Dunn Judge Again Refuses To Allow Jury Trials Here

City Judge H. Paul Strickland today refused to allow jury trials for defendants in three cases in the Dunn Recorder's Court and sent the cases to Superior Court for trial.

He took the action in the face of two previous reversals by Superior Court judges. Only last week, Judge Susie Sharpe ruled that the Dunn Court had jurisdiction and remanded a case back for trial. Similar action was taken in another case at the March term of court. Jury trials were held here until recently when Judge Strickland suddenly decided not to allow any more jury trials here. He reportedly was dissatisfied because jurors were acquitting so many defendants.

Doctors Remove 39 Stones From Woman

Although several examinations, including one at the clinic of the Duke Hospital in Durham, failed to reveal their presence, an operation at the Johnston County Memorial Hospital in Smithfield, by Dr. Potat, produced 39 gallstones, a record number. The patient, Mrs. Anne Stephens, had been ill for some time and had visited several physicians in an effort to have her condition diagnosed without success. Although most of them agreed that the source of her trouble was in the gall bladder, X-rays failed to show anything unusual. Her condition became progressively worse, and in a last effort to determine the cause, Dr. Potat performed the operation. Misses Meeting, So The Meeting Chases Him Down

President Norwood Stephenson of the Dunn Lions Club is determined that the club is going to have some perfect attendance meetings. "And he isn't just fooling." In fact, one is in sight. Five members, Paul Hester, Woodrow Turlington, Billy Pearsall, Mince McLamb and H. W. Prince, missed the last meeting. All have made up by attending other club meetings except Pearsall. Rules provide that a member can make up a meeting by attending a committee meeting. Pearsall is a member of the Civic Improvement and Community Betterment Committee, so members of that committee this morning were preparing for a meeting with Pearsall. "And we'll get him to that meeting if we have to do it at 3 a. m.," avowed President Stephenson, who has put new life into the local civic organization. For several good reasons, Mr. Pearsall hadn't been able to get to the meeting or make up his attendance previously. But, you can put it down, by the time you read this, the Dunn Lions Club will have had a perfect attendance meeting — all 54 members present and accounted for.
