Ike May Decide On Nixon Today

GOP Nominees In Conference Via Telephone

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL, (P) — Dwight D. Eisenhower was expected to give his decision today on whether he will drop Sen. Richard M. Nixon from the Republican ticket.

The Republican presidential nominee talked to his running mate by long distance telephone for about 20 minutes early today, but withheld comment as to whether he kicked Nixon off the ticket and out of the campaign.

James C. Hagerty, the general's press secretary, said the call was initiated by Eisenhower and the two talked 15 or 20 minutes. He refused any further details.

Evidently, Eisenhower talked to Nixon about the California senator's controversial $18,235 political expense fund and whatever he said must have had a profound effect on Nixon.

The young senator announced to newsmen in Portland a little after the phone call that he was interrupting his Western campaign tour and flying to Los Angeles to make a nationwide television appearance to explain the fund.

Called from CAR, Eisenhower made the call from his car aboard his special campaign train in the St. Louis Station where he spent the weekend. He reached Nixon at the Benson Hotel in Portland, Ore., where the senator had been contacted previously by a go-between.

There was no explanation of the after-midnight call. Hagerty had told reporters, at mid-afternoon, there was no plan for a conversation between the two during the weekend.

Observers aboard the Eisenhower train got the impression the general wanted more details than published accounts of how Nixon's fund was raised and how it was spent. Eisenhower has let it be known he will insist that Nixon come out (Continued on page two)

State Catholic Leader Heard Here On Sunday

All parents should realize that they are God's appointed representatives assigned to care not only for the physical and intellectual health of their children but also for their spiritual and moral health as well" declared Mrs. Mary J. Bird of Wilson in a Holy Communion Breakfast Address here Sunday.

The Breakfast was held in the Sacred Heart Rectory and was sponsored by the local unit of the North Carolina Catholic Laymen's Association. Mrs. Bird is the State President of the Catholic Laymen in North Carolina.

CITES COMMANDMENT Urging the necessity of religious training, the Catholic leader stated that "by the Fourth Commandment God not only imposes an obligation upon children to love, honor and obey their parents, but there is also the obligation upon parents to give learning to their children."

The Catholic leader declared that the "development of the personality begins not with the first grade of school, but rather it begins with birth, being a blend of the individual and his environment. It is the duty of parents therefore to begin with the child from infancy in order to have a foundation for religious training."

STATES ROLE OF LAYMEN In her spirited address Mrs. Bird told of how to explain religious principles to the young. "It is the role of parents," she noted, "not only to impart knowledge but also to develop ideas, to instill ideals, to foster spiritual growth and to train in the practice of Christian virtues. The Wilson Catholic leader continued that "people can explain simple prayers in a simple manner, lead them in sacred music, recount Biblical stories that will not only interest them but will develop an understanding love for God."

FIRST OF A SERIES The Communion Breakfast sponsored by the local Catholic Laymen was the first in a series which will endeavor to bring prominent speakers to the Town of Dunn. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mary Virginia Patrick, local President of the Catholic Laymen's Association. She welcomed the group by reminding them of "the laymen's role in the work of the church and how necessary it was for more laymen of the Church to develop a sense of responsibility (Continued on Page Two)

City Problems Are Discussed

BY LOUIS DEARBORN Record Staff Writer Advice on problems ranging from the repair of out-worn sidewalks to collection of delinquent taxes was given to the members of the Dunn City Council Friday night by George Franklin, General Counsel of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

City Attorney I. R. Williams asked about the sidewalks. Noting that many walks in town were in need of repair, he asked what measures had been taken in other communities on this problem.

Mr. Franklin said that the usual procedure called for some property owner participation. In most cases, he said, provision was made to do the work after notifying the property owner, and leaving the owner for the cost.

ASPHALT SIDEWALKS Sidewalks laid twenty or more years ago are now beginning to give up, he pointed out, and many communities are now faced with this problem. He told of a test sidewalk recently laid in Leakville, that was much cheaper than concrete. These asphalt walks, he said, would also take tree roots, the cause of many concrete walks breaking down, much better than the concrete.

