Union Vote Set For Sept. 15

The CIO Textile Workers Union of America, issued a challenge to the UTW-AFL, declaring that the UTW-AFL, after assenting for an election, is afraid to agree to it at the Erwin Mills in Erwin.

Following a request for representation election by petition of the UTW-AFL, the NLRB conducted a representation hearing at Durham, N. C., on July 23, 1952. Several days ago, UTW-AFL issued news releases, claiming that the CIO was stalling in refusing to agree to an early election at the Erwin Mills. In reply to this, TWUA, CIO sent the following letter to the AFL: DERONCOURT LETTER

Mr. Lewis M. Conn Acting N. C. Director UTW-AFL Greensboro, N. C. Dear Sir: You and your organization, UTW-AFL have illegally taken possession of money, books, and records belonging to Local 250, TWUA-CIO. By taking these records, you have hurt the Erwin workers in handling and settling their grievances. You know these records belong to Local 250, TWUA-CIO. You are afraid of a showdown, therefore you are deliberately stalling to keep the case for recovery from coming up in court. On top of all this, you have been spreading propaganda, asking for an election in the interests of the Erwin workers. We know you didn't want an election. You were putting out this propaganda to further your own treacherous activities. We are calling your bluff. We are offering an election in the Erwin Mills, local 250, Erwin, N. C., on Sept. 15, the election to be handled by the NLRB. Either put up or shut up. If you agree to the election, say so. Don't try complicating matters. The hours of voting, and other such details can be worked out with the NLRB, after you agree to the election. The matter is very simple. Your bluff has been called. Do you agree to an election at Erwin Local 250 on

Sept. 15 or not? Yours very truly Wayne L. Dernoncourt Assistant State Director Textile Workers Union, CIO

If Eli Whitney were to return and visit the new cotton gin at the General Utility Company today, he would find it hard to recognize his "brainchild," so vast has been the improvement in the machine he invented. When Myres Tilghman's old gin was burned last winter, he made up his mind to install the very finest equipment possible. He spent weeks investigating all types and models before making a decision.

LEADER IN INDUSTRY - Tilghman is known as "Mr. Cotton" in this section. He's president of the Carolinas Ginner's Association, is a member of the board of directors of the National Cotton Council and wanted to set an example in good ginning operations. He's naturally mighty proud of his new equipment, which has been praised by visitors from far and near.

This new gin turns out a bale in less than 10 minutes. The new machinery is the most advanced type of gin produced by the Lummus Cotton Gin Company of Columbus Georgia and it contains many exclusive features never (Continued on Page Two)

TO SEE BARUCH - Top item on his schedule today was a visit with Bernard M. Baruch. (Continued On Page Three)

Market Enjoys Biggest Day - The Dunn Tobacco Markets enjoyed its biggest day since the season opened today, and at press time the figures for the day's sales had still not been tallied at either warehouse. Estimates at both warehouses in (Continued On Page Two)

MARKETS

NEW YORK, (P)—Cotton futures prices at 1 p. m. EST today: New York Oct. 38.92; Dec. 38.86; New Orleans, Oct. 38.92; Dec. 38.80. (Continued on Page Two)

COMING SOUTH - Eisenhower starts his campaign tour next week with a two-day plane swing through the South Tuesday and Wednesday, a foreign policy speech at Philadelphia Thursday and a farm speech at the national plowing contest at (Continued On Page Two)

TOBACCO SELLING HIGH HERE - Tobacco was selling high again today on the Dunn Tobacco Market. Miss Shirley Strickland of Dunn, Route 1, one of the cashiers at Dick Owen's Farmers and Grocers Warehouse is pictured here as she handed a check for $365.50 to W. H. Lambert of Dunn, Route 1. Mr. Lambert sold two piles weighing 466 pounds. One pile brought an average of 78 cents and the other 89 cents. Mr. Lambert said he's well pleased with his sales here. (Daily Record Photo by T. M. Stewart).