Dunn's Pantry
To Close Soon

Another Dunn landmark will soon disappear from Dunn's business district.

The "M" System Store, which has been "Dunn's Pantry" for the past 20 years, today is announcing a going-out-of-business sale.

Owner James Snipes announced that the sale will begin Wednesday morning and continue until the stock is liquidated.

All the merchandise, he pointed out, is being sold at cost.

For two decades, "M" System has been Dunn's largest independent grocery establishment. It is a family landmark on Broad street.

FOUNDED 20 YEARS AGO

It was founded here 20 years ago by the late Z. V. Snipes and his two sons, James and John. The father died in 1947 and John left.

Ike Given Rousing
Southern Welcome

ATLANTA — Dwight D. Eisenhower, who said he likes to hear rebel yells, heard a few of them today as he opened a two-day flying tour of the South, the first invasion of Dixie ever undertaken by a Republican presidential candidate.

The smiling GOP nominee stepped from his four-motored Constellation at the Atlanta airport to be greeted by a rainsoaked crowd of 500 persons including Gov. Herman Talmadge, Mayor W. B. Hartsfield,

Grand Jury Indicts Two
On Manslaughter Charges

A criminal session of Harnett Superior Court got off to a fast start this morning.

Before noon, the grand jury indicted two defendants for manslaughter, brought in true bills against several others and Judge Susie Sharp gave three Negro boys suspended road sentences.

District Solicitor Jack Hooks is prosecuting the crowded docket of over 70 cases, which includes five murder cases and the embezzlement case against C. G. Fields, former Angier banker and former vice chairman of the Harnett County Board of Commissioners.

Indicted for manslaughter this morning were John Lewis McNeill and Manuel Batencaurt. Both cases involve highway deaths.

Ernest Hamlet was indicted for larceny of an automobile.

SUSPENDED TERMS

Three Negroes received suspended sentences for stealing supplies from the Gentry School at Erwin. They were: Thomas Pipkin, given six months suspended for five years; Paul McLean Jr., given four months, suspended for five years; and Charles Winston McNeill, given three months, suspended for five years. Each was taxed with one-third the court costs.

The case of William Leggins, charged with driving after revocation of driving license, was sent back to the Dunn Recorder's Court.

Two divorces were granted. Lila Mae Ryals was given a divorce from Lindbergh Ryals and Fred A. Byrd was given a divorce from Nell S. Byrd.

Following is a list of cases for the rest of the week:

Labor Day Deaths

Lower Than 1951

By UNITED PRESS

Highway deaths during the Labor Day weekend were less than the record number set a year ago, reports from across the nation showed today.

But the accidental death toll for the holiday beginning at 6 p. m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday showed 568 accidental deaths from all causes.

New Blast At Ike

ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, (U)—President Truman charged today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, "who knows better," is being used as a spokesman for "selfish politicians in a Republican effort to get votes with irresponsible foreign policy statements that increase the risk of war."

In a speech from the rear platform of his train at Parkersburg, W. Va., Mr. Truman said that Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, had "helped vigorously" to carry out the administration's foreign policy.

But Eisenhower, Mr. Truman said, now is being shown "how to be a hypocrite in a few easy lessons" by "some masterminds at hand in the Republican councils."

Mr. Truman said one of these masterminds had helped in formulating the administration's foreign policy. He appeared to be referring to John Foster Dulles.

The President's speech at Parkersburg came as he resumed his first stumping tour of the campaign after a major Labor Day address in Milwaukee where he blasted Eisenhower as a "captive candidate" charged that the Republicans want to "turn back the clock" and slapped at the recent Supreme Court invalidation of the steel plant seizure as a "modern Dred Scott opinion."

In his address today, Mr. Truman struck out at what he called "loose talk" by the mastermind Republicans about liberating the enslaved peoples of Eastern Europe.

He said the fate of the peoples in the Soviet borderlands beyond the Iron Curtain is "one of the greatest and most terrible tragedies of human times."

He said that "we shall never (Continued On Page Six)

State's Democrats
Open Headquarters

RALEIGH, (U)—The state Democratic Party opened state campaign headquarters here today with a prediction that the November race is "potentially" the closest to be fought in years.

A number of expected notables were absent, but National Committeeman Robert L. Doughton wrote state Republican Chairman Elbert Tuttle and other GOP leaders. Showers fell at the airport and over most of Atlanta during the morning, but stopped a few minutes before Ike's plane landed at 11:48 a. m., 13 minutes behind schedule.

Although the rains over the long weekend halted the hauling in of tobacco to the Dunn Tobacco Market, the market will go over that first million pounds today without any difficulty.