The increase in filling stations, had presented another problem, Franklin said and the league was now working toward a standard for commercial driveways.

Where the curb is removed at an intersection, he pointed out, motorists try to jump the light by cutting the corner. "This can be extremely dangerous," he said, "and this condition should be eliminated by an island at the corner. These stations," he added, (Continued on Page 3)

Dunn Man Held In Theft Gang Roundup

QUINCY, Fla., (P)—An ex-convict and a carnival crew of three youths and two girls, were held today as a suspected theft gang that had operated from Maryland to Florida.

Police staged the roundup of former carnival personnel and one 14-year-old girl, arresting and questioning John L. Arnold, 27-year-old parolee from the federal prison at Atlanta.

Those taken into custody included two girls, a 15-year-old boy, and two men listed as William Spencer Rhew, 25, of Burlington, N. C.; and Jerry Morris Buckner, 22, of Roanoke, Va.

The juveniles under arrest were identified as Marjorie Ann Entinger, the 14-year-old girl, of Covington, Va.; Irene Mary Williamson, 17, of Bridgeville, Del.; and Clayton Purvis Moore, 16, of Dunn, N. C. (Continued On Page two)

Nixon To Give Report On TV

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon today interrupted his campaign tour and said he would fly to Los Angeles to give the nation a television report on his $18,000 political fund.

The National Broadcasting Co. said the Nixon speech will be carried on its full television network from 8:30 to 9 p. m. EST Tuesday night.

The GOP vice-presidential nominee received a long distance telephone call from his running mate, Dwight D. Eisenhower last night and talked with him for about 20 minutes.

Early today he told newsmen that he was suspending his whistle-stop tour of the Northwest to make the television speech and give "a complete statement of my entire financial history."

PALE AT CONFERENCE The young California senator appeared wan and pale at the after-midnight news conference and later underwent a massage by a physician.

When asked if Eisenhower had asked him to resign from the Republican ticket Nixon paused, then said, "I will resume my tour." Some observers felt this meant that Nixon would make the television speech in an attempt to justify his acceptance of the fund from wealthy constituents and then resume his campaign-still a candidate.

Adlai Wants Labor To Have More Power

NEW YORK, (P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson called the Taft-Hartley law today a "tire with 23 punctures and five blowouts." He said it needs "junking and not a recap job with reclaimed Republican rubber."

The Democratic presidential nominee also submitted a five-point plan for strengthening the Department of Labor-including a labor training program similar to the agricultural extension service "to help train the men who make democracy work in the labor unions and around the bargaining table."

TO GET ENDORSEMENT The proposals were made in a speech before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. The AFL is expected to endorse Stevenson tomorrow the first endorsement of a presidential candidate by the convention in its 71-year history.

Stevens lashed out at his Republican opponent's speech before the same convention last week. (Continued On Page Six)

Police To Get Hearing Tonight

Two Dunn police officers, Corporal Francis Hall and Policeman Garland Stone, will be given a preliminary hearing tonight at 7 o'clock in the city courtroom for an alleged brutal assault on W. R. (Turk) Lewis, 38-year-old Dunn war veteran.

The hearing will be held before Magistrate A. B. Adams. It was disclosed this morning that eight witnesses have been summoned to testify against the officers.

They are; J. Leon Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Lee, Joe A. Jackson, Mrs. Bertha Grace Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lewis and Odell Faircloth.

Most of these witnesses are neighbors who reportedly witnessed the scene on Sunday night several weeks ago when Lewis claims the two policemen beat him unmercifully with a blackjack, and then slammed a door on his foot and leg, breaking several bones.

OTHERS MAY TESTIFY It is known that these are not all the witnesses against the officers. Defense Attorney Duncan C. Wilson indicated this morning that one or two "surprise" witnesses may be offered against the policemen and that others will not be offered until the case goes to Superior Court.