The big sale Friday pushed the total poundage to 936,878 pounds, and the sales today will nearly equal in volume the sales on Friday. On Friday the market sold a total of 259,412 pounds for $125,402.36 at a market average of $38.34.

It was the biggest selling day of the present season and for the first time this year sales were blocked.

Stevenson Is Pleased
With Opening Swing

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (U)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson, pleased with the results of his strenuous five-speech swing through the pivotal labor strong hold of Michigan, began preparations today for a 10-day Western campaign tour.

He said the crowds that greeted him in Michigan's industrial centers were better than he expected, and he was cheered by the applause that greeted his demand that the Taft-Hartley Act be scrapped and replaced with new labor legislation.

During the week the Illinois governor was expected to talk with several prominent farm leaders regarding his appearances at Denver and at the national plowing contest at Kasson, Minn.

Stevenson laid down his program for a new labor law in his principal Labor Day address, before an estimated 40,000 persons in Detroit.

He said the Taft-Hartley Act is a "tangled snarl of legal barbed wire" that must be replaced with a new law including emergency peacetime seizure powers for the president.

"I don't say everything in the Taft-Hartley Act is wrong," Stevenson said. "I don't think it is a 'slave labor' law. But I do say that it was biased and politically inspired, and has not improved labor relations in a single plant."

"We must have a new law, and my conclusion is that we can best (Continued On Page Six)

WASHINGTON, (U)—Beef production is on the way up, assuring housewives more and better cuts at possibly lower prices during the coming months. The Agriculture Department reported today that U. New Hurricane,
Worse Than
First, On Way

MIAMI, (U)—The weather bureau warned ships today to exercise caution for a "severe" hurricane whipping the Atlantic 1,075 miles east-southeast of Miami with winds up to 135 miles an hour.

This hurricane, the second of the season which formed as the first pestered out in the New England states, is only two days old and promises to be a "humdinger" the weather bureau said.

"Highest winds in the northern quadrant are about 115 miles per hour with gusts in squalls up to 135 miles per hour," the weather bureau said in a 10 a. m. advisory. "Further intensification is expected."

The storm was 370 miles north-northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and moving in a northwesterly direction at 12 miles per hour. The advisory said there is a tendency for the hurricane to turn more toward the west-northwest—a more dangerous course to mainland residents.

SHIPS WARNED

"This is a severe hurricane and all ships in its course should exercise caution," the forecaster warned.

Gales spread over 225 miles of shipping lanes in the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico. Hurricane-force winds reached 75 miles north of the storm's center.

Jaycees Hear
John Thomas

Dunn Jaycees, at a dinner meeting held last night at Johnson's Restaurant, were given several suggestions on how they could improve the organization and its service to the community.

The suggestions were made in an outstanding address delivered by John G. Thomas, editor of The Dunn Dispatch, former manager of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce and organizer of the Wilson Junior Chamber of Commerce.

President Bill Biggs presided over the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Ted Wells, who had charge of the program.

Mr. Thomas, recalling formation of the Wilson unit, pointed out that there were only 800 or 900 Jaycees in North Carolina at that time, but cited the fact that there are now approximately 3,000 members in the State.

Capt. Finch Named
As Commander Of Dunn's Guard Unit

Captain Keith Finch has just assumed command of the local unit of the National Guard here. He received his appointment to succeed Captain George Franklin Blalock after thorough consideration and high recognition of his services by Army authorities.

Captain Blalock was commanded the unit from the time of its reactivation on November 10, 1947. During his tenure as commander, the unit has received many high honors, culminating in the Third Army Training Trophy for 1951, presented by General John R. Hodge, Commanding General of the Army Field Forces.

The local unit has had five field training periods under Captain Blalock, in two of these receiving an overall rating of superior.

The new commander has been a member of the unit as a First Lieutenant from October 31, 1949, and until January 12, 1951 was Executive Officer of the unit.

He entered the service on October 1, 1941, as a student in the Eastern Training Command at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama. He reverted to the reserve as a fighter pilot in the 14th Air Force, on the 26th of April, 1946, and held the rank of Captain until (Continued On Page 3)

CAPTAIN FINCH

Umstead Will Back
Tourist Promotion

LINCOLN, (U)—William E. Umstead, Democratic nominee for governor, promised "wholehearted cooperation" today in the effort to build an even greater tourist industry in the state.

The former senator told nearly 500 persons attending the official dedication of a new road and suspension bridge on Grandfather Mountain that the tourist trade is the state's second-largest "cash-crop."

"We should make every effort to encourage and increase the number of tourists to every section of our state, where our recreational and scenic attractions are unsurpassed," he said.

Umstead paid tribute to Hugh Morton of Wilmington for "his energy and vision in developing and promoting Grandfather Mountain," and urged other Tar Heels to follow the example.

CITES ASSETS

The state can list as definite assets, he said, the most extensive outdoor drama circuit in America, the largest state-administered highway system in the nation which makes vacation areas accessible, and the fact that there are four distinct seasons.

He urged a more aggressive campaign to advertise the state's attractions, but cautioned that reasonable food and lodging prices and "friendly treatment" are essential to keep the industry booming.

There is evidence, he said, that the tourist traffic since World War II has increased faster than traffic as a whole in the state. The industry's gross yield in 1951 was estimated at $239,000,000, Umstead said.

School At Coats
Opens Tomorrow

R. L. Smith, principal of the Coats school, has announced that everything is in readiness for the opening of school there tomorrow. A full faculty will be on hand to greet the children at 8:30.

The formal school opening will take place Thursday morning at ten o'clock. All parents and school patrons are invited to attend the formal opening.

New classrooms have been completed, and all preparations have been made for the school year.

Says Democrats
Count Southern Votes In Advance

ATLANTA, (U)—Dwight D. Eisenhower carried his search for votes into the Deep South today—the first time a Republican presidential candidate has done so—coupling a reminder of Southern pride with a denunciation of the Democratic administration.

He asked the South to help clean out a "top-to-bottom mess" created by men "too small for their jobs too big for their breeches and too long in power."

WANTS "WHOLE SOME CLEAN-OUT"

The only cure, he said, is "a wholesome clean-out of the political bosses in Washington."

Eisenhower flew here for his speech in downtown Hurt Park, and was to make other addresses today in Jacksonville and Miami. Tomorrow he goes to Tampa, Birmingham, and Little Rock in Arkansas.

RECALLS SOUTHERN SERVICE

The retired five-star general recalled his Southern service at Fort Benning, Ga., and Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and said he numbers "by the hundreds my friends in the South."

However, it seems that some of the opposition spokesmen look upon this meeting as a revolution.

Eisenhower said: "For then this is a revolution. Through generations they have been counting the votes of the South ahead of time along with the cemetery tombstones and the vacant lots that they carry in the election rolls in some of the cities they run up North."

"For me and for you, however, it is the most natural thing in the world that an American, nominated for high political office, should want to talk over the problems of America with his fellow citizens—no matter where they may live."

HITS INCOMPETENCE, STUPIDITY

Lashing out at the opposition for the first time in the campaign, he opened his two-day Southern tour using such terms as "incompetence, stupidity and corruption" and "peddlers of privileges and destroyers of decency" who are "careless with the truth and the taxpayers' money."

He set the theme of the Southern swine with a speech in Atlanta attacking the "mess in Washington" as a product of the Democratic administration.

TOP-TO-BOTTOM MESS

"This Washington mess is not a one-agency mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess," he said. "It is a top-to-bottom mess."

"It was brewed by scheming politicians whose idea of public service is service to their own purses or their own power. . . . The mess is the inevitable and sure-fire result of an administration by too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches and too long in power."

He said the "mess" had come too far to be cured by any half-measures or the "refreshment" promised by Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson.

ASKS SOUTH TO BREAK

The Republican candidate invited the South to break away from its traditional ties with the Democratic party and join him in the Nov. 4 election in a crusade to "restore decency and honesty and integrity to the nation's capital."

He recalled the North-South split at the recent Democratic national convention when "they tried to 'hogtie' the South with a loyalty oath—not to your state or to the nation, but to a political nominee (Continued On Page Three)

Neuse Plant Votes
To Return To CIO

The TWUA-CIO has won its second round to keep employees of Erwin Mills in the CIO ranks.

Wayne Dernoncourt of Greensboro, assistant state director, announced this morning that workers at Neuse have voted unanimously to rescind their previous action and return to the CIO.

In May, the Neuse union took action to leave the CIO and join the UTW-AFL.

UNIONS NOT REPRESENTED

According to Mr. Dernoncourt, neither CIO nor AFL representatives were allowed to be present when the Neuse employees voted. The members made their decision independent of union representatives.

The CIO official pointed out that the Neuse union is the second out of five mills in the Erwin chain to reject secession and stay with TWUA-CIO.

In May, the Erwin union at Stonefall, Miss., voted to remain with the CIO textile union.

The UTW-AFL now has petitions for elections at the Erwin mills in Erwin, Durham, Coolemans and Neuse.

Mr. Dernoncourt said this morning his union is offering to hold a consent NLRB election in Erwin, largest unit in the Erwin chain, with similar elections to be held later in the week at Durham and Coolemans.