Two other attorneys, State Senator J. Robert Young and his partner, Archie Taylor, will assist with the prosecution. Defense Attorney Everette L. Dofferymyre is not expected to put on any witness tonight. It is unusual when defense witnesses are offered at a preliminary hearing.

Mayor Ripsh Hanna said today that he will be present for the (Continued on page two)

Murchison Free On New Charge

James Murchison, 23-year-old Lillington man, today was cleared of all charges in connection with the robbery of Luther Hart's filling station, near Fayetteville.

The State took a nol proes at a hearing held this morning in Fayetteville after three Fort Bragg soldiers confessed they were the ones who committed the robbery.

Murchison, who already was facing bank robbery charges in Federal Court, was arrested on Friday night, September 12 by SBI agents on charges of armed robbery of the service station.

At that time, SBI Director James Powell said Hart had definitely identified Murchison as one of three men who robbed his place. Defense Attorney Archie Taylor, who defended Murchison along with State Senator J. Robert Young of Dunn, said this morning that he was confident all the time that the State had no case against (Continued On Page two)

Hearing Held On Bank At Bunnlevel

Bunnlevel citizens at a public hearing conducted Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the Bunnlevel Presbyterian Church, informed W. W. Jones, State Banking Commission, they want the Bank of Lillington to open a branch in their rich farming community now without any banking facilities.

The Bank of Lillington has already petitioned the State Banking Commission for permission to open a teller's window at Bunnlevel, eight miles south of the Harnett County seat.

Jones was greeted by an audience of 50 persons representing practically every business interest in the community. No opposition of any kind was voiced to the bank, while 15 spokesmen highlighted reasons they contend the community needs and can support a bank.

Rev. Albert Harrell Buried Here Sunday

Burial rites were held here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Greenwood Cemetery for the Rev. Albert B. Harrell, 77, of Claremont, Va., retired Baptist minister and member of a prominent North Carolina family.

Mr. Harrell died suddenly Friday afternoon about 6 o'clock at his home in Claremont. He suffered a heart attack and died almost instantly.

The prominent Baptist minister was well known in Dunn and as long as health permitted was a frequent visitor here. He married the former Miss Dora Pope, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope, pioneer residents of the town.

Funeral services were held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the Waverly Baptist Church at Waverly, Va. Officiating at the burial rites were the Rev. Ernest P. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Joyce V. Early, pastor of Divine Street Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Harrell was a native of Durham but came to Dunn with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Harrell, while still a boy. His parents wrote the famed North Carolina song, "Ho, For Carolina."

His father was both a Baptist minister and a medical doctor. ATTENDED DUNN SCHOOLS Mr. Harrell attended the Dunn schools and the University of North Carolina. He practiced law (Continued on Page 3)

Bible Observance Program Is Slated

A community-wide service on Tuesday evening, September 30, is planned in Dunn to honor the publication of the new Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible. On the same evening similar interchurch meetings will be held in at least 3,000 other communities throughout the United States and Canada.

Dr. Geo. F. Cuthrell, general chairman of the local committee planning for the Revised Standard Version Bible Observance for the week of September 28 to October 5, announced today that the meeting for this community will be held in the Divine Street Methodist Church, at 7:30 P. M., Tuesday night September 30.

The program will include a reading of a portion of the new Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible, and address by an outstanding speaker and the presentation of five copies of the new Bible to representative persons.

MARKS NEW EPOCH The completion of the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible marks an epoch in the religious life of the English-speaking people comparable to that marked by the issuance of the King James Version 1611," stated Dr. Cuthrell.

"Recognizing the need for a new version, the former International Council of Religious Education, representing 40 major denominations in the U. S. and Canada, authorized a revision and appointed a committee of 32 eminent Bible scholars to study all the past versions as well as the available manuscripts in order to prepare a revision of the King James and the American Standard Versions that (Continued on page seven)
